MARRIOTT TALE OF VOTE DEVICE DEAL BRANDED AS FALSE

J. Keeley Makes Denial; So Does Moon Statement; F. W. Walker Repudiates It.

LIGHT ON OTTUMWA MEN

Reporter Gotthart Tells of Visit to Iowa and of Comments of Hearst Man's Affidavit.

WHY THEY WON'T COME TO CHICAGO

James Keeley, general manager of THE TRIBUNE, on the witness stand before the Butts legislative committee investigating the million dollar voting machine deal, yesterday testified that any intimation of his connection in any particular with any person interested in the Empire contract is pure fabrication.

Mr. Keeley testified he never had seen H. W. Barr, sales agent for the Empire Voting Machine company, to know him; that he never had any conversation with him, or with any other representative of the Empire company respecting the Chicago contract, and that there is no basis in truth for any statement involving his name in the matter.

Other Witnesses Corroborated.

Mr. Keeley's testimony was corroborated by E. S. Beck, managing editor of THE TRIBUNE, who testified to a visit by Barr to THE TRIBUNE office on the afternoon before last November's election, when Barr asked that the paper make particular mention of the promptness of voting machine returns in the next day's election.

Oscar E. Hewitt of THE TRIBUNE staff also corroborated Mr. Keeley, testifying to a visit by Barr to THE TRIBUNE office after the election commissioners had determined on the voting machine purchase, when, as Mr. Hewitt testified, Barr expressed a desire to meet Mr. Keeley.

Deny Marriott's Affidavit.

Charles J. Gotthart of THE TRIBUNE staff furnished further corroboration in testifying to facts established by him last week in Ottumwa, which were to the effect that the Ottumwa "brokers" who had introduced Sales Agent Barr to the Hearst politicians in Chicago prior to the voting machine contract denied without reserve the essential points in the affidavit of Edward E. Marriott, Hearst Examiner reporter, connecting the name of Mr. Keeley or of THE TRIBUNE with the matter.

The signed statement of Edwin G. Moon of Ottumwa, attorney for the Empire Voting Machine company, was introduced by Gotthart, and a similar statement was offered by Chairman Butts from former Senator Moon affirming that Marriott's affidavit was baseless, so far as he was concerned.

Reporter Marriott on Stand.

Marriott himself took the witness stand a few moments later, stuck by all that he had sworn to in his affidavit, said that Attorney Moon's statement and letter are false, and that the Ottumwa "brokers" had told to him all that his affidavit asserted, Moon or the testimony of Gotthart to the contrary notwithstanding.

Marriott had been repudiated before he started by Attorney Francis W. Walker, representing Andrew M. Lawrence. Mr. Walker made the statement after Mr. Keeley had testified that he believed Mr. Keeley's testimony. Mr. Walker declined to stand for Marriott as his witness, as did Attorney McEwen for County Judge Owens, and Attorney Mitchell for the majority of the board of election commissioners. Marriott will resume the witness stand today.

George E. Brennan, whose name was included in the Marriott affidavit as having been busy in Ottumwa in pushing the case against the voting machines, appeared voluntarily and testified that he never had set foot in Iowa in his life and had had no part whatever in the matter.

Testimony of James Keeley.

The testimony of James Keeley was as follows:

Q.—What is your name? A.—James Keeley.

Q.—What is your business or occupation? A.—General manager of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Q.—You have been manager for a considerable time, haven't you, Mr. Keeley? A.—Oh, several years, yes.

Q.—You were manager in 1911? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And since? A.—Yes.

Q.—Have you had a copy of the affidavit filed here by Edward E. Marriott on Friday last? A.—I have.

Q.—I call your attention to a statement contained therein alleged to have been made by Mr. Gray, chief of police at Ottumwa, Ia. The last paragraph on the first page, "Barr told us that he had paid big money to get the contract, but that the mistake he made was not to give $50,000 to Jim Keeley, the publisher of THE TRIBUNE. Barr said that Keeley demanded $50,000, but he refused to pay him, that if he had got that there would not have been any of this trouble with the voting machine contract; that THE TRIBUNE and the other papers were always for the voting machine and they would not have thought of fighting a contract, and would not have started the trouble if we had not refused Mr. Keeley's demand for $50,000." Do you know Harry Barr? A.—Until yesterday afternoon I was under the impression I had never met him; I met him once.

Saw Barr; Didn't Know Him.

Q.—Do you remember when, Mr. Keeley? A.—Either last November or last spring; I did not know who it was at the time, and I did not know his identity until yesterday afternoon.

Q.—Yesterday afternoon? A.—Now, to the best of my knowledge and belief that is the

CANADA WILL SEND HARRY THAW BACK TO NEW HAMPSHIRE

Slayer Will Be Deported at Point He Crossed Line and Not to New York State.

TRAPPED IN SMALL VILLAGE

Admits Identity to Deputy Sheriff on Train and Is Arrested by Constable.

BOTH SIDES PLAN LEGAL FIGHT

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Harry K. Thaw will be deported from Canada, under the present plans of the Canadian immigration department, because, within the meaning of the Canadian immigration act, he is regarded as a "prohibited person."

... custom is followed he will be sent back to New Hampshire, from which state he entered the dominion.

It was late this afternoon when the department was officially notified of Thaw's apprehension, and immediately Inspectors D. H. Reynolds and F. E. Willans were dispatched to Sherbrooke with instructions to watch the case and institute proceedings to deport him. The department this afternoon wired the chief of police at Sherbrooke to hold Thaw under the immigration act.

Act Seems to Be Plain.

The act seems plain in regard to Thaw's case. There are certain classes who, under section 40, are not eligible to enter Canada, or who, if they succeed in doing so, are not permitted to remain here. The law states that idiots, imbeciles, insane people, or criminals shall not enter the country, and if they succeed in eluding immigration officers they shall be deported forthwith.

There is an exception, however, and it is interesting to note that the negro pugilist, Jack Johnson, recently managed to pass through Canada under the clause which provides that one of the prohibited class who enters Canada, carrying with him through transportation to another country, may not have his progress impeded.

Information received here does not say whether Thaw had taken the precaution of securing such transportation, though following so closely on the Johnson affair it is difficult to see how his legal advisers could have overlooked this contingency.

Doubt on Extradition.

At the justice department doubt is expressed as to the power of the courts to grant extradition. In the treaty between Great Britain and the United States escape from an asylum is not mentioned as an extraditable offense. The department, however, expressed the opinion that the case comes under the immigration act.

Questions of the legality of Thaw's arrest do not conflict with any action under the immigration act. Deportation proceedings are simple. They merely consist in arresting the object of deportation and if there a sufficient evidence as to his identity and as to his disability to enter the country he is escorted across the border to a point seventy-five miles in the interior.

The custom is to remove him through the port and into the state from which he entered, after the officers of the United States government have been notified in advance. Objections to deportation proceedings have rarely succeeded.

THAW HELD AT SHERBROOKE.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 19.—Harry K. Thaw is being held here following his arrest in the village of Hermenegilde-Garford, near Coaticook, early this morning.

The keen wit and eye of a rural deputy sheriff enmeshed Thaw once more in the processes of the law, and while the crack detectives of eastern cities were seeking him the village constable here took him into custody.

Burleigh H. Kelsea, deputy sheriff of Coos county, N. H., boarded a Maine Central train at Lancaster last night and sat down in the smoker to read his paper. He was well on his way to Colebrook, his home, when he heard the conversation of men in the seat behind him. They were asking one another the name of the county seat of the county through which they were passing. None of them knew.

Approached by Thaw.

A well built man of erect figure whose dark hair was slightly sprinkled with gray, and into whose eyes there was stamped an unusual stare, arose and came to Kelsea's seat. The stranger wanted to know the name of the county seat.

Something in his manner, or it may have been the strange light in his eyes—Kelsea does not recall which—caused the deputy to study the face before him. He had seen it before somewhere, he thought. As he groped back into his recollection for the answer his eyes fell to the open newspaper in his lap.

Kelsea stared. On the page before him was the picture of the man who was speaking. It was labeled in flaring type with the name Harry K. Thaw.

Kelsea looked at his questioner silently.

"You don't know who I am?" asked the stranger quietly.

"I think I could give a good guess," Kelsea replied.

"Who am I?"

"You're Thaw—Harry K. Thaw."

Admits He Is Thaw.

The stranger's eyelids flickered for an instant as he smiled back his answer.

"I am Thaw," he said, in the same quiet, even tone. "But you don't want me. You could not do anything with me. I was ac-

'ENEMY' CAPTURES CHICAGO HARBOR

Tuscarora Leads "Hostile" Fleet by Night to Battle Defending Warships.

BOOM! GUNS BLAZE—BOOM!

Chicago lay last night at the mercy of an attacking fleet which, under cover of darkness, steamed into the harbor off Grant park, swept the decks of the defending gunboats, silenced their guns, and took possession of the harbor.

Capt. John G. Beddy, in command of the United States revenue cutter Tuscarora, represented the attacking party. The defense of the city was under the command of Commander C. M. Stone, U. S. N., assigned in charge of the Naval Reserves of the United States.

The city was defended by the following ships: The Essex, Yantic, Gopher, Wolverine, Niagara, the flagship Dubuque, and the private steam yacht Mary Alice, belonging to William J. Connors of Buffalo. More than a thousand shots were fired in the sham battle which was the week's feature of the Perry centennial and Chicago's second annual water carnival. The "fight" represented the greatest naval maneuver ever witnessed off Chicago.

Searchlight Discloses Attackers.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the wavering finger of light from the powerful electric searchlight on Commander Stone's flagship, the Dubuque, disclosed in the darkness of the outer harbor the stealthy approach of the Tuscarora. The attacking ship was steaming slowly in through the center gap in the breakwater. Not a ray of light was to be seen from the ports or upper structure.

The Dubuque opened fire with its four inch guns. At the same moment the Ardois signals on its masthead flashed red and white in rapid succession, bearing to the remainder of the fleet the message, "The enemy is approaching." Instantly long fingers of light reached out from each ship in the harbor and revealed the Tuscarora in a light as bright as day. Every gun port blazed forth viciously.

Guns Rake Defending Ships.

Capt. Berry entered the harbor and made a sudden turn to the north, passing down the east side of the line of gunboats. In the Tuscaroro's dash down the line its guns flashed and boomed continually as it passed the Gopher, the Yantic, the Dubuque, and the Essex. At the northern end of the harbor, the Tuscarora circled the Essex, raking it with fire on all sides. On the return dash, the attacking ship, supposedly followed by an imaginary fleet passed between the Essex and the Dubuque. Both ships responded to the fire of the Tuscarora, but eventually were silenced. From the masthead of the Dubuque Commander Stone continued to flash his orders to his fleet until the last.

The Tuscarora then turned its attention to the Yantic and the Gopher, which were silenced after a blistering fire of howitzers at close range. The Wolverine was engaged last and put up a doughty resistance until ordered from the flagship to give up the fight.

Then Capture, the Clubhouse.

After the fighting and the cheering were over, the commanders of the various ships directed their gigs toward the clubhouse of the Chicago Yacht club where, between tangos, the fight was discussed. No fatalities or casualties were reported. Commander Connors of the Mary Alice was commended by the naval experts for the efficient defense he gave for the transports in the harbor.

Thousands of persons witnessed the fight from the grandstands and from elevations in Grant park. Through the entire battle a large orange-red moon hung high over the lake.

WHOLE STATE TO USE SHOVEL; PULL MISSOURI OUT OF MUD.

Business Men and Farmers Will Begin Work with Two Governors Today.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 19.—Fifty thousand business men and farmers of western Missouri are prepared to take part in Missouri's two good roads days, the slogan for which is: "Pull Missouri out of the mud." The work begins at daylight tomorrow.

Hundreds of Missouri mothers and daughters and wives and sweethearts were busy, too, preparing lunches for the "boys." In many counties the women have organizations of their own. At many points a general holiday has been declared.

Tonight Gov. George H. Hodges of Kansas was busy in the state house at Topeka winding up his state business so he might journey to Jefferson City and assist Gov. Elliott W. Major of Missouri, who issued the proclamation for the road days. Both executives are prepared to don overalls and take an active part in rebuilding the roads near the Missouri capital.

It is estimated Kansas City will contribute 3,000 men to Jackson county's army of workers. Many firms have excused employés tomorrow that they may work the roads.

In each of the road districts special roads have been designated to be worked, captains have been appointed, and workers have been notified where to report.

Volunteers Build Roads.

Fort Smith, Ark., Aug. 19.—Despite a temperature hovering about the century mark and dust six inches deep in places, 500 men of Crawford county with 200 teams built the first five mile link of the forty-five mile macadamized pike that is to be established between the city and Winslow. The entire pike is to be the work of volunteers. The road built today was near Van Buren.

WOMAN POOR INSURANCE RISK; INTUITION WARNS OF DEATH.

Speakers at American Life Association Convention Assert Peculiar Gift Results in Unprofitable Policies.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—Woman as an insurance risk was debated at length tonight by delegates at the meeting of the medical section of the American Life Insurance association.

No definite conclusion was reached, although many of the speakers contended that women's intuition informs them of approaching death and they seek life insurance and therefore are undesirable risks. The convention proper will begin tomorrow.

Other arguments given by Dr. D. A. Talbot of Kansas City and other speakers were:

Until recently the women insured were those who sought insurance and not those solicited by agents.

Medical examination of women is more difficult and less rigid than of men.

Married women, insured by husbands who themselves have no insurance, are the worst kind of risks.

Dr. Talbot asserted that spinsters are better risks than married women.

URGED WIFE TO DIVORCE HIM?

Mrs. James T. Beckwith of New York Wins Alimony from Husband, Rich Advertising Man, by Plea.

New York, Aug. 19.—(Special.)—James T. Beckwith, head of an advertising concern here, whose wife says he has an income of $100,000 a year, is accused in affidavits filed in the Supreme court of trying to compel his wife to divorce him, and of posing as a wealthy bachelor and squandering his money on women. Mr. Beckwith denied his wife's charges, and said his income is not over $15,000, but Supreme Court Justice Giegerich today directed him to pay $75 a week alimony to Mrs. Beckwith and $300 counsel fee to her attorney.

ALEX. SULLIVAN ILL IN HOSPITAL

Lawyer Is Patient in St. Joseph's and Believed in Critical Condition.

PRIEST AT HIS BEDSIDE.

Friends of Alexander Sullivan, Chicago lawyer, were startled yesterday evening to learn that he had been taken suddenly ill and had been for several days a patient at St. Joseph's hospital, suffering, it was said, with a severely infected foot presenting danger of blood poisoning.

At the hospital, while it was admitted that Mr. Sullivan was a patient and that his condition was regarded as serious, no further information would be given either to the press or to his personal friends, several of whom called at the hospital during the evening.

Father Dorney Sent For.

One of them was told that Mr. Sullivan had been removed to the surgical ward about midnight, and that Father M. J. Dorney had been sent for.

Dr. Leonard St. John is said to have been summoned hastily from the country to attend the patient.

Mr. Sullivan, who is 72 years old, retains his law office in the Otis building. His friends say he has been in vigorous health recently. He has been a resident of Chicago for forty years, during which time he has been a reporter, a lawyer, and a politician.

Wife Died Some Years Ago.

Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, his wife, died several years ago. She was one of the leading literary women of the middle west and for years was an editorial writer on the Chicago Herald and Times-Herald.

ORIENTAL LIMITED WRECKED; TWO COACHES ARE BURNED?

Great Northern Train Goes Into the Ditch in North Dakota as a Result of the Recent Heavy Rains.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—The Oriental Limited, westbound, on the Great Northern railroad was wrecked near Crary, N. D., late tonight, according to reports received here.

The wreck is said to have been due to a washout caused by recent heavy rains. Telegraph and telephone wires were down.

An unconfirmed report from Fargo, N. D., said two of the coaches were thrown in the ditch and caught fire, cutting off the escape of passengers.

X-RAY DRESSES? THEN ARRESTS

Portland Mayor Gives Chief of Police Orders to Prevent Women Wearing Diaphanous Skirts.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 19.—Mayor Albee ordered Chief of Police Clarke today to arrest every woman found wearing the new X-ray dress on the streets. The mayor said the order must go into effect at once and be rigidly enforced. Ignorance of the law will be no excuse after tomorrow.

"DEAD MAN" SAYS HE'S ALIVE.

Mat Franzen of Hammond Resurrects Himself After Being Missing Two Years.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 19.—Mat Franzen, who was declared to be dead by the Superior court here two years ago, claims to be alive in Idaho. He filed a petition today claiming a portion of his estate in this county.

WILSON AND AIDS AWAIT FULL TEXT OF HUERTA REPLY

Mexican Note Filters Slowly Into Washington and Action Is Delayed.

ULTIMATUM GETS DENIAL

Cordial Tone of First Part of Mexican Answer Inspires Hopeful Feeling.

FIRM AGAINST MEDIATION PLANS

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The text of President Huerta's reply to the American proposals for mediation is being transmitted slowly to Washington in cipher messages.

The second installment of the reply reached President Wilson tonight. This is the reply in which Huerta turns down this government's suggestions.

John Lind cabled a summary of the reply yesterday, and this was considered at the conference at the White House yesterday afternoon.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have received during the last twenty-four hours:

A summary from Mr. Lind giving briefly the Huerta government's rejection of the American proposals.

About 1,000 words of the text of the Huerta reply, reported to be 7,000 words long.

A message from Mr. Lind stating that he had been in conference at an early hour today with provisional president Huerta; that the interview had been cordial and was brought about at the suggestion of Huerta himself.

A denial from Chargé O'Shaughnessy, authorized by Provisional President Huerta, declaring there was no truth in the report of an ultimatum demanding recognition from the United States.

Message Staves Off Debate.

This information, coming in disconnected cipher messages which administration officials themselves confessed some difficulty in understanding, was given to members of the senate committee on foreign relations, Republicans as well as Democrats, and had the effect of staving off debate on the Mexican question following sensational reports of a threatened severance of relations by the Huerta government.

Officials, though somewhat skeptical of the outcome of the present negotiations, took the view that nothing could be done by the United States at least until Mr. Lind actually concluded his parleys with Huerta and his cabinet, with whom the American envoy has established pleasant unofficial relations.

President Huerta's reply is written in a bombastic style that adopts all the flourishes of diplomatic interchanges and adds something to them. It is probable that two or three days more will elapse before the entire reply can be laid before the president.

Reply Not Final Break.

Huerta, in the installments that the president already has received, seldom approaches a flat refusal in any of his references to the provisions of the American communication. He continually assures Lind of the high esteem in which he is held as the representative of the United States and of the exalted spirit in which he believes the United States has entered the negotiations.

From a perusal of that part of the document already in Washington it can readily be seen that Huerta does not consider that his reply will absolutely terminate the negotiations, but to reject the American proposals, but in such fashion as to invite further interchanges on the basis of amended proposals.

John Lind has assured President Wilson of the lack of finality in the Huerta note and indicated that he still had hope for the success of his mission.

Denial of Ultimatum Accepted.

There was an undercurrent of skepticism among officials, however, who were inclined to credit Señor Urrutia, Mexican minister of interior, with the responsibility for the reports published today that recognition had been demanded of the United States, with a threat of severing relations between the two countries. At the White House and state department the denial authorized by Provisional President Huerta was accepted.

Reports of friction in the Huerta cabinet, however, were current, and Urrutia's alleged declarations were cited in official circles as possible evidence of friction. It was pointed out that Urrutia had issued the first statement declaring that Mr. Lind would not be received unless he brought credentials recognizing the Huerta government.

Position of Urrutia Repudiated.

This position later was repudiated not only by Frederico Gamboa, minister of foreign relations, but by Provisional President Huerta as well, both of whom received Mr. Lind and expressed themselves since in complimentary terms concerning his personality, though at the outset Mr. Lind informed them he did not bring recognition of the Huerta government.

It is believed here in some quarters that Provisional President Huerta has practically decided to resign in favor of Señor Gamboa, with the intention of being a candidate in the coming elections.

Feeling was tense throughout official Washington over the developments in the Mexican capital, but the denial sent by Charge O'Shaughnessy, stating that no ultimatum demanding recognition had been delivered, relieved the tension materially. Senators exhibited keen interest in the situation, and President Wilson gave inquirers what information he had.

It is not the desire of President Wilson that congress shall take any action, for a ... at least, in connection ... Mexico,

He so explained to Senators Lodge and Stone, who called on him at the White House this morning. These senators were satisfied from Gen. Huerta's prompt denial of the ultimatum reports that he did not himself propose to drive the United States into a position where it must use force.

Acuteness of the situation was recognized in the house today, when objections from both Democratic and Republican sides prevented consideration of any measures on foreign subjects.

Republican Leader Mann cautioned the house to "sit quiet and keep cool."

Representative Clark of Florida, Democrat, asked permission to address the house for thirty minutes next Friday on the Monroe doctrine.

Instantly Representative Foster of Illinois, Democrat, objected, protesting that "the present strained situation in Mexico is no time for the introduction of a subject like the Monroe doctrine." The objection was sustained.

Another Mediation Plan Proposed.

A proposal of mediation on the principle of the provision in The Hague treaty was made by Representative Towner of Iowa in a resolution he introduced in the house.

The resolution suggests that President Wilson invite President Fonseca of Brazil and President Pena of Argentina to join him in offering to the de facto governments and the revolutionists "their services for a friendly mediation having for its sole object and purpose a peaceful settlement and determination of the difficulties now existing."

If these foreign executives decline it is proposed that the presidents of other South American republics be invited to act. The Hague treaty provides that one or more governments which are strangers to a dispute between nations may offer mediation services even after hostilities are in progress and that no such offer shall be regarded as an unfriendly act.

Next Move Up to United States.

The Lind mission to Mexico City has resulted in failure.

The special representative of President Wilson submitted to Gen. Huerta the view of the American government that he should relinquish control of the provisional government and thus pave the way to a peaceful settlement of the Mexican situation. Gen. Huerta flatly, even contemptuously refused.

It is for the United States to make the next move. Frankly the administration does not know what to do. It is keeping the way of communication open in the way that a development may lead to steps promising ultimate peace.

The president is as strongly opposed to military intervention today as he was before he sent Mr. Lind to Mexico. He can suspend the operations of the neutrality law for the advantage of the revolutionists who would be thereby placed in a position to obtain arms and ammunition without hindrance. But to adopt this course would be to extend the theater of war and cause further shedding of blood.

Huerta Key to Situation.

Huerta remains the key to the situation. If he can be induced to make any kind of a concession which will enable the administration to save its face and which at the same time will be a step in the direction of peace the president and Secretary Bryan will seize upon it and use it as a lever in the hope of further advantage.

Gen. Huerta feels he has a double cause for grievance against the United States. The first lies in its refusal to recognize him and the second arises from what he believes to be its activity in preventing other governments from granting him recognition or in endeavoring to induce those which have recognized him to cancel their action.

Gen. Huerta has stated officially there is not a shred of foundation for the report that he had transmitted an ultimatum to this government demanding recognition by a certain hour and that he was prepared to hand the American charge d'affaires his passports. Probably the report grew out of the emphatic nature of his reply to the American note.

Huerta Angered by Interference.

It is said this reply not only announced the refusal of Huerta to resign the presidency, and declined to consider the suggestion of American mediation, but plainly stated that Huerta would not tolerate a discussion of Mexican affairs by the United States with foreign nations.

Huerta's sensibilities have been outraged, first by the statement made by the British foreign office that his government was recognized by Great Britain because of the speech made by the American ambassador, indicating recognition would be satisfactory to the United States, and, second, by the announcement made by the Japanese government that the Japanese emperor would not receive Gen. Felix Diaz, Huerta's representative to Japan.

Huerta attributes Japan's action to the influence of the United States. It is perfectly evident to the Mexican official that American opposition exercised in foreign circles is certain ultimately to bring about Huerta's downfall.

Funds Depend on Recognition.

Foreign recognition is necessary, first in order to raise funds for the prosecution of the war, and second for the moral effect such action would have upon the situation at home. While the United States before the world disapproves of Huerta's government, the task of Huerta will be the harder, and his chances of success will be constantly diminishing.

Realization of this fact undoubtedly was responsible for the angry statement of the Mexican minister of the interior which was responsible for the ultimatum story printed this morning.

Until today the mystery of the change of heart of Gen. Huerta with reference to the reception of Mr. Lind has been unsolved. It will be recalled that before Lind's arrival Huerta announced that President Wilson's representative would be persona non grata and would not be received by him. Nevertheless, he has seen Mr. Lind, received the note he brought from Washington, and made reply thereto.

Foreign Nations Back United States.

It is learned that Gen. Huerta was plainly told by the representatives of some of the governments which had granted him recognition that unless he did see Lind their governments would cancel the action they had taken. Under the circumstances there was nothing for Huerta to do but receive Lind courteously and reply to the American note in such fashion that there could be no doubt as to his attitude.

Up to date every move in the game in progress in Mexico City and Washington has resulted to the advantage of Huerta. He has appealed to the patriotism of Mexicans, whether they were for or against him. His action in braving the tremendous gringo power has added to his personal popularity. The Mexicans have a real contempt of the United States because of their belief that this country is afraid to intervene. So long as that belief maintains it will be an extremely difficult thing to induce them to consent to any measures looking to a peaceful settlement of the situation.

LIND AND HUERTA MEET.

Mexico City, Aug. 19.—In conference last night, ex-Gov. John Lind and President Huerta are believed to have reached an understanding which may yet prevent the severance of relations between the United States and Mexico, and serve to continue negotiations in which Washington may play the role of mediator.

Neither at the national palace nor at the American embassy were any details of the conference given out, but it is known that the meeting was cordial, and that Mr. Lind considered the so-called ultimatum announced through Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, minister of the interior, as unauthorized, although it is not claimed that President Huerta specifically denied having made the peremptory demand for recognition, as credited to him in Dr. Urrutia's statement.

The gravity of the situation is at least considerably relieved for the present.

REFUGEES COME FROM MEXICO.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 19.—Bearing thirty men, women, and children from Guaymas and Topolobampo, the navy supply ship Glacier arrived in port today, landed all but one of its passengers, and sailed for San Francisco.

Among the passengers was George L. Page, from Sinaloa, who says he is on his way to Washington to seek an interview with President Wilson. He said he was acting as the emissary of the rebel leaders in Sinaloa and Sonora, and that he earnestly desired to effect peace in Mexico, if possible.

"None of the Americans are leaving Mexico because they have to," Page insisted. "Hundreds still remain in Mexico to watch their property. They are not being molested by the rebels."

GEN. DIAZ VISITS MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—Gen. Felix Diaz of Mexico arrived in Montreal tonight on his way to Europe. He will spend tomorrow in Montreal, leaving in the evening for Quebec to board the Empress of Ireland, which will carry him to Liverpool.

Gen. Diaz is optimistic as to the future of his country, and inclined to the belief that the present impasse with the United States should not be taken too seriously. He did not think that the United States would insist upon its attitude of nonrecognition, but that President Wilson will eventually come to view the situation in a different light.

Gen. Diaz stated he woud be a candidate for the presidency of the Mexican republic at the election in October. His friends are already working in his behalf and he expects to return to his country several weeks before the elections.

OBITUARY.

NEWELL C. BAKER, for forty-eight years an employe of THE TRIBUNE press room, died last night at his residence, 4162 Clarendon avenue. Mr. Baker started in the employ of THE TRIBUNE when 16 years old. He was a member of the Ellsworth Zouaves. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Callie Baker, and three sons, Stengler, William, and Robert Baker. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

MRS. CARRIE M. BRYANT, 70 years old, widow of William K. Bryant, a pioneer coal merchant of Chicago, died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Osbornson. Mrs. Bryant leaves three sons, George A. and William M., who are in the coal business at 3007 West Lake street, and Louis H. Bryant, who lives in Canada.

MRS. EMMA AUGUST GOODING, wife of Maj. William H. Gooding of the Salvation army, and the mother of Harold and Le Moyne Gooding, who died yesterday, will be buried at Glen Ellyn today. Services will be held at the Salvation Army hall, Oak place, at 1:30 p. m.

JUDSON A. TOLMAN of 4638 Prairie avenue died on Monday of heart failure. Mr. Tolman was an active member of the Emanuel Baptist church. Services will be held at the residence today at 2 p. m., the Rev. Johnston Myers officiating.

JOHN M. PHELPS, the last partner of the late Potter Palmer, died last night in Elgin, Ill., at the age of 85 years. He entered business in Chicago before the civil war.

TRAPPED IN VILLAGE.

Admits Identity When Deputy Sheriff Sees Him on Railroad Train.

quitted of that murder, and they can't extradite me."

Taking his cue from Thaw, the deputy replied with equal quietude:

"No, I guess not. Where are you going?"

"I am going to Canada," Thaw said.

"Then I'm going to cross water."

The conversation ended with Thaw's resuming his seat.

Shadowed by Companion.

Kelsea got off, as he had planned, at Colebrook. One of three men who were with Thaw got off, too, Kelsea thinks to shadow him. Kelsea went home, and a few minutes later was off in a big powered automobile in a chase of the train.

Thaw and his companions alighted at Hereford, with the deputy burning the road a few miles behind them. At Hereford Thaw hired a liveryman's team and drove over the international line into the Canadian woods. After a five mile trip that seemed purposeless the driver became suspicious of his fares and refused to go farther. It was dark, but Thaw and his companions did not balk at this. They paid the liveryman, dismissed him, and by starlight began to thread their way through the forest to the open.

They found a farmer's house, and Thaw offered the farmer $9 to drive the trio to the village of Hermenegilde-Garford. It was a short drive, and Thaw and his two friends were in their rooms at the village hotel at 10:30 o'clock.

Permitted to Finish Sleep.

Kelsea's road lay through the village, too. He quickly learned of the arrival of the three strangers and telephoned the police at Coaticook. The police, consisting of the village constable, decided to let Thaw sleep.

At 6 o'clock this morning, however, he went to Hermenegilde-Garford and placed the three men under arrest. After Thaw's arrest Kelsea telegraphed the asylum authorities at Matteawan, claiming the reward.

"Why, I'm not Thaw," were the fugitive's first words to the constable. "I'll bet you $10 I am not."

Notwithstanding, Thaw and his friends were bundled into an automobile and whisked away to Coaticook. There Thaw was put in the village lockup, the constable standing guard at the door. Thaw sent out word that he wanted a lawyer, and W. L. Shurtleff was summoned. His first words were an admonition to his client not to talk to reporters.

Before Thaw had been long in the lockup he admitted his identity. His companions, however, declined to say anything about themselves.

Hearing Before Justice Short.

After Thaw and his counsel had spent an hour or more in consultation Thaw was taken for a hearing to the office of Justice of the Peace Dupuis and formally arraigned on the following indictment:

"That Harry Thaw was legally convicted and confined for life and unlawfully escaped from the penitentiary."

Justice Dupuis conducted the affair briefly. Thaw heard the indictment read. That was all. He was not permitted to enter a plea. Before his astonished lawyer could enter an objection the court had ordered him committed, without bail, to the Sherbrooke jail for hearing tomorrow.

Statement Given by Thaw.

From his cell in the county jail tonight, Thaw sent out to the newspaper men a statement under this caption, typewritten, in capitals:

"No One Has Contended that for Two Years Nearly that Thaw has been in the Tombs he has been insane. There is no evidence of delusion in the slightest degree on his part. Is it anything crazy to take a pistol to defend himself against a man who calls you a —— and threatens to kill you before morning?"

The statement itself was, or purported to be, a printed synopsis of District Attorney Jerome's speech to the jury at Thaw's second trial.

After Thaw had spent some hours in his cell and grumbled a bit at his poor quarters, he was removed to the hospital, where the accommodations are better. At his lawyer's suggestion, he consented to see reporters.

"Where did you intend to go after you left Matteawan?" he was asked.

"I may have been going home," he replied. No amount of questioning could induce him to modify this declaration. Nor could the interviewers persuade him to tell where he had been or what he had done since leaving Matteawan.

"Do you care to say anything about threats you are said to have made that you would go after certain persons once you were out of Matteawan?" Thaw was asked.

"I shall make no answer to the nonsense of that sort that has been printed," he replied. And that ended the interview.

The photographers came next. They wanted a picture. Again Thaw balked. He could not consent to it—could not even consider it—till he put on a clean shirt and collar. He explained that he had not had opportunity to change his clothes since leaving Matteawan.

The authorities believe Thaw had an all day ride at breakneck speed after he left Matteawan. An automobile answering the description of his big touring car passed through White River Junction, Vt., Sunday night. The same car was seen yesterday morning at Woodsville, N. H. On each occasion it was occupied by four men. It is believed Thaw and his two companions left one man with the car near Lancaster, N. H., before boarding the train.

STATE PLANS LEGAL BATTLE.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 19.—After a conference with Dutchess county authorities, Deputy Attorney General Persons tonight announced that "if it were deemed necessary," Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy would go to Canada in an effort to procure Thaw's return to this state.

It was pointed out at the attorney general's office that the Canadian authorities might interpret their deportation laws so that Thaw could only be returned to the state from which he entered Canada.

In this event, it was said, Mr. Kennedy might endeavor to influence the dominion officials to direct the fugitive's return direct to this state.

Officials Leave for North.

District Attorney Edward Conger, Sheriff Hornbeck, and former District Attorney Mack left Poughkeepsie tonight for Sherbrooke, Quebec, with the avowed intention of taking Harry Thaw into custody and returning him either to the Dutchess county jail or Matteawan asylum.

The officials are armed with a warrant charging conspiracy, issued by Justice Chauser, and if it is found Thaw cannot be extradited on the conspiracy charge, a new warrant charging bribery will be applied for and an attempt made to extradite the fugitive on that charge.

It is the hope of the district attorney, however, that Canada will deport Thaw, and in so doing land him over the international line in New York instead of New Hampshire or Vermont. Should this be done, Mr. Conger and his associates will be waiting on the line to take Thaw into custody and bring him back. They do not want him returned in any other state than New York, because he would then have an opportunity to attempt to prove he is sane, and tedious litigation and delay would follow.

MOTHER BROKEN IN SPIRIT.

Uresson, Pa., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, at her country home, Elmhurst, tonight is broken in spirit over the tidings that her son, whom she supposed to be free when she left New York this morning, had been captured in Canada. Her mansion, two miles south of here, had been prepared as for the the homecoming of a prodigal son, for word had been sent there today that Harry Thaw was expected to return within forty-eight hours. The news that he was in a Canadian jail was conveyed to her on a train while en route here.

"I can't believe it," she exclaimed. "I don't believe it."

She was silent for a moment, and tears came to her eyes.

"Even if I do believe it," she added, "I am going home, it will not change my plans. I am going home, and stay there."

Accomplices Got $20,000?

New York, Aug. 19.—[Special.]—The touring car which bore Harry Thaw away from Matteawan was identified today to the satisfaction of the New York police but neither it nor any of the five sub-conspirators who helped Thaw to escape has been found.

Butler and the others who are charged with putting the scheme into effect are comparatively small fry in the eyes of the New York police. The man whom they most want to find is the middle aged man who got his instructions direct from Thaw or his friends and hired the automobile daredevils to carry them out.

There was an unverified rumor today that the man who acted directly for Thaw offered $10,000 for his escape from Matteawan, that the automobile band demanded $25,000, and that they compromised on $20,000.

H. L. WILSON HERE; SILENT ON MEXICO

Former Ambassador Announces He Will Have Much to Say Later.

HAS PRAISE FOR LIND.

Thinks Minnesotan Able and 'Proceeding with Discretion'; On Way to Indiana.

Henry Lane Wilson, recalled from the ambassadorship of Mexico by President Wilson, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Congress hotel. He will leave this morning to join his family in Culver, Ind., where he will spend the summer.

Mr. Wilson said he had no plans for the future, and did not intend to return to the practice of law in Seattle in the fall. He refused to discuss the Mexican situation or the incident of his recall.

"I May Talk Later," He Said.

"I decline to discuss the efficacy of Mr. Lind's work. He is an able man and proceeds with discretion, that is all I can say. As for myself, I am glad I am rid of the post. There are long hours, tedious work, and delicate situations to handle.

Expects to Talk Later.

"There were 10,000 Americans in the City of Mexico at the opening of the Madero revolutions. Now there are about 3,000. The great majority of them returned to the states, and left property there. I was glad enough to come back to the states myself. No, I was not hampered in my work with directions from Washington, but I refuse to commit myself further on that topic. When the time comes I will have a plenty to say."

NEW YORK G. O. P. INDORSES FUSION MAYORALTY CANDIDATE

City Committee Holds Stormy Session, Whitman Being Urged for Standard Bearer—Opposition Overcome.

New York, Aug. 20, 1:30 a. m.—The Republican party in this city decided, at a convention that was still in session an hour after midnight this morning, to indorse the fusion mayoralty nominee, John Purroy Mitchel and not to place any candidate of its own in the field.

The city committee held one of the stormiest meetings in its history, and the name of District Attorney Whitman was repeatedly shouted by delegates who wanted the Republicans to designate him for the mayoralty.

Mr. Whitman sent a telegram saying he would not accept a mayoralty nomination and urging the party to stand by the fusion ticket.

The committee indorsed William A. Prendergast and George McAnony, the respective fusion nominees for controller and president of the board of aldermen. The Progressive city committee tonight also indorsed these three fusion nominees.

PHONE PIONEER PASSES AWAY.

James R. Wiley, Western Manager of Standard Underground Cable Company, Dies.

James R. Wiley, western manager of the Standard Underground Cable company, died Sunday at the Washington Park hospital. He was born in St. Louis, Mo., in 1850 and was one of the pioneers in the telephone business. Funeral services were held yesterday at the chapel of the Second Presbyterian church at Twentieth street and Michigan avenue. Interment was at Graceland cemetery.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

George Fischer, alias Frank Cullet, wanted here for forgeries amounting to nearly $5,000, has been arrested in Edwardsville, Ill., according to a telegram received at the detective bureau last night. Detective Sergeant Frank Ryan has gone to bring him back.

STARTS BIG HOTEL FOR NEEDY MEN

Charles G. Dawes Buys West Side Property to Fulfill Wish of Dead Son.

PLANNED TO COST $100,000.

Projected Year Ago by Rufus Dawes, Drowned in Lake Geneva.

Bids for the construction of the Rufus Dawes Memorial hotel at Madison and Peoria streets will be closed today and the contract awarded some time this week. This announcement was made yesterday by Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust company, who is building the hotel for the needy as a memorial to his son, drowned on Sept. 5 of last year.

Plans submitted by Brown and Olcott, architects, and approved by Mr. Dawes, were announced last night. The cost of land and building will be $100,000. Excavations for the structure already has been completed.

May Be Ready for Winter.

"We hope to have the hotel ready for occupancy by Dec. 1," said Mr. Dawes. "Accommodations will be made for 300 men and emergency quarters for 200 more. The beds will be rented for 5 cents a night. The rooms on the third floor will be rented for 10 cents, and meals will cost from 2 to 5 cents each.

"The manager I have selected will be Mr. Taylor, who was a sanitary inspector under C. B. Ball and at one time was connected with the municipal lodging houses. Mr. Taylor comes into the work highly recommended. My brother, Henry M. Dawes, is actively in charge of the building of the hotel.

"The appellation 'down and out' hotel is misleading. The men who occupy accommodations in the hotel will pay for what they get. They will not be 'bums' and 'down and outs,' but respectable men who find themselves unable to pay high prices for sleeping accommodations.

Bathrooms on First Floor.

"The basement will contain the restaurant and the dining room. The first floor will be given over to the offices, bathrooms, and a few lodging rooms, and the third floor will be wholly occupied with well furnished and comfortable rooms."

The erection of the hotel for needy men is a plan projected by Mr. Dawes and his son while Rufus Dawes was still alive. Eventually Mr. Dawes expects to erect a similar hotel for women. Rufus Dawes was interested in Y. M. C. A. work and the idea was suggested to him while he was doing Y. M. C. A. work in the Bowery in New York City.

Preferred Practical Work.

At the time of his death young Dawes was 21 years old and a senior at Princeton. He and his father were companions and often spent months camping, hunting, and fishing together.

When Rufus was drowned the elder Dawes rushed a pulmotor on a special train to Lake Geneva in a vain effort to save the youth's life. The funeral was attended by many prominent men from all parts of the country.

Soon after the death of his son Mr. Dawes announced his intention of carrying out the hotel plans he and his son had projected.

PENNILESS MEN ORGANIZED.

A clean city plan to be accomplished with the aid of the "down and outs" has been worked out by the Rev. George A. Kilbey, superintendent of the Christian Industrial league.

The down and outs will collect the waste paper on the streets.

The only capital that is required in the plan of Dr. Kilbey is for the purchase of push carts. The push carts will be kept at a central station where they can be lent to the men who want to work.

The league proposes to buy the paper from the men, and it is estimated that $3.60 a week can be earned by each man.

The league also plans to furnish the men board and lodging so cheaply that they will have about a dollar a week for clothes and incidentals.

Arrangements are also on foot to establish a savings department where the men may place their surplus each week.

According to the Continent, a Presbyterian publication, the Associated Charities has agreed to send all homeless men to the league, where they will get lodging and employment.

WOMEN PLAN CAMPAIGNS IN SECOND AND THIRD WARDS.

Propose to Get New Members of Suffrage Club and Draw Voters of Their Sex to Next Election.

Miss Alice Reidy last night gave the members of the Second and Third ward Ladies' Political club their first instructions in voting. The meeting, which was attended by fifty women residing in the two wards, was held in the residence of Dr. Alice M. C. Allen at 4609 Indiana avenue. Miss Reidy explained the law in regard to registration and casting the ballot and answered questions.

The members soon will begin a canvass of their wards to enroll new members and to get information regarding the number of women who will vote at the next election.

Plans for the elimination of dance halls with saloons in connection will be discussed at the next meeting in Fuller park on Sept. 2.

Twenty-five young women, eager to cast a ballot at the next election, attended the class in civic instruction in the rooms of the Woman's City club at 116 South Michigan avenue. Edwin B. De Groot was the principal speaker. He gave an informal talk on suffrage and answered questions. Mrs. E. W. Bemis will have charge of the instruction in citizenship at the club during the absence of Miss Amelia Sears, who is taking a vacation.

The Seventh Ward Suffrage alliance will meet this afternoon at 2:30 in the Gladstone hotel at 6200 Monroe avenue. Mrs. E. L. Pyrell, chairman of the precinct organizations, will address the members. Reports of the canvassers of the ward will be heard.

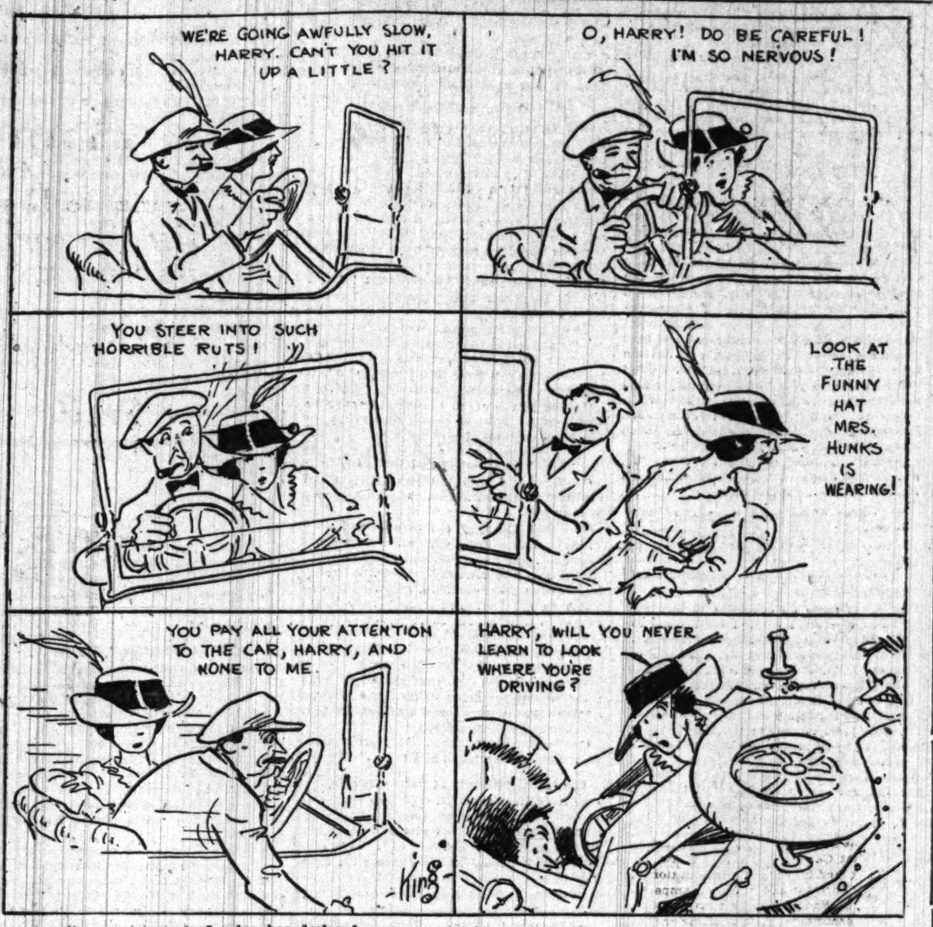
BOAT OWNER LOSES LICENSE.

G. C. Steinman Also Fined $500 for Violating Rules at Water Carnival.

G. C. Steinman, owner and operator of the excursion motor boat Uncle Sam, yesterday was fined $500 by John C. Ames, collector of customs. His operator's license also was revoked. Steinman was charged with crossing the line in the harbor kept free for the exclusive use of racing boats and other violations of government regulations in connection with the Perry centennial and water carnival.

The complaint against him also charged intoxication and recklessness as a navigator, that he refused to stop when ordered to do so by government inspectors, that he gave an assumed name and attempted to impede the efforts of federal officials when he was arrested Monday evening. Steinman said he will appeal the sentence to the secretary of commerce.

Do Women Distract Automobile Drivers?



A police magistrate in London has declared a woman should not sit beside a man driving an automobile, because women are "nervous, garrulous, and attractive, and distract the driver's attention in a thousand ways." Cartoonist King has illustrated the point for Chicagoans.

LAST CALL FOR INQUIRY CASH

Northup Will Stand Only One More Refusal by Bartzen Men.

THEN APPEAL TO CITIZENS.

McCormick Faction Will Help to Collect Money.

Special State's Attorney John E. Northup probably will give the Bartzen element in the county board one more chance to vote $15,000 for the special grand jury election fraud investigation and the prosecution of the indicted men. If the money is again refused, he will appeal to the public for financial aid.

President A. A. McCormick, the five Progressive members of the board, and Commissioners Moriarty and Mafoney, Democrats, have gone on record in favor of the appropriation, repeatedly recommended by the finance committee. Ten votes are necessary, however, to approve a money expenditure.

One More Written Request.

Mr. Northup's plan is said to be to send one more written request to the board. If it is ignored by Bartzen and his followers he will ask the assistance of the McCormick faction in collecting the money through a public subscription. The prosecutor's next letter is not expected to be couched in mild terms, as was his first communication to the board.

With his assistants and staff of investigators Mr. Northup yesterday continued the collection of evidence to be submitted to the grand jury when it reconvenes after its vacation, probably next week. He expects many more indictments to be voted.

Promises Vigorous Prosecution.

"Every man mentioned in a true bill returned by the grand jury will be prosecuted vigorously," said Mr. Northup. "As I told the county board, there will be no letup in this inquiry so far as I am concerned until every guilty man is brought to justice, no matter who he may be.

"It isn't a question of money with me personally, but of the oath I took to sift these frauds to the bottom. I do not, however, believe the people of Cook county desire that men engaged in work of this importance should do so without just compensation. I know the three judges who have approved the investigation do not think so."

WON'T EXHUME LEE'S BODY.

Coroner Hoffman Declines to Disturb Publisher's Grave Without Court Order.

Coroner Hoffman will not allow the body of William Henry Lee, the publisher, who died several weeks ago intestate, to be exhumed without an order from the Probate court.

Mrs. Lucinda Anderson, who says Lee was her husband, appeared at the Probate court on Monday and told Clerk I. F. Dankowski that she wanted the body exhumed.

WEDDING A TROUBLE CURE?

Judge Mahoney So Advises Former Congressman Wharton.

BACHELOR GAME BROKEN UP

But It Was Whist, Contends Stockyards Resident.

Municipal Judge Mahoney suggested marriage as an antidote for nightly card parties yesterday to former Congressman Charles S. Wharton.

Wharton with five friends were arrested a week ago in his bachelor apartments at 4191 South Halsted street by detectives from Chief McWeeny's office on a charge of gambling. The detectives testified Wharton and five other men were sitting around a table playing poker for money.

"Little Party" for Friends.

Mr. Wharton explained he was giving a "little party" for his bachelor friends and they were playing a quiet game of whist when the detectives entered. He denied the men were playing for money and said the chips the detectives saw were for the use of the visitors if they chose to play other games later.

"Why don't you get married, Mr. Wharton?" Judge Mahoney asked.

"Because I can't find a woman who will take a chance and live out there near the stockyards," Wharton replied.

"Well, you might try again," counseled Judge Mahoney. "It's one way of keeping out of trouble."

Judge Mahoney discharged Wharton and his friends contending there was no evidence the men were playing for money. Wharton was known as the "kid congressman" a few years ago. J. T. McDermott, under fire in the Mulhall investigation, succeeded Wharton.

Dunne's Son Defends Chinese.

Among other well known persons who appeared before Judge Mahoney in the gambling cases was Edward F. Dunne Jr., eldest son of Gov. Dunne. Mr. Dunne appeared in the role of defender for twenty-four Chinese arrested on Monday on a charge of gambling. They were acquitted.

"From the testimony of the policemen," Judge Mahoney said, "I can't tell whether these men were playing for money or for September corn."

Miss Dorothy Barley Accused with Man of Passing Worthless Checks on West Side.

Miss Dorothy Barley of 513 South Robey street, a dressmaker, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant charging her with obtaining money through a confidence game.

The complainant is Henry Neumann of 841 Garfield avenue, a butcher. He accuses her of passing a worthless check on him.

Government operatives are said to have left the city yesterday in search for a man who worked with Miss Barley. Miss Barley and the man are said to have passed checks for more than $1,000 on the west side in the last month.

SUFFRAGE OPPOSED BY LODGES

National Fraternal Congress Votes Down Indorsement.

BIG MERGER IS ARRANGED.

Associated Fraternities Expected to Agree to Consolidation.

By a vote of 41 to 68, with nearly half of the delegates not voting, the National Fraternal congress at the Hotel Sherman yesterday rejected a resolution indorsing the passage of equal suffrage laws.

Mrs. Rachel A. Bailey, representing the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, presented the resolution. Speaker after speaker argued that the proposition was out of place, as it was not germane to the purpose of the meeting. They said the session was for the discussion of fraternal insurance and not of political subjects.

Mrs. Bailey asked for a roll call on her motion, but President John D. Clark ordered merely a rising vote. Almost half the delegates remained in their chairs, and there were more women against the motion than in favor of it.

"Group Insurance" Opposed.

The need of the adoption of rules by fraternal organizations favoring the writing of "group insurance" was shown by Charles E. Piper, chairman of the legislative committee.

"It has become the custom among employers to insure a group of their employés under a blanket policy, the premiums therefor paid by the employer," Mr. Piper said. "In order that the fraternal organizations can successfully compete with commercial insurance companies we must adopt rules allowing the waiving of medical examinations, and the paying of the premiums by others than those insured.

"Personally I think such insurance should not be allowed—that any insurance of the kind should be arranged for by a law similar to the workmen's compensation act. However, I believe that fraternal organizations should make arrangements to compete with other organizations as matters now stand."

Merger Plans Progress.

The committees appointed by the national fraternal congress and the Associated Fraternities to confer regarding amalgamation are nearing the successful completion of their work, according to Mr. Piper, chairman.

"I expect all arrangements will be completed so that the coalition can be voted upon by the members of the two organizations Thursday morning as planned," Mr. Piper said. "The most serious question before the two committees is that of rates. The national fraternal congress is in favor of much higher rates for insurance than the Associated Fraternities, but up to the present even the question of rates seems to be nearing agreement."

POLICE TO WATCH LIGHTS ON AUTOS

McWeeny and His Men Will Review Cars Crossing Rush Street Bridge.

WARNING TO BE ISSUED.

Want to Establish a Standard and Define Lights That Are "Blinding."

For an hour or two Friday night the Rush street bridge will look like police headquarters. There will be in evidence there Chief McWeeny, First Deputy Schuettler, Second Deputy Funkhouser, Sergt. Delaney, head of the vehicle bureau, and ten patrolmen.

This massing of the officers of the department on one assignment was the result of Mayor Harrison's declaration that the ordinance forbidding dazzling headlights on automobiles must be obeyed. It went into effect two weeks ago, but it is estimated that only about one-fourth of the motorists have complied with the law by shading or lessening the brilliancy of their lamps.

Will Classify Auto Lights.

The capture of the Rush street bridge is a preliminary to the real campaign. At this point McWeeny and his aids will seek to classify the different lights by establishing a degree of brilliancy beyond which a light shall be declared dazzling. The ordinance covers all those equipped with parabolic or condensing lenses or reflectors.

"There may be some small lamps of this kind that are not binding," said the chief, "but there are several points we want to take up as we watch the machines go over the bridge Friday night. For instance, some of the shades that have been put in use do not cure the faults of the lights. They may go half way down the front, but the trouble comes from the fact that it is the lower part of the reflector that throws the light up.

Against Dim Lights, Too.

"Another question is whether some of the machine owners have not reduced their lights too much by turning out their headlights and using unsatisfactory oil lamps. Some of them are so dim you'd have to light a match to see them."

Following the inspection at the bridge the ten patrolmen, with assistants, will be scattered throughout the city at places where machines are numerous. Their general instructions will be to notify the drivers of machines with glaring headlights that they are violating the law.

WAS THIS SAFE "CRACKED"? POLICE UNABLE TO DECIDE.

Depository Found Open at Chicago Market Company and Owner Says $280 Was Stolen.

A mysterious safe robbery was reported to the East Chicago avenue police yesterday. After hours of inspecting by detectives it was impossible to tell whether the safe had been robbed or not. One of the owners of the Chicago Market company to whom the safe belonged told the police that $280 had been stolen.

The safe was in the offices of the company at 503 Wells street. It was found open when M. A. Godbod, one of the owners, arrived at the office. Detectives Baynes and Loftus examined the safe and nothing that indicated that the safe had been blown or that the combination had been manipulated was found.

Louis Smith, 4709 North Maplewood avenue, was beaten into unconsciousness by boy robbers and then robbed of $33. The boys struck him with revolvers after commanding him to stop. P. J. Nicholson, 4712 Pulaski street; Charles Linenoff, 2445 Ravenswood avenue, and Charles Romain, North Pulaski street and Irving Park boulevard, were other victims of the "boy highwaymen."

Patrolman Michael Quinlan of the West Thirteenth street station captured a robber who held up Joseph Dolla after a running revolver battle at Ogden avenue and West Twelfth street. The robber gave his name as Edward Murphy.

WATCHMAN ADMITS HE WAS HIGHWAYMAN'S 'MEAL TICKET'

After Having Been Held Up on Four Successive Pay Days Emil Mageo's Patience Is Exhausted.

Emil Mageo of 8849 Escanaba avenue told the police of South Chicago yesterday that he always has been a man of charitable inclinations. But, he continued his narrative to the police, there are a few unappreciative men in the world.

Mageo explained that for the last four pay days he has been giving his salary to two highwaymen who met him on the way home every Tuesday night. Mageo said last night that he didn't complain the first three times because he thought the robbers might need the money.

Mageo is a watchman and gets $8.50 a week.

LOGUE SUSPECTS IN COURT

Erbstein Makes Hoyne's Office Produce Two Prisoners.

IGNORANCE PLEA A FAILURE.

Prosecutor Also Agrees to Name Grand Jury Witnesses.

Attorney Charles E. Erbstein yesterday forced the state's attorney's office to produce Harold Schneider, his client, held under indictment for the murder of Joseph Logue, diamond broker.

In the morning both Attorney Erbstein and Attorney Samuel E. Foos, representing John Faith, indicted on the same charge, appeared before Judge Brentano and represented their clients were being denied their constitutional rights to interview their attorneys.

The representative of the state's attorney's office was asked the whereabouts of the prisoners. He replied he didn't know where they were. The attorneys for the defendants maintained the men were being concealed.

Shows Prisoners Are Lost.

"First Deputy Schuettler told the sheriff this morning Schneider was at the bureau of identification and would be delivered to the sheriff at once," said Attorney Erbstein to the court. "The sheriff's office was informed by the bureau of identification that Schneider was not there and had not been there. Neither was he at the Forty-third precinct police station.

"What do you want this court to do?" asked Judge Brentano.

"I want to see my client," said Erbstein.

"Set the trial of Harold Schneider for 2 o'clock this afternoon," said Judge Brentano to his clerk, and notify the sheriff of this."

"If Schneider is not produced now," said Attorney Erbstein, "some one will be in contempt of court."

Both Prisoners Produced.

At 2 o'clock both Schneider and Faith were produced before Judge Brentano. Judge Brentano then caused to be erased his order for the immediate trial, and the prisoners were remanded to the county jail. Although both had been indicted by the grand jury on Saturday the capiases had not been served until yesterday. Both prisoners were in consultation with their attorneys for several hours during the afternoon.

Erbstein also asked the court to instruct the state's attorney's office to give the names and addresses of all witnesses examined before the grand jury, according to the law.

Erbstein Takes Hoyne's Witness.

A state's witness was appropriated by Erbstein during the day. He is Steven Durza, Logue's office boy at the time of the murder. Announcement was made by the state's attorney's office some days ago that young Durza had positively identified Schneider as the man who was in Logue's office in the McVicker's theater building a few hours before the murder. Yesterday young Durza went voluntarily to Erbstein's office and made a statement to the effect that he had not identified and could not identify Schneider as Logue's caller.

APPLES

If you have apples to store, let us hear from you. On account of the short crop in Kentucky and Tennessee, Evansville is one of the best points, if not the best point in the country, for apple storage this season. Freight rates from Evansville to Nashville and other southern points are exceptionally low on account of the river competition. There being few apples in southern Indiana, there will also be a large Evansville home market. The insulation and refrigeration of our cold storage buildings are as nearly perfect as can be made, enabling us to guarantee an even temperature. Our cold storage houses have a capacity of 400,000 cubic feet; they are connected with all railroads entering Evansville by switches extending through our own grounds to their doors. LIGHT ON OTTUMWA MEN.

Reporter Gotthart Tells of Visit to Iowa; Comments on Hearst Man's Affidavit.

only time I have ever seen Mr. Barr or ever had any conversation with him. I say, until yesterday afternoon, I was under the impression I had never seen Mr. Barr, that I had never talked with him. Yesterday afternoon, however, I learned that I had seen the man and that I had talked with him. That was either last November or last spring. I have forgotten which. It was the night of an election when I talked to the man. I did not know who he was and he did not know who I was. I did not know it was Mr. Barr until yesterday afternoon.

Never Discussed Machines.

Q.—Did you at any time discuss with Mr. Barr or anybody representing the Empire Voting Machine company the matter of receiving money or taking money for supporting or withdrawing opposition to any contract they may have had with the city? A.—I never discussed that matter with Mr. Barr or any other human being, or any other matter similar to that.

Q.—You don't know John W. Gray, ex-chief of police of Ottumwa? A.—Not so far as I know.

Q.—Do you know a man named Newton Arrison, former city clerk of Ottumwa? A.—Never heard of him.

Q.—Do you know Thomas H. Pickler, who was former mayor? A.—Never heard of him.

Q.—Do you know a lawyer, Edward G. Moon, former state senator and former police magistrate of Ottumwa? A.—Never heard of him.

Q.—Or Mr. Gilmore, his partner, of Ottumwa? A.—Never heard of him.

Q.—Did you ever hear about any charges having been made against you or THE TRIBUNE, or anybody connected with it, in reference to this contract, of a financial nature? A.—No, sir.

MR. DENEEN—That is all.

THE WITNESS—May I amplify that statement just made?

MR. DENEEN—Certainly.

Explains Recollection of Meeting.

THE WITNESS—I got back from Europe on Saturday morning. I first learned of this story about half an hour after I landed. I racked my mind to try and determine whether I had seen this man. I see hundreds of people in the course of a year. To the best of my knowledge, to the best of my recollection, I never saw the man and never talked with him and would not have known him if he had walked into my room or into this room. Yesterday, however, I went into our local room and Mr. Hewitt, the reporter who wrote a number of stories on the voting machine proposition, was sitting there and I said, "What kind of a looking fellow is this man Barr? I don't believe I ever saw him." And Hewitt retorted: "He wanted to see you once." "Well," I said, "under what circumstances?" and Mr. Hewitt said that after definite action or the first definite action had been taken by the election commissioners in connection with the voting machine, when they had taken some action that was regarded as practically making a contract, that Barr and another man whose name I have forgotten, came up to see Hewitt in THE TRIBUNE office, and that they were feeling pretty good and that they "joshed" Hewitt and said, "Well, we licked you," and they talked back and forward a few minutes and finally Barr said to Mr. Hewitt, "I would like to meet Mr. Keeley one of these days; I would like to go in and see him." Hewitt replied, "Well, that is what everybody wants who comes up here, but very few get in." That was the end of the conversation. Mind you, gentlemen, this was after the contract was awarded that he wanted to meet me—wanted to see me.

Tells of Chance Meeting.

MR. THOMASON—You might explain the circumstances of the meeting which you did have with Mr. Barr.

A.—Oh, yes, the only recollection I had of meeting any one connected in any way with the voting machine question was on a certain night—the night of an election—whether it was a primary or otherwise, I don't remember; whether it was last spring or last fall, I don't remember, but I know it was of comparative recent occurrence. I was walking through the room of Mr. Beck, the managing editor, and there were two gentlemen sitting at his table and I heard them ask him to do something in connection with voting machines. Well, I stood to one side and listened, and the proposition they put up was this: That they would like THE TRIBUNE to say the next morning that the returns came in infinitely more quickly from the voting machine precincts than they did from any other precincts. They wanted us to specify what precincts brought in the returns first, and what hour. I then broke into the conversation and I said it was impossible to do that for this reason: That we received our preliminary figures from the City News Bureau and they always came in the form of bulletins which read something like this: "Fifty-seven precincts out of thirteen hundred, or so, give So-and-So so much, and give So-and-So so much, and So-and-So so much." That there was no way of telling the location of those precincts and from what ward those returns came. It was just a group, a bunch, we will say, of the first fifty-seven that came in. Of course, some might have been voting machine precincts and some might have been others. I pointed out that fact to those gentlemen and they saw the point at once. We had two or three minutes' general conversation, very pleasant conversation, and I walked out of the room. I learned yesterday afternoon that one of those gentlemen was Mr. Barr.

REPRESENTATIVE KING—Who informed you that was Mr. Barr? A.—Mr. Beck.

Asked of His Politics.

SENATOR CANADAY—What is your politics? A.—Progressive.

Q.—How long have you lived in Chicago? A.—Between twenty-one and twenty-two years.

Q.—Born here, in this country? A.—No, sir.

Q.—What country were you born in? A.—England.

Q.—You have been naturalized, I suppose? A.—Yes, sir; in Wyandotte county, Kas., in 1888, before Judge Miller.

MR. MITCHELL—May I ask why THE TRIBUNE changed its tone on the advent of a Democratic administration? A.—Will you demonstrate that THE TRIBUNE has changed its tone?

Q.—Isn't it a fact that THE TRIBUNE always did advocate voting machines until Judge Owens became county judge? A.—That is not a fact, sir.

Q.—Isn't it a fact it was one of the chief agitators in favor of voting machines, by editorial writings, all of the time there was a Republican party in power? A.—THE TRIBUNE did advocate——

Q.—Answer the question yes or no. A.—Just a minute, now. I object to the word used, "agitate"; it does not express the attitude of THE TRIBUNE, in the first place.

MR. MITCHELL—I will change "agitate" to "advocate." A.—Thank you. THE TRIBUNE did believe in voting machines. It did not believe in this voting machine deal.

Opposed Confirmation of Deal.

Q.—Did it not oppose the adoption of voting machines before this "deal," as you call it, was entered into at all? A.—No, sir; it opposed the consummation of this deal.

Q.—Did it not, long before the consummation of this deal, but while negotiations were pending and no deal made, did it not during all of that period of several months oppose voting machines? A.—Opposition always precedes consummation.

Q.—Surely. A.—You cannot oppose after the thing is done.

Q.—I am not trying to get into an argument with you. A.—You seem to be.

Q.—I don't desire this to degenerate into such. I want some information. Didn't THE TRIBUNE, between the first of January and the time when the contract was consummated, constantly belittle the efforts made by the commissioners to investigate voting machines? A.—I don't know as to the accuracy of your dates. All I can say is to repeat what I said before, that THE TRIBUNE opposed this deal.

Believed Deal "Not Square."

Q.—Why? A.—Because it did not believe it was a square deal.

Q.—Did it know it was not? A.—If I had known it would have printed that fact.

Q.—It suspected it was not, only. A.—It believed.

Q.—Where did it get its suspicion from—Anthony Czarnecki? A.—I don't think so—no, it did not.

Q.—Have you any information that you can give this committee pointing to the source whence you got any information that caused you to suspect the honesty of this voting machine deal—name the men who informed you. Can you? A.—I cannot, sir.

Q.—It was merely suspicion on the part of THE TRIBUNE? A.—Not on the part of THE TRIBUNE, but suspicion of gentlemen who conveyed the information to THE TRIBUNE.

Q.—Who were these gentlemen? A.—I told you I could not give their names; I have forgotten; it is two or three years ago.

Asked Whom He Suspected.

Q.—Did you suspect Mr. Czarnecki? A.—No.

Q.—Did you suspect Dr. Taylor? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Did you suspect Mr. Kellermann? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Isn't it a fact—— A.—Don't you want to ask whom we did suspect?

Q.—I will ask such questions as I—I will accept the suggestion and ask the question. A.—The voting machine company.

Q.—You suspected a corporation, did you? A.—As a——

Q.—What man of the corporation did you suspect? A.—The corporation, as you put it.

Q.—You suspected a corporation; what man of the corporation did you suspect? A.—The corporation, as you put it.

Q.—You suspected an incorporate entity?

MR. THOMASON—I don't think that this man should be called on to give a legal definition.

MR. MITCHELL—Can't you name any one man whom you had cause to suspect, one individual? A.—No, sir, I cannot. If I had we would have printed it.

Q.—Isn't it a fact that this entire opposition to this voting machine is simply a newspaper fight? A.—It is not a fact, sir.

MR. MITCHELL—That is all.

Walker Believes Keeley.

MR. THOMASON—Did THE TRIBUNE, in the abstract, ever oppose voting machines in the city of Chicago? A.—No, sir.

MR. McEWEN—What is a voting machine in the abstract?

MR. THOMASON—We have been here about four weeks, and I would like to know.

THE WITNESS—It was in the affidavit, judge. It was in Mr. Marriott's affidavit, that phrase.

MR. DENEEN—Do you care to ask him any questions, Mr. Walker?

MR. WALKER—Certainly not. I want to say that this shows the value of hearsay, all of the time. I believe what Mr. Keeley says.

THE CHAIRMAN—Do you wish to ask Mr. Keeley a question?

MR. WALKER—Not at all; I believe him.

MR. DENEEN—You read the proceedings in reference to this contract before it was consummated? A.—I beg your pardon?

Would Call Barr a Liar.

Q.—You read the news about the bids and specifications and such? A.—O, yes.

Q.—You gathered your opinion from them and statements that came to you from reporters and others? A.—Reporters and others, and letters and other things.

REPRESENTATIVE KING—You absolve Mr. Keeley from this charge?

MR. WALKER—I say that this simply shows the value of putting hearsay on hearsay in evidence. If I was on this committee I would find that what Barr said that he ever said—if he ever said it—about Mr. Keeley was not true. Of course——

REPRESENTATIVE KING—Barr is a liar, then?

MR. WALKER—That is what I would find. As far as any inference or any reflection upon Mr. Keeley, or upon anybody else, based on hearsay.

Who Misstated the Facts?

MR. DENEEN—Do you mean to say whether Barr misstated the truth, or the affiant, Mr. Marriott, misstated it, his client?

MR. WALKER—As I understand it, Mr. Marriott's affidavit said that they believed that Barr said it.

MR. KEELEY—I think we will demonstrate that they did not.

THE CHAIRMAN—Do you wish to present a defense against the accuracy of the statements in this affidavit? A.—Yes; I wish to present Mr. Hewitt, Mr. Beck, and Mr. Gotthart.

Oscar Hewitt Testifies.

Oscar E. Hewitt, the next witness, testified as follows:

Q.—What is your name and occupation? A.—Oscar Hewitt, reporter for THE TRIBUNE.

Q.—Do you know Mr. Barr of the Empire Voting machine company? A.—I do.

Q.—Did you ever meet Mr. Barr? Were you ever talking with Mr. Barr in Mr. Keeley's presence? A.—I don't think I ever did—no.

Q.—Did you ever hear any conversation with Mr. Barr subsequent to the awarding of the voting machine contract? A.—Yes.

Q.—State when and where. A.—Well, I was—one of them was in THE TRIBUNE office about—well, I should say between two and three weeks after the resolution was adopted to buy machines.

Q.—Was Mr. Barr there? A.—Yes.

Barr Asked to Meet Keeley.

Q.—What did he say to you, if anything, in reference to Mr. Keeley? A.—He said he would like to meet Mr. Keeley and I said, "Well, nearly every one that comes in wants to see Mr. Keeley," but he says, "Not now; some time I would like to meet him."

Q.—Did he state at that time whether or not he had ever met him before? A.—No, he did not.

Q.—That was after the contract had been awarded? A.—That is, after the resolution had been passed saying that the board would award a contract.

REPRESENTATIVE KING—How do you fix it in your mind it was afterward? A.—Why, he came up, and he was feeling, apparently, very well; and there was jollying around about having licked me—I had written some stories in regard to the transactions of the board—and he thought he had won a victory at that time, and I did, too, and he was jesting me about it.

THE CHAIRMAN—You were in attendance upon the board of election commissioners from time to time during the hearings in that period? A.—Yes, sir.

Barr's Visit to Office.

The next witness was E. S. Beck, managing editor of THE TRIBUNE.

Q.—Mr. Beck, do you know Mr. Barr of the Empire Voting Machine company? A.—I met Mr. Barr on one occasion only.

Q.—When was that? A.—I think it was the Monday before election last fall.

Q.—Who was present at that time? A.—Well, Mr. Barr and a gentleman who I think was Mr. Lausterer came up to the office, possibly between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon; sent word in that they wanted to see me on business, and I asked them to come in, and they came into the room. They suggested that in connection with our report of the election returns it would be a proper thing to mention that the first returns were received from the voting machine precincts, or from the count made on voting machines. They had suggested this when Mr. Keeley came in the room. In passing through from his room into the local room he ordinarily passes through my room.

Conversation Attracted Keeley.

Q.—The passage way goes through your room, does it? A.—The passage way is from his room through the library into my room and on into the local room, and he was passing through merely casually and the conversation attracted him as it naturally would, and he stopped to listen to what their suggestion was, and having heard it, before I said anything as to what we could do, he called their attention to the fact that the returns as collected by the City News Bureau did not specify whether they were voting machine returns or paper ballot returns.

Q.—Yes? A.—And then we both remarked that it would hardly be feasible to make this statement. I don't recall any further conversation, and they went on out. That was the only time I ever saw either of them.

Did Not Know Keeley.

Q.—Did either of the men give any evidence of recognition of Mr. Keeley? A.—They did not. I am positive they did not know Mr. Keeley. When he came in I don't think his name was mentioned. He just dropped into the conversation. I don't think they knew my name, except that I was managing editor.

Q.—Did either of them speak to Mr. Keeley when he came in? A.—No, sir; he didn't know them.

Q.—Give any recognition of that at all? A.—No, sir, just came into the conversation in that casual way; not any introduction on either side.

Q.—You are positive that was last fall? A.—I am positive it was the day before election.

Q.—That is all.

Tries to Identify Barr.

SENATOR CANADAY—Was this the H. W. Barr who used to make the county seats in this state selling blank books and stationery? A.—I don't know; I never heard of him in that connection. I never heard of him until in connection with this voting machine proposition in Chicago.

REPRESENTATIVE KING—This was the day before election? A.—Yes, I think it was.

Q.—They wanted you to put something in the paper that had not occurred? A.—No, sir; they did not want us to put it in advance of the returns, but in connection with the report of the election. It seemed to me an entirely proper suggestion.

THE CHAIRMAN—Was your business manager ever approached by any agent of the Empire Voting Machine company for the purpose of inserting ads in your paper, supporting the Empire Voting Machine deal? A.—Not that I know of. I don't know anything about that end of the office.

THE CHAIRMAN—Information came in an indirect way to the chairman that various papers had been approached to buy advertising space, the gentlemen approaching the paper thereby hoping to obtain——

MR. THOMASON—I will advise the committee that the business manager of THE TRIBUNE has something along that line.

MR. KEELEY—I had something in mind in connection with that.

THE CHAIRMAN—That is all. We will adjourn.

The committee took a recess until 2 p. m.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the afternoon session Charles J. Gotthart testified as follows:

Q.—What is your name? A.—Charles Gotthart.

Q.—What is your business? A.—Reporter for THE TRIBUNE.

Q.—Where were you from Friday, Aug. 15, until Monday, Aug. 18, last? A.—Ottumwa, Iowa.

Q.—Are you familiar with the contents of the affidavit executed by Edward E. Marriott? A.—I am.

Q.—While you were in Ottumwa did you see John W. Gray, whose name was mentioned in that affidavit? A.—I did.

Q.—Who is he? A.—He is former police chief, who is now in the private detective business.

Q.—I will direct your attention to a paragraph in the affidavit reading as follows, referring to the statement of Mr. Gray, the claimant's statement of Mr. Gray to Mr. Marriott: "Barr told us that he had paid big money to get the contract; that the big mistake he had made was not to give $50,000 to Jim Keeley, the publisher of THE TRIBUNE. Barr said that Jim Keeley demanded $50,000, but we refused to pay him; if he had got that, there would not have been any of this trouble with the voting machine contract. THE TRIBUNE and all the other papers had been for voting machines, and they would never have thought of fighting the contract if THE TRIBUNE had not started the trouble when we refused Keeley's demand for $50,000." What did Mr. Gray say to you in reference to the statement attributed to him in the affidavit. A.—Mr. Gray said that he never——

MR. McEWEN—I wish to reserve an objection on the ground it is hearsay.

THE CHAIRMAN—The objection may be entered. The witness may answer the question.

Affidavit Called "Pack of Lies."

THE WITNESS—Mr. Gray told me he never knew there was such a man as Jim Keeley until he saw it set forth in the affidavit that was presented to him by our correspondent there on Thursday afternoon.

Q.—What did Mr. Gray say with reference to the entire statement attributed to him in the affidavit of Marriott? A.—He said it was a pack of lies; that Marriott was drunk, and that the only thing that he gave Marriott was an affidavit that Marriott brought back to Chicago on the Saturday—I believe, the 9th—and that was to the effect that he had known Mr. Barr for five years, and that he and Pickler and Arrison for compensation agreed to bring Mr. Barr and Charles A. Walsh together.

Q.—How many times did you talk to Mr. Gray. A.—O, four or five.

Q.—On different days? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Where? A.—In his office, on the street, and at the Laclede hotel.

Q.—While you were in Ottumwa did you talk to Newton L. Arrison? A.—Yes.

Q.—Who is he? A.—He is ex-city clerk.

Q.—He has attributed the statement—that statement is attributed to him in the affidavit of Marriott—that "if it wasn't for my friendship for Barr and my love of fair play I could hardly resist the offers of big money that are made by Deneen and others to any of us fellows who will go to Chicago and back up the things put forth in that paper that Duke gave to Boyer." Did you question him in reference to this statement attributed to him? A.—I did. He said he didn't know—that Deneen and Butts offered to buy the contract at the face value and pay their expenses if they would testify.

Q.—Did he say he was to get any other money of any kind? A.—No, sir.

MR. McEWEN—I want to save an objection to all of these Ottumwa interviews as being hearsay, and I want my objection noted so I may argue if we ever get to argue that evidence.

THE CHAIRMAN—The objection may be noted.

Arrison Didn't Talk to Marriott.

MR. THOMASON—What did Mr. Arrison say with reference to his relations with Marriott when Marriott was in Ottumwa? A.—He said he refused to talk to Marriott and that he could confirm by Judge Moon, the local counsel for W. H. Barr. Mr. Moon did confirm it so far as it related to an independent conversation, for he said Marriott was there with a little yellow pad and fired various questions at Arrison, and Arrison kept saying, "Go away from me; I don't want to talk to you," and he finally asked some simple questions as, "Do you know Mr. Lawrence?" and "When have you seen Mr. Lawrence?" and Judge Moon said, "Go ahead and answer those questions; it is all right."

Q.—He answered nothing else? A.—No, sir; he said he didn't know there was such a man as Brennan, for instance.

Statement Given by Moon.

It was at this time that Attorney Thomason introduced Moon's statement. It follows:

It is not my custom to discuss the affairs of clients with newspaper men. I have not made an exception to this rule in Mr. Marriott's case. I did not say to Mr. Marriott that Mr. Arrison and Mr. Gray had told me that Mr. Barr said to them that it would cost a big sum to get the Chicago voting machine contract. I did not say to Mr. Marriott that Mr. Barr had told me and my law partner the same story. I did not say to Mr. Marriott that Mr. Barr said: "A mistake was made when we refused to give Jim Keeley of THE TRIBUNE the $50,000 that he asked." I did not say to Mr. Marriott that Mr. Deneen and other politicians had $15,000 to spend to get the testimony of these men in Ottumwa. I did not say to Mr. Marriott that THE TRIBUNE was willing to come across with a few thousand more. Such matters as I have received from Mr. Barr or any other clients are held by me in confidence and under the obligations of an attorney. [Signed]

E. G. MOON.

Telegram from Moon.

THE CHAIRMAN—Right at this juncture I might say for the information of the committee here and for the record that the chairman, by direction of the committee, wired to Mr. Pickler and Arrison and Gray and Duke at Ottumwa, and also wrote letters to Mr. Gilmore and Moon and wired them likewise to be present here this morning at 9:30. I have here a letter from Mr. Moon, which I shall read into the records, if there is no objection.

The letter was read. It follows:

In reply to your telegram of the 16th inst., I beg to say that I have already given to the press a statement with reference to the Marriott affidavit. I am inclosing herewith a duplicate of same signed by me. I trust that your committee will appreciate the fact that as an attorney for Mr. Barr and the Empire Voting Machine company I am not at liberty to speak as freely as though no such relation existed. I believe that my statement includes all of the things that I can properly say and believe that on reading same you will come to a like conclusion.

Your telegram to Mr. Gilmore is also received. Mr. Gilmore has been absent on his vacation for more than two weeks and I cannot say exactly when he will return. You will, of course, understand that his relation to Mr. Barr and the Empire Voting Machine company are those of attorney, and I have no doubt that he would view the matter as I do. Yours very truly, E. G. MOON.

Resume the Examination.

THE CHAIRMAN—Proceed with the examination of Witness Gotthart.

MR. THOMASON—In the affidavit of Edward E. Marriott there is attributed to Mr. Moon, by Mr. Marriott, this statement: "Deneen told Arrison and Gray that if they would testify in Chicago, he [Deneen] would assume the $1,000 payment promised by the Empire company, and pay them lots of money besides. Deneen, Butts, and the other politicians have $15,000 to spend to get the testimony of these men, and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is ready to come across with a few thousands." Did you talk to Mr. Moon with reference to that statement attributed to him? A.—I am not certain whether I did on that paragraph or not.

Said Marriott Was Drunk.

Q.—Did Mr. Moon make any statement in reference to Mr. Marriott? A.—Yes, sir; like Gray and Arrison and all the rest, he said Marriott was drunk.

Q.—When? A.—All of the while he was there.

SENATOR CANADAY—I would like to ask the gentleman, did these men give any reason why they would not come before the subcommittee while they were up there? A.—Yes, sir; they were interfered with.

Q.—In what way? A.—Well, I invited them, and Arrison said he would come if it became a matter of self-protection, but he talked about sluggers in Chicago, so did Duke, and Arrison said Marriott told them and also another man if he came to Chicago he would be subjected to Mr. Walker's brutality and his merciless cross examination, and he would be kodaked and misrepresented in the newspapers, and would be liable to be slugged before he came back.

Chicago a Dangerous Place.

SENATOR CANADAY—He considered it a very dangerous place to be, in Chicago? A.—He seemed to think so, as a matter of fact, they are satisfied, now that they have got their money. That is all they are interested in.

Q.—I am trying—simply wanting to know why they would tell individuals their story who went there, but would not come before the committee and testify? A.—Well, your wire to Pickler—now, Pickler was in the West hotel in Sioux City until this morning, when he went to Omaha. When Mrs. Pickler got the wire she called Arrison and he said just put it in an envelope and he will get it soon enough. Arrison laughed about the thing and Gray talked about the thing. Moon controls the situation. They all figure Barr is a good fellow and what is the use of getting anybody in wrong? They laugh about this Keeley thing. They simply say that is a counter-irritant; there is nothing in any of it. That is all they think.

Enter Bill Roberts.

Q.—How did they get this information that they would be liable to be slugged in Chicago? A.—Well, that was talked to them by somebody down there whom they would not name. Arrison said Marriott and also Bill Roberts, the labor reporter on the Examiner, told them all about Mr. Walker and how merciless he was on cross examination and would make monkeys out of them.

SENATOR CANADAY—Who is Bill Roberts? A.—He is the labor reporter on the Examiner. After the committee met on Monday night and everybody went home, this man, George Klein—he has the Laclede hotel that seems to have been made the headquarters down there by Marriott—and they said that Arrison was coming before the committee to testify on Wednesday morning, so that night Roberts of the Examiner came up.

Q.—He came to Ottumwa? A.—He came to Ottumwa thinking that Arrison was going to come down. First Marriott phoned George Klein asking him to meet Roberts and present him to Arrison. That is what they told me.

THE CHAIRMAN—What was the object of Roberts' trip to Ottumwa? A.—I inferred they did not want them to come down.

Ottumwa Men Paid.

REPRESENTATIVE JAYNE—You say that they were satisfied now because they have received their money? A.—Yes.

Q.—How do you know they have received their money? A.—I asked Gray that and Gray said he was going to be a good fellow. He said he was satisfied. I said, "Did you get your three hundred and thirty-three and a third?" and he said, "You're damn right I did," and I saw Newt Arrison and I said, "Did you get yours?" and he said, "No, it is over there for me. It is safe in Judge Moon's hands."

Q.—You say Roberts arrived in Ottumwa? A.—He arrived in Ottumwa at 1:15 and registered at the Laclede—at this bootlegger's hotel—he stayed there Wednesday and left Thursday afternoon at 1:35.

Q.—Did you say you thought his purpose was——? A.—To show these fellows they did not have to come, I guess.

Price of Chicago Murder $30?

Q.—What did they tell you Roberts had said to them? A.—Just about Attorney Walker?

Q.—What did they say about that? A.—That he had a great reputation as a cross examiner, was merciless, and would rip them up one way and down another, and the newspapers would kodak them, and that he was liable to get "slugged"; that they killed people in Chicago for $50; yes, for $30—that they were "buffaloed" right, and there was no getting away from that; somebody did it.

SENATOR CANADAY—I want to know who was going to do that slugging. Was some newspaper going to do that? Did he accuse some newspaper of slugging for $50? A.—You're getting personal.

Q.—I would like to know. A.—No, sir; there was nothing mentioned at all.

Given "Certificate of Salesmanship."

SENATOR LANDEE—Did he give any reason why he would not testify for the subcommittee that went to Ottumwa? A.—They just thought it was not very fair. They said Barr was a good fellow. You see the town has been dry since July a year ago, and Klein runs a saloon in Second avenue, across the hill from the Courier office, and Barr used to make that his headquarters and used to spend $20 to $40 a day. These fellows—the three of them—have certificates of salesmanship showing that they were truly authorized agents for just such a contingency as this.

THE CHAIRMAN—From whom? A.—From the Empire Voting Machine company.

THE CHAIRMAN—They were not afraid of being "slugged" in Ottumwa if they testified, were they? A.—No, sir; they were not afraid, but they thought this was a Chicago committee and Barr was a good fellow and they were not going to get Barr into trouble.

Butts Asks of Money Offer.

THE CHAIRMAN—The chairman was named in this affidavit of Marriott's, and for that reason I would like to ask, while you were in Ottumwa interviewing Pickler, Arrison, and Gray did any of these men say that they were offered any more than $1,000 and their expenses? A.—No, sir, they did not say anything about any big sum, but paying their expenses, and I told them we would pay their expenses still if they would come.

THE CHAIRMAN—Did Mr. Duke say anything to you about whether he had been threatened in his office at any time? A.—Yes, he said Marriott threatened him.

Q.—What did he say to him? A.—George Klein introduced Marriott to Duke, and, as Duke explained to me, Marriott sat down on the opposite side of the table and said, "Now you told So-and-So, so-and-so," and Duke said, "I don't allow anybody to talk that way to me," and Marriott said, "You will be disbarred," and Duke said, "I don't allow anybody to talk that way to me." I have a witness for this also, and seeing Klein going in and introducing him, and then Marriott ran out the door with What's-His-Name after him, and when he got out of the door he stuck his face back and said, "I am going to have you disbarred, anyhow."

Marriott Agent of Lawrence.

Q.—Whom did Marriott say he represented? A.—Marriott said he was there as the personal representative of Mr. Lawrence; was not getting anything for publication, but just wanted to get the true inside facts, for personal information and not for publication.

SENATOR LANDEE—You were sent there by THE TRIBUNE, weren't you? A.—O, yes; my expenses were paid by THE TRIBUNE, I was sent there to see why they involved Mr. Keeley's name, and found there was no foundation for it.

MR. CZARNECKI—Did you see Mr. Walsh? A.—I did. He told me Marriott was not responsible; that Marriott was drunk, for he said Marriott broke into a little party his wife was giving that night at home, and it was embarrassing.

Lawyers in Lengthy Debate.

Edward E. Marriott was then called to the stand by the chairman, who asked Attorney Walker if he desired to have Marriott sworn in view of the fact that "you made the request that he go on the stand."

The chairman's question started a lengthy debate between the attorneys regarding the admission last week of the Duke and Marriott affidavits.

Attorney Walker admitted he originally offered the Marriott affidavit "in order to prevent the other affidavit (Duke's) from going into evidence." He said he opposed the admission of both affidavits because they were based on hearsay.

MR. DENEEN—May I ask how you thought it would prevent the other from going into evidence?

MR. WALKER—I had an idea when this committee received word that Marriott stated that these men told him certain things they would see the error of admitting unsigned, garbled evidence.

Effort at Silence?

THE CHAIRMAN—Yours was not for the purpose of crowding the other fellow out?

MR. WALKER—No, sir, my attempt was to show this committee that hearsay, that when John Smith says to John Jones that some one told him something that that is not evidence anyway.

THE CHAIRMAN—It was not intended then to secure mutual silence?

MR. WALKER—It was introduced to prohibit a procedure that would permit the attack, if you please.

MR. DENEEN—You made the statement at Ottumwa that if Mr. Duke's statement was admitted you had some evidence of a serious character against the committee and its attorney that you would introduce; that you had witnesses there. Was it Mr. Marriott you referred to?

MR. WALKER—If I did that, it was Marriott.

Walker Not Marriott's Lawyer?

MR. DENEEN—Well, Mr. Chairman, does Mr. Walker intend to examine Mr. Marriott?

MR. WALKER—I am not going to examine Mr. Marriott at all.

THE CHAIRMAN—Shall you undertake to cross examine him?

MR. WALKER—I don't know.

MR. DENEEN—Do you represent him?

MR. WALKER—I don't represent him.

MR. DENEEN—Does Mr. Mitchell intend to ask him any questions.

MR. MITCHELL—I don't desire to ask Mr. Marriott any questions.

MR. DENEEN—Do you, judge?

MR. McEWEN—Not one.

MR. MITCHELL—I think this whole thing is scandalous, asking Tom what Dick said, and what Dick said to Harry, and what Harry said to Dick.

MR. MARRIOTT—May I make a statement, Mr. Chairman?

MR. DENEEN—I will examine the witness for the committee.

THE CHAIRMAN—Counsel will examine the witness.

Marriott Is Questioned.

Marriott testified he is a reporter on the Chicago Examiner. Attorney Deneen carried him directly back over his past vocations. Marriott's testimony was that he had been in Chicago for three and one-half years, and before that on the Philadelphia Record, the Philadelphia North American, the New York Journal, the New York World, and prior to that with the Consolidated Gas company of New York as a stenographer.

Marriott denied categorically and flatly these questions from Attorney Deneen:

Were you arrested in Philadelphia and committed to prison while connected with the Philadelphia Record?

Did you know a Lieut. Adams of the Philadelphia police department at that time?

Do you know anything about the "Betsy Ross Flag House association" in connection with that arrest?

Were you discharged from the New York Journal charged with padding the pay rolls, and did you flee to Hoboken, N. J., to avoid arrest, and were your household goods seized in Hoboken by the representatives of the Journal?

Were you in trouble with the Journal because of the charge that you diverted free theater tickets which had come to that paper?

"Pure Fiction," He Says.

To each of these questions Marriott replied that they were founded on "pure fiction." He said he had heard of the "Betsy Ross Flag House association," but he had nothing to do with it, and he said he did not know that there had been trouble over the sale of certificates of membership to the association for 10 cents each. He said he had lived in Hoboken, but his household goods never had been seized. He denied in toto each question put to him by Mr. Deneen.

Attorney Deneen then carried him through the items made in the Marriott affidavit. The witness stood pat, and swore the statements reported by him in the affidavit had been made to him by the specified Ottumwa men.

Marriott testified he had gone to Ottumwa on Aug. 8, was there on Aug. 9, had returned to Chicago on Aug. 10, had gone back to Ottumwa on Aug. 11, accompanied by Attorney Francis Walker, and was there on Aug. 11 and Aug. 12.

Repeats Alleged Conversation.

He testified he saw former State Senator Moon in the latter's office and that Mr. Moon had told him that Arrison, Gray, and Pickler had repeated to him [Moon] Barr's alleged assertion that "big money" had been used in getting the voting machine contract in Chicago.

He swore Moon had told him that Barr had said in Moon's office, in the presence of Moon and of Moon's law partner, Gilmore, that "the big mistake he had made was not to give $50,000 to Jim Keeley, publisher of THE TRIBUNE." This latter statement Marriott repeated into the record six times during his examination.

Allegations Not "First Hand."

Marriott testified that Arrison and Pickler had not told to him first hand any of the allegations made in his affidavit regarding THE TRIBUNE or Mr. Keeley, but he did testify that John W. Gray had told him in his [Marriott's] room, in the Ballingall hotel in Ottumwa, in the presence of Attorney Francis W. Walker, that Barr had made the statement that trouble for the Empire company would have been obviated "if THE TRIBUNE had not started trouble when we refused Keeley's demand for $50,000."

Marriott testified he had had the conversation with Charles A. Walsh, reported by him in the affidavit, and that Walsh had told to him the assertions credited to Walsh in the document.

Who Sent Him to Ottumwa?

Marriott swore he went to Ottumwa as a representative of the Chicago Examiner and not of Andrew M. Lawrence. Under questions from Attorney Deneen, Marriott testified he had not written a "story" of what he had found; that he had made no attempt to verify or check up any of the statements which had been made to him, and that he had not investigated further than to inquire of the men involved in the statement of Duke what they knew of the matter.

Marriott denied he had attempted to keep any of the Ottumwa men from testifying before the Butts committee, or had offered any of them any money as payment for anything in connection with the matter.

Denies Threat on Duke.

His explanation of his visit to the office of Attorney Duke was that he had called there in a routine way; that he had told Duke that Duke's clients were saying one thing to him and that Duke was saying another, and he wanted to get at the facts. He denied Duke had thrown him out of the office, and swore that he [Marriott] had not threatened to have Duke disbarred.

Marriott was questioned closely by Attorney Deneen respecting the assertions in the Marriott affidavit that Chairman Butts and Attorney Deneen had "big money" of their own, attempting to obtain evidence from the Ottumwa men which "would bolster up the Duke statement and drive Andy Lawrence out of Chicago."

Stands By Statement.

Marriott insisted that such statements had been made to him by Moon, Arrison, and Gray. He said he was told by Gray that $1,000 had been put in the National Bank of the Republic—whether in Chicago or some other city he did not know and did not investigate—that Butts and Deneen had put up this money and had offered $1,000 more and expenses for the Ottumwa men if they would produce the corroboration for the Duke statement. He said he did not investigate the truth of this further than the statements which had been made, to which he said Attorney Walker had been a witness.

Marriott was on the stand undergoing examination from Mr. Deneen when the committee adjourned for the day. He will resume his testimony this morning.

OWEN PICKS FLAW IN CURRENCY BILL

Chairman of Senate Committee Objects to Reserve Banks Feature.

DOUBTS GETTING CAPITAL

Attitude Causes Democrats to Fear Legislation Will Be Delayed.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Senator Owen kicked over the traces on the question of currency legislation today and thereby threw a scare into the ranks of the Democratic leaders, who want to put the administration measure through congress at this session.

At a conference of the Democratic members of the senate banking and currency committee, of which he is chairman, Senator Owen asserted he favors immediate legislation, but expressed considerable dissatisfaction with the bill now pending in the caucus of house Democrats.

He practically disavowed any part in the authorship of the bill, which was introduced in the senate under his name.

The principal objection to the bill specified by Senator Owen is the provision that national banks shall be required to contribute from their own capital the capital of the federal reserve banks. The assessment for this purpose is 20 per cent of the capital of each national bank—10 per cent paid up and 10 per cent subject to call.

Doubts Power Over Banks.

The senator expressed doubt that the national banks under the law can be compelled to make this contribution. If the banks are allowed to make it voluntarily they will not do so, the senator opined, unless they are permitted to control the banking system.

Mr. Owen suggested it might be wiser to lodge the ownership of the reserve banks in the people by general stock subscription or in government. The result would be, it was pointed out, that the reserve banks would deal directly with the people and would compete with the national banks for commercial business to the transaction of which the reserve banks would be limited.

All of the Democratic members of the committee, except Senator O'Gorman, were present. They were hardly prepared for the announcement made by the chairman. Mr. Owen told them it is his intention to hold daily meetings of the Democratic members of the committee, beginning tomorrow, and to work patiently at the task of framing a currency measure.

Owen Stand Causes a Scare.

Shortly after the committee disbanded the information spread among senators that there had been a sensational turn in the situation relating to the currency legislation. Democratic members of the committee, other than the chairman, expressed the opinion that the attitude taken by the chairman had destroyed the last chance of general legislation at this session of congress. Chairman Owen, however, did not adopt this view.

"There is going to be general currency legislation at this session of congress," he said. "We are going to stay here until we revise the currency laws, because it is an important and necessary work.

"I announced nothing new or startling as to my attitude. When I presented the currency bill in the senate I stated that it was a tentative draft, which was to form the basis for working out a bill to relieve the situation."

SEVEN DROWN IN MISSISSIPPI; SQUALL OVERTURNS STEAMER.

Captain Hurled Seventy-five Feet When Hull of Government Vessel Parts, but Life Is Saved.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 19.—Seven persons were drowned this evening, when the government steamer Henry Bosse was overturned in a heavy wind storm in the middle of the twenty foot channel in the Mississippi river here.

Seven other persons, including Capt. Gus Seifert, escaped.

The Henry Bosse was being used in building a wing dam in the river, and had started for shore when the squall caught it without warning.

Capt. Seifert was at the wheel, and he was thrown seventy-five feet when the cabin parted from the hull. He was badly injured, but was picked up clinging to parts of the wreckage.

The others who escaped swam from under the steamer and held to parts of the wreckage until boats put out from shore.

HILL SLIDE OF DYNAMITE CAR KILLS 100; HURTS MANY MORE.

Mexico City Shakes at Blast Which Demolishes Houses for Miles Around—No Americans Injured?

Mexico City, Aug. 19.—It is estimated that nearly 100 persons were killed and almost as many injured early this morning when a car loaded with dynamite ran wild down the hill from the powder works at Santa Fé, jumped the track, and dashed into a trolley pole in the suburb of Tacubaya and exploded.

The earth for miles around trembled and great damage was done to property. Within a radius of 500 feet from the scene of the explosion every house was demolished, while farther away in the village and in the adjoining town of San Pedro many fine residences were badly damaged and their interior furnishings ruined.

Numerous Americans and other foreigners reside in Tacubaya and San Pedro, but none of them is reported to have been injured.

Late this afternoon more than fifty bodies had been dug from the ruins.

MOTHERS BESIEGE ORPHAN TOMMY

Forcibly Demand Nameless Baby at Police Station and St. Vincent's Asylum.

RED TAPE FAILS TO YIELD.

Parentless Child Settles Down to Bottle at Peace with Stormy World.

Tommy, the nameless orphan left at the Cottage Grove avenue police station on Monday, yesterday came near having a surfeit of mothers. Many applied for him.

Two south side women tried to see Tommy at the St. Vincent Orphan asylum, where he was taken from the police station, and both were determined to gain possession of him for adoption. But they were unable to break through the red tape which holds infant orphans to the asylum.

Go to Police Station.

Mrs. John J. Fenton of 1105 West Sixty-ninth street was the first to call. She read in THE TRIBUNE of Tommy's arrival, and hastened immediately to the Cottage Grove avenue police station. The wagon from the St. Vincent Infant asylum already was at the door. Mrs. Fenton asked to take the child before it was delivered to the asylum.

While she was pleading for the 3 months old boy, Mrs. Gertrude Osterman of 5113 Wentworth avenue entered the station, breathless but determined.

Lieut. Grady listened first to one and then to the other.

"I'm sorry I can't give you both one," he said, "but Tommy cannot be cut in two, and I think I will have to let the St. Vincent authorities decide the issue."

Holds Baby on Way to Asylum.

The two women looked deeply disappointed and Mrs. Fenton left abruptly for a street car to visit the asylum. Mrs. Osterman was afraid another rival might put in an appearance on the way to the asylum, so she asked permission to ride in the wagon with the baby. The request was granted and she held the child in her arms all the way to the north side of the river.

At the asylum it was learned many weeks necessarily would intervene before the authorities would permit the baby to be taken by any one for adoption.

All the babies on the top floor were calling loudly for lunch when Tommy was brought in and assigned to a crib. Surmising the cause of the general commotion he added his voice to the chorus. Nurse Agnes Sullivan brought him a bottle of water. He seized it in both chubby fists, took a deep pull at the rubber nipple, smiled, and the world was right again.

WILSON WINS IN SUGAR FIGHT

Senate Agrees to Program for Removal of All Tariff in 1916.

ENDS DUTCH STANDARD.

Upper House Accepts Bristow Amendment in Regard to Test.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—President Wilson's program for free sugar in 1916 won in the senate today when Democrats defeated all amendments to the sugar schedule. With all except Senators Ransdell and Thornton of Lousiana standing for the administration the Democrats defeated the Bristow amendment for a compromise duty, the Norris amendment against free sugar, and the Gallinger amendment against free maple sugar.

An amendment to abolish immediately the Dutch standard color test for sugar was adopted during the fight. It was proposed by Senator Bristow, Republican, and accepted by Senators Simmons and Williams, the Democratic managers of the bill. Under its provisions the Dutch standard, against which a consistent fight has been waged since 1909, will be abolished as soon as the tariff bill becomes law instead of next March, as the measure would otherwise have provided.

Victory by Close Vote.

Senator Bristow's amendment of a compromise duty would have established a gradual reduction in duty from the present tariff of $1.90 a hundred pounds until in six years the tariff would have been $1.27½. Under the Cuban treaty this would have established a 97 cent tariff on Cuban sugar, which constitutes the bulk of the imports into the United States.

A hard fight was made for the Bristow amendment, but when finally forced to a vote it was defeated, 39 to 34. But for the absence of Senators Works, Sterling, and Lippitt, Republicans, and Senator Poindexter, Progressive, the vote probably would have been 39 to 38.

This close margin did not alarm the Democratic leaders, however, for on a definite canvass of the entire membership they were certain of a majority.

A subsequent motion by Senator Gallinger to strike out the provision to make maple sugar and glucose free of duty in 1916 was beaten, 37 to 32.

Ends Help for Trusts.

The acceptance of Senator Bristow's Dutch standard amendment was greeted with applause on the Republican side. Senator Williams, Democrat, said he had expected to make a similar suggestion, so that the abolishment of the Dutch standard, which is held to be a strong discrimination in the interest of sugar refiners, would not be delayed until March, 1914, when the rest of the sugar tariff becomes effective.

You Can't Write With Air

If you have a "Swan Self Filler" you do not have to make a provoking and unsuccessful attempt to write. Self-filling pens operating with one compression of a rubber sack leave the impression that the pen is full. An emergency, when your need is greatest, discloses that the pen had in it part ink and part air, and that the ink part had been used up.

"SWAN" Self-Fillers

fill full with 5 squeezes of a rubber bulb—no air—all ink. "The Little Windows" show you that your pen is filling and warn you when your ink supply is running low. They are the "Little Signals" that prevent you from having an empty pen in an emergency. They are unbreakable.

"Little Windows" keep you informed just how much ink is in the pen.

5 Squeezes—5 Seconds A FULL PEN

Unscrew cap, dip point in ink, squeeze bulb and pen is full. There are no protuberances on the holder. It is symmetrical and beautifully balanced. The Self-Filler has all the merits of the other styles of "Swans"—"double feed"—Mabie, Todd & Co.'s gold pen (famous for 70 years)—strong guarantee, etc.

Get one from your dealer. Prices from $2.50, with "Little Windows" $3.00. Write for illustrated folder.

TALES FROM OTTUMWA.

Interesting and illuminating is the report brought back from Ottumwa, Ia., by Charles Gotthart, as related by him to the Butts committee yesterday. In its light the continued refusal of the Ottumwa "brokers" to appear before the committee in Chicago, their disposition to remain in enjoyment of the social opportunities of Ottumwa, the notable assistance given them in the development of those opportunities by visitors, distinguished and indistinguishable, becomes quite easy to understand.

Tales from Ottumwa make a luminous chapter of the voting machine mystery, casting considerable light through the haze.

DEAR LOST LADIES.

The Hon. Benjamin Tillman has reached the years of mature wisdom which permit him to stand aloof and view with philosophy the headlong rush of a newer generation into follies and down the slope which in the end tumbles the foolish over the brink and into the valley of dead men's bones.

Thus Benjamin, a major prophet, observing our womanhood madly chasing the ballot and here and there catching up with it, writes "finish" to the history of our civilization and steps aside to let the generation run by him into the abyss.

For Benjamin there remain only memories of gracious creatures once delighting and ennobling the gross animal man, giving the monster ideals and nobility, passing through life with queenly grace, surrounded by the perfumes of good works. These queenly, gracious ladies fade out of Benjamin's vision and are no more. The ballot has them. Benjamin sees them standing in front of the corner saloon, waiting for some politician to come along and buy a drink.

Alas, the days of beauty and modesty are gone, but Benjamin, coming himself to where the shadow of his days is long, is philosophical. After all, he lived in better times.

EUGENICS.

Dr. William Bateson of Cambridge, speaking at the medical congress in London the other day, expressed a negative opinion as to the feasibility of the proposed eugenic marriage. He declared that nothing could be deduced from physical characteristics in such a union concerning mental capabilities or artistic genius, and he feared that only trouble would ensue when physical traits alone were concerned, for many of the most serious diseases are not hereditary.

In the meanwhile the eugenic laws passed by the legislatures of Pennsylvania and New Jersey are not working out as well as their sponsors hoped they would. A list of twenty questions, more or less, must be answered by applicants to the marriage license clerk. Many of those questioned have the alternative of committing perjury or being refused permission to marry. The publicity repels them, and the questions, even where they can be answered in the negative, affront them.

In Wisconsin the physician's certificate removes some of these objections, but the whole eugenic theory is, apparently, something for which the public is not quite ready. There must be more widespread education of the people on the subject, and form and object of the test will have to be modified before there is any general acceptance of it.

HIS FIRST JOB.

In the small town, long before the boy graduates from the public school, his father has the boy's career mapped out for him. There usually are not over half a dozen occupations to choose from. The father knows the man with whom he wants his son to find work. Or else he knows some one who is working for that particular man or that particular firm. It is easy for the father to act as the guide and adviser of his son in the matter of choosing his life work.

No such ideal relationship between the boy's father and the boy's job exists in the big city. There are a thousand and one jobs a boy may look for in Chicago. The boy's father, working in a factory or on the street, knows absolutely nothing about these jobs. Some of them may lead to a career. Many others lead nowhere. For a boy to take such a job leading nowhere means to waste a number of years. This may lead to his ruin for life.

The child of the city needs to be guided into his first job far more than the child in the country. But the city parent is seldom in a condition to give his son or daughter the proper vocation guidance. None but experts familiar with the city's industries, with the opportunities or lack of opportunities in each, can do that.

Vocational guidance for children is the cry of the cities today. In Chicago this cry is answered by a small bureau which is supported entirely by private philanthropy. The vocation bureau presided over by Miss Anna Davis, described in THE TRIBUNE a few days ago, and aided greatly by the Association of Commerce and other private agencies, has the sympathy of the board of education. But that is not enough.

The board of education should not merely sympathize with vocational guidance work. It should make it a part of its business. It should be the duty of the board of education not merely to see children through school, but, as much as possible, to see each child enter upon his life work. The necessary appropriation by the board of education for such a department cannot come too soon.

PETER'S JOKE.

We in Chicago have the courage of our humor and just now the joke is Peter's. Rugged, honest old Peter Bartzen, the jolly old soul, shaking his ambrosial locks and in his heroic boots with laughter which presses his full winded lungs against his ribs and comes forth in guffaws to rattle the nineteen story windows of business blocks and knock the coping off the county building.

It's such a joke as might have made rugged, honest old Vulcan lie down in his smithy and kick the anvil over in his humorous convulsions; it might have been as amusing to honest old Jupiter as Hebe slipping on a bit of polished Olympian floor and dousing herself with the Jovian nectar; it might even have coaxed a grin to the grim face of honest old Oliver Cromwell and have made the thin lips of merry Louis the Eleventh curl a bit.

Honest old Peter, rugged old Peter, whose heart is as big as his feet, and whose love of all mankind warms the poor in winter and gives them ice cream sodas in summer, who built the pretty façade on the county hospital and didn't leave enough money to do even the interior plastering, who booms like a bullfrog in the puddle of his honest self esteem—honest, rugged old Peter has his joke.

Peter won't permit the appropriation of money to investigate the county election of 1912 because the grand jury which is doing the work, without an appropriation, has indicted men for frauds committed in favor of honest, rugged old Peter.

They're asking Peter to let an appropriation go through to pay for these discoveries. That's another joke in this humorous town. And Peter won't let it go through. That's the still bigger joke, and it's all Peter's.

They might have bigger ones in Brobdingnag, but we doubt it.

"THERE CAN BE NO WAR."

The peace of the pacifist passes the understanding. His serene chant: "There can be no war" is the first sound to be submerged in the din of conflict and the first to emerge therefrom. Like the cricket in the fence corner and the locust in the tree he is drowned out only by the thunderstorm.

In twenty-five years only two powers have not been in war. One is the best prepared of all nations for war; the other is stagnant.

"There can be no war"—let the irrational pacifist link arms with the loud mouthed crier of alarms and let both go as twin evils disturbing the security of nations. "There can be no war"—with every month in the year 1913 smelling of gunpowder, with every responsible statesman in every important nation getting gray hairs in anxious efforts to avoid catastrophe; with our own nation straining its patience and using its uttermost good nature and sanity to keep its difficulties within the powers of diplomacy—"there can be no war."

"I challenge the doctrine now being taught," says Mr. Bryan, "that we must enter into a mad rivalry with the old world in the building of battleships—the doctrine that the only way to preserve peace is to get ready for wars that ought never to come. It is barbarous, brutal, un-Christian doctrine, the doctrine of darkness, not the doctrine of dawn."

A true "no navy" Jeffersonian, prepared to put shingles over the fleet and take the consequences. Admirable as Mr. Bryan is in the practical work he does for the extension of peace agreements, he is dangerous in his sublime denial that peaceful adjustment of international difficulties always has its alternative.

Mr. Bryan in this aspect will keep no wars from our doors, but his influence goes to keep us from being prepared for one forced upon us.

RECENT events give rise to the suspicion that a lot more of the Thaw money has been put in circulation.

THE opposition water carnival the weather man has been holding in Chicago would have scored a decided hit if it had been pulled off a few hundred miles farther west.

IN a comprehensive report concerning the country's apple crop the esteemed Packer digresses a moment to remark that in Missouri the Ben Davis crop will be "very light." Well, that is where the Ben Davises chiefly come from. Cheer up!

VOLIVA is credited with declaring that the drought in Kansas was inflicted upon that state as a judgment because of the shortcomings of its preachers. He must have a high opinion of the Lord's sense of justice.

YOU will please not blame the Hon. Ben Tillman when the country goes to ruin in consequence of woman suffrage. He has bellowed forth a solemn warning of the coming calamity.

IN A MINOR KEY.

At the Boarding House.

"You may not know it, Mr. McGinnis, but I have to pay a good deal more for beefsteak than I used to pay."

"No, I didn't know it, Mr. Irons, but I've suspected it ever since you began to give us chuck steak for porterhouse."

Prejudice?

"Doesn't it seem to you that these excursion trips are more carefully planned this summer than they usually are?"

"Yes, yes! The planning is a marvel of skill—no matter how much money you take along, you get back home with just 15 cents."

Muffled Knocks.

"Certainly, Brinkwell, my dear fellow; you might just as well take a month's vacation as not. It won't make a particle of difference in the business."

"Mr. Scorjel, your eyes don't need any professional treatment. I shall merely recommend that you wash them in water—just plain, clear water—at least once a day, when you are giving your face its regular ablution."

"Mrs. Fribbles, some of the neighbors say your Bobby is overbearing and quarrelsome, but I don't mind his playing with my Tommy all he wants to; Tommy is bigger than he is."

COUNTRY BABY DEATH RATE.

COUNTRY babies are not getting a square deal. The city babies are being safeguarded, and they are healthier in consequence. The census bulletin for 1911 shows that every large city is taking better care of its babies than of yore.

The decrease in the death rate is about 50 per cent in New York, Atlanta, and Los Angeles. The average was around 30 per cent.

The only cities showing an apparent increase were Minneapolis, St. Paul, Syracuse, Rochester, and Portland, and, in them, the apparent falling back is due to a change in the method of recording.

In the few states where registration is almost what it should be, the decrease in baby death rate averaged 19 per cent. Michigan made the worst showing with a gain of 8 per cent. After allowance is made for the gain in the larger cities, 16 per cent in Detroit, the figures show that the rural districts lost.

As the good things are being passed around, the city baby empties the platter, and the country baby gets none. Why is this? The mother in the country knows that her baby is safer than the city baby. Therefore she says, "My baby is as safe as it can be." Of course she is wrong.

In the first place, there is not much difference any more between the safety of the city and country babies. There are a dozen cities in America where babies are safer than in rural Illinois, Michigan, or Iowa. In the second place, the country baby could be twice as safe as he is.

I have before me an excellent "save the babies" bulletin, issued by the Iowa board of health.

The country baby can always get milk fresh from the cow. There is no reason why milk more than ten hours from the cow should ever be given. As the cow is close at hand, the mother can always see that things are clean.

On the other hand, flies are more abundant in the country. Doctors and nurses being harder to get, there is a greater chance that a mild diarrhœa will be not attended to.

Baby, in living in the country, has disadvantages as well as advantages. The disadvantages are not so great as the advantages, and they can be surmounted. The mother of the country baby can learn from simple pamphlets such as this bulletin, from simple books such as Holt's, Kilmer's, or Newton's, how to surmount these difficulties.

It would be easily possible to cut the present rural baby death rate in half. The first need is that the mothers become dissatisfied with the policy of "let well enough alone." The second need is that the information "how to do" be carried to the country homes.

For instance, the state board should be able to put a bulletin for every mother in the county in the hands of the county health officer, and he should have the means of putting her copy in the hands of each mother.

If that cannot be done, the next best thing is for each county health officer to persuade each paper in the county to run the bulletin as suggested by Dr. Sumner. It is good copy.

SOMETHING ELSE CAUSED DEATH.

L. A. writes: Some time ago I went to see a friend of mine with my 18 months old baby, and afterwards found out there had been scarlet fever in the house some time previous. The child that had been sick with scarlet fever was, at the time I visited the house, sick with kidney trouble brought on by scarlet fever. I do not think the house was fumigated at all. About three weeks after I visited there my baby took sick with scarlet fever and after three days' illness he died. I did all I could and immediately called the doctor, but it seems nothing could be done. I am distracted beyond words. Will you be kind enough to let me know if you think the sickness came upon my baby by itself or after the three weeks I visited the house? Don't fail to set my heart at ease by answering as soon as you can. I cannot find rest or peace, thinking that I might have lost my baby through my fault. Please do not overlook this letter.

REPLY.

If three weeks passed between your visit and the time when your child became sick, the infection was not contracted at that visit. Scarlet fever appears after a shorter interval than that.

EASY OPERATION FOR MEN.

H. W. writes: "Will you explain something of the nature of the sterilization process sometimes employed and used upon male and female convicts and the insane?"

REPLY.

The operation on the male is very simple, easily done, and free from danger. It consists in tying off a small duct. It is not very much more than a deep skin cut and can be done under a local anesthetic. In the female it consists in tying off a small duct, but an incision into the abdominal cavity is required. The operation, therefore, is more dangerous and less easily done on the female than on the male.

WORK IN MODERATION.

Mrs. A. F. writes that seventeen months ago her appendix and a portion of her ovaries were removed. Since that time she has menstruated only twice. She is nervous, dizzy, weak; has flushings and throbbings, has pains in many different parts of the body. She is 28 years of age, has five children, and must work to care for her family and her large flat. She wants to know if she is having change of life and if she should stop work. Her physician is out of town.

REPLY.

I feel quite certain that your ovaries were removed and that you are now passing through change of life. At this period certain symptoms have not the same significance as later on. Ovarian extract sometimes helps to tide one over the period. The period is self-limited and in time the uncomfortable sensations cease.

A moderate amount of work is much better for you than idleness. Excessive work will do you more harm than at other periods of your life.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

GRAND DUKE ALEXANDER MICHAILOVITCH, who arrived in New York a few days ago under the strictest incognito, and is now staying with Barclay Warburton at his country place in the neighborhood of Philadelphia, is the only member of the reigning house of Romanoff who can boast of having dabbled in journalism.

He owned and himself edited for years a monthly publication at St. Petersburg entitled "The Sea and Its Life," in which he devoted considerable space to the propagation of his ideas on naval matters, which are of an advanced character.

They are views which constantly brought him into conflict with his cousin, the late Grand Duke Alexis, who, as grand admiral of the imperial navy and its ranking officer until the war with Japan in 1904, repeatedly complained to the czar, though without obtaining any satisfaction.

Nor was there ever any attempt made by the authorities at St. Petersburg to interfere with the publication of Alexander Michailovitch's paper.

The grand duke, who talks English extremely well, is a warm admirer and friend of Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, U. S. N., and has not only translated all the latter's works into Russian, but has, by distributing them gratis in the most broadcast fashion, brought them within the reach of nearly every officer of the Russian navy.

This, too, excited the ill will of the late Grand Duke Alexis.

Finally the quarrels between the two became so acute that the czar, in order to put an end to it, relieved Alexander, who is his brother-in-law, of his active command in the navy, in which he holds the rank of vice admiral, and entrusted him with the creation of the department of maritime trade and commercial ports.

Under his direction works of improvement were initiated in all the ports, fresh docks and quays constructed, harbors dredged, and schools of commercial navigation, both for sailing masters and for seamen were established.

State encouragement was given to the organization of steamship lines and to shipbuilding.

The so-called volunteer fleet increased and, in a word, everything that one can imagine was done by the grand duke to develop Russia's maritime trade and prosperity.

Naturally the outbreak of the war with Japan played havoc for a time with all the grand duke's plans and projects in this connection, and, realizing this inevitable result of the conflict, he did all in his power to avert hostilities, in spite of all that has been written and printed to the contrary.

It is perfectly true that he is responsible for bringing Besobrasoff into close touch with the emperor, and for a time both of the two imperial brothers-in-law allowed themselves to be influenced by the advice of this former member of the "Holy Band." But when they realized, about Christmas, 1903, that instead of seconding their efforts in favor of peace, he was using his position as secretary of state and as director of the affairs in the extreme orient to promote a war with Japan, they turned their backs upon him.

All of Grand Duke Alexander's criticisms of the administration of the navy, criticisms which had brought him into conflict with Grand Duke Alexis, were verified in the war with Japan, and there is no doubt that if he had been allowed to have his way in inaugurating the many reforms which he advocated the Russian navy would have made a far better showing in the battle of Tsushima.

Grand Duke Alexander has once before visited America. He was a lieutenant on board one of the Russian warships which came to New York some twenty years ago to attend the Columbian celebration.

It was on his return that he married Grand Duchess Xenia, eldest sister of Emperor Nicholas. By this union he has seven children—a daughter, now 18 years of age, of the name of Irene, and six boys.

According to the statutes of the reigning house, reorganized by Alexander III., they do not inherit the grand ducal title, nor the predicate of imperial highness, which is enjoyed by their parents, but have to be content with the dignity of princess and princes of Russia and the prefix of highness.

Grand Duchess Xenia and her children spend much of their time in England, at Biarritz, and on the Riviera.

The grand duke is a younger brother of George, married to the only surviving sister of King Constantine of Greece, and of Grand Duke Michael, who makes his headquarters in England, and who is married morganatically to Countess Torby.

As a brother of the widowed Grand Duchess Anastasia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, he is an uncle of the Crown Prince of Germany.

His father was that universally beloved old Grand Duke Michael Nicholaievitch, who as viceroy at Tiflis, where Grand Duke Alexander was born, did so much to popularize Russian rule in the Caucasus.

His administration, indeed, was regarded as too kindly and too liberal by the advisers of his nephew, Alexander III., and he was superseded by a governor general whose methods were such that a sanguinary insurrection ensued.

The present emperor entertained the most profound affection and reverence for his grand uncle, who was the patriarch of the reigning house of Russia at the time of his death at Cannes three years ago.

The old grand duke warmly supported the present czar in all his schemes for liberal reform. He made a point of being present at all the meetings of the council of the empire, held to discuss the granting of the constitution, fighting vigorously the opposition of some of the other and younger grand dukes.

At one of these sessions, when Alexander Narishkine, one of the principal dignitaries of the imperial court and a most influential member of the old nobility, put forward the plea that the aristocracy was "entitled to special prerogatives and privileges under the new constitution, in recognition of its services to the empire," the grand duke angrily interrupted him, and, in that loud and sonorous tone of voice which distinguished his utterances, exclaimed:

"If I had been in the place of Alexander Alexandrovitch I should not have ventured to speak of the services of the nobility to the empire. Where are the services?

"The nobles have bled the peasants to the marrow without giving them anything whatsoever in return, not even the slightest attempt to improve their condition or their education.

"The nobles have monopolized all well paid government offices, and, through their intolerable neglect, have brought confusion into every branch of the administration.

"The nobles were only to be found when there were any loaves and fishes to be distributed. They have done nothing whatsoever for the empire, and are mainly responsible for the present unfortunate and chaotic condition of affairs.

"It is perfect nonsense to talk of the services of the nobles to the empire."

While in America, Grand Duke Alexander, although incognito, will enjoy by virtue of the law of nations and of what is known as international comity, the same extraterritorial prerogatives as the foreign ambassadors in the United States.

Even were he to commit a crime here the authorities could do nothing beyond requesting him to leave the country.

I come into sat Chic-ago, oh beaucoup years ago—
(I no remember exactement) mais, néanmoins, you know.
Of course I read les journeaux, mol; eet is the thing for do.
The graft and murders interest, they make to shiver, too.
Well, anyway, je les lis—tous. THE TRIBUNE when I can.
Et aussi le Récord-hérald, Entre-Océan, L'Examin.
I like them all—parbleu, that's so—but most I like for see
That Ligne de Type, that funny col', that's signed just "B. L. T."

I read her most chaque jour, et Zit! Ma foi, mais elle est drôle.
Je ris, I laugh, I roar sometimes. Il faut my sides I hol'.
I think it cruel that B. L. T. he make me laugh so hard;
Sometimes I most forget to walk—that makes me en retard.
Not always je comprends, tu sais, mais généralement je lis
Avec beaucoup—beaucoup de plaisir—that so drôle B. L. T.

He say some things that are not—well, elles sont un peu risquées.
That is not nice for funny col'. Monsieur, it will not pay.
You get one réputation—et toutes les belles jeunes filles
They will not read that Ligne at all, then see how you will feel!
Mais moi, je la lis chaque jour. I find it très gentil.
I thank you for it from my heart, cher monsieur B. L. T. L'HABITANTE.

THAT female suffrage will purify politics is a beautiful dream, says Senator Tillman. Now, American women expect to accomplish a good deal, but they have no hope of purifying Ben Tillman.

"YOU can't touch pitch without being defiled," further deposes Mr. Tillman, who has been associated with the pitchfork as long as we can remember. This person appears to be destitute of a sense of humor.

RULES AT CITY BEACHES.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I desire to call attention to the prudish conditions that existed at Rocky Ridge bathing beach, Seventy-ninth street, Sunday afternoon. Women cannot watch their boys, and men cannot watch their daughters in the water, being told to "move on, you are on the wrong side," and a man and wife cannot sit together on the beach.

One incident—a man was asleep on the grass overlooking the beach, and the gardener brought the sprinkler, turned the water on without giving him warning. Some people thought it was funny, while others felt indignant.

The policeman was kept busy with petty orders, which made a number of people very miserable.

I would like to see the same privileges at Rocky Ridge as exist at Jackson and Lincoln park beaches, so that people can enjoy what belongs to them. E. A. W.

I wish to state that it has been the policy of the special park commission, since the bathing beaches were placed under its jurisdiction, to segregate the sex of the bathers while in the water, on the beach or in the bath house, because this policy has eliminated many objectionable features connected with bathing beaches where mixed bathing is permitted. There is always more or less immodest and even immoral actions on the part of the bathers where mixed bathing is permitted, and in order to maintain the high standard of discipline demanded by the public the special park commission would be compelled to employ additional supervision, which would increase the cost of operation, should mixed bathing be permitted.

It is true that many bathers prefer the mixed bathing, but we feel that the majority of the bathers using the city beaches prefer the present rule, and they patronize our beaches because of the absence of conspicuous posers, sand bathers, and those who care more to fool around and play all sorts of practical jokes rather than swim.

The segregation rule was intended only to apply to bathers and not to spectators, and if the authorities in charge have not permitted men and women onlookers to sit together they have misconstrued the rule. This matter will be investigated at once, for we see no objection of having spectators mingle.

The commission is ready and willing at any time to receive and consider valid criticism or suggestions, but we do not feel that the segregation policy adopted by the commission should be abandoned unless there is greater demand manifested than has been thus far. THEO. A. GROSS,
Supt. of Playgrounds and Bathing Beaches.
Approved: A. W. BEILFUSS, Chairman.

CANNOT NOW SUPPLY GAS.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly ascertain whether the Peoples Gas company, upon the completion of their large new plant, just north and west of Fortieth avenue and Fullerton, will be in position to supply the territory west of Sixty-fourth avenue, between North avenue and Diversey. This is a large territory, fast building up, and at present no gas service whatever. Preparation is now being made to pave several residence streets in the district, and it would seem that the gas pipes should be in before the work is started. MONT CLARE.

To extend our main on Grand avenue and Fullerton avenue from Fifty-eighth avenue to Seventy-second avenue, then on Seventy-first avenue from Diversey avenue to Armitage avenue, then on Dunning street from Seventy-first avenue to Seventy-first court, then on Seventy-first court from Dunning street to Diversey avenue, and on Montclare avenue from Dunning street to Diversey avenue, then on Seventieth avenue from Armitage avenue to Diversey avenue, and on Sixty-ninth avenue from Grand avenue to Wrightwood avenue would require at least 265 guaranteed consumers before we would be warranted in making this extension. If the main was extended on other streets it requires one consumer for each 100 feet of main required to reach the given point. At the present time the conditions in this territory would not warrant the undertaking.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—[1] If A buys a lot of B and issues notes for the entire amount of principal and interest and makes payments and otherwise lives up to his part of said contract, but does not have contract recorded, can B self or transfer this property to another party without the consent of A? [2] Can this clause be made to hold good? [3] In case B would not indorse to have recorded what can A do to make himself safe? [4] Is there any way in which A could recover the money paid in in case B would not consent to recording contract? J. R. M.

1. B can sell to another, but he will, of course, be liable to A for damages if he does so.
2. Yes, this clause is probably good.
3. A can hold B as in 1.
4. A's best remedy is to obtain B's consent to the recording of the contract. In any event, A has nothing to fear if B is financially responsible.

BULGARIA'S PLIGHT.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—With the signing of the treaty of Bucharest, Bulgaria is deprived of the fruits of her recent victories against Turkey. Influenced by the accusations of her recent allies, Bulgaria has been blamed for this second war. The future historians, however, in fixing the blame for the war, will ascribe it to the jealousy of her neighbors, who feared her power. The appeal of King Ferdinand to his soldiers expresses clearly the spirit of Bulgaria and her people. Exhausted from her war against Turkey, and beset by overwhelming odds, she had to give in, but she is neither defeated nor crushed, and sooner or later will get all her people together.

Greeks and Servians, not contented with the military humiliation of Bulgaria, have tried by spreading exaggerated and even false reports of atrocities, to deprive her of her good name and the respect of the civilized world. Those who know the political ambitions of these two nations will not be surprised at these reports, and will not give them any credence. That all the world may see that these reports are base calumnies will be the aim of every Bulgarian, and for this we will fight till the name of Bulgaria is cleared before the world.

SELL THE PHILIPPINES?

Watertown, Wis., Aug. 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The writer has thought for some time that it might be a good thing, for the United States at least, if we could sell the Philippines to Japan, say, for $40,000,000—enough to reimburse Uncle Sam for what this government has done for those islands. The job of "benevolent assimilation" seems beyond reasonable demands. If, however, such a move would mean perpetual slavery to those tribes then our present policy would better continue. GEORGE W. HOOTMAN.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR CURRENCY?

Chicago, Aug. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Everybody's Magazine declares that "it is commonly admitted that this country has the worst banking system in the world" and that "almost every one—banker, economist, business man, and laborer—knows it or feels it." Coincident with this THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE defines the American banking system as "the most defective currency system known to civilization" and the Record-Herald declares that the people voted for specific "currency reform" when they elected Wilson and Marshall. All this is most prodigious presumption. It isn't true that the average banker or economist or business man or laborer or professional man knows or feels that the banking system is either bad or defective or outrageous. And it is very easy to prove or disprove this affirmation.

What's wrong with our money system? How will the Glass-Owen bill benefit the common people if enacted? What is meant by "an elastic currency system"? Let the readers of THE TRIBUNE ask these questions, or similar questions, of the first dozen men of average intelligence they may chance to meet. If they do so they will discover that the cry for "currency reform" doesn't come from "the common people." And later they may discover that those most interested in reforming this generally bad system are not people particularly interested in the welfare of the common people.

If they get sufficiently in earnest they will discover that those most diligently working for "currency reform" are the "bankers and lenders," people who for selfish reasons hope and expect to retain the most "outrageous" features of the system and make them still more so. Let us have light on the money question from those who would like to see the exceedingly bad system improved for the benefit of "the common people." The "bankers and lenders" have had their innings. SCHOOL ENGINEER TEST PROTESTED

Men Examined for Chief Complain to City Civil Service Commission.

POSITION STILL VACANT.

Candidates Fail to Pass and Call Questions Submitted Unfair.

Public school engineers and others who took a civil service examination last winter for the position of chief engineer of the board of education have sent a protest to the city civil service commission against what they terms the "impractical" nature of the examination required for that job.

The engineers also propose to make a fight to test the right of the board of education to retain in the service a number of supervising engineers who have never taken the civil service examination required by law. The engineers have retained counsel.

As a result of the protest sent to the civil service commission an examination set for Aug. 21 was deferred two weeks and the engineers were notified that they will have a hearing after the commissioners return from their vacation.

Here Is the Protest.

The protest was signed by Thomas S. Deegan, engineer of the Foster school, who was one of the candidates at the last examination. It says:

"I have been employed by the Chicago board of education as engineer for the last eighteen years and recently took a civil service examination for the position of chief engineer.

"The examination in general was so unfair, both in character of the questions and indifference of the examiners in marking the papers, that I wish to protest same and ask that the examination be canceled and that a new and fairer examination be held in its place.

Says Practical Men Are Hurt.

"It would seem that the intention of the gentlemen who got up the questions as well as those who acted as examiners and markers, was to deprive practical stationary engineers of Chicago of their right to seek promotion to the higher positions in this city by requiring a knowledge of subjects taught only in technical colleges and beyond the ken of the average working engineer, who gains his knowledge by actual practice of years of school work."

The examination complained of was held during nine days beginning Jan. 22, 1913. It was finally narrowed down to eleven candidates.

One of them was an instructor of engineering at Lewis institute and another a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Not a single candidate passed.

The result is that the position of chief engineer of the board of education remains vacant and has been vacant more than three years.

Sixteen Year Old Messenger Loses Life in Four Feet of Water at Fox Lake.

Raymond Allen, a 16 year old messenger boy, was drowned in four feet of water at Fox lake yesterday. A canoe in which he and a companion were riding capsized.

Frank Vedraska and Allen were at Fox lake camping. They paddled out from shore a short distance, when persons at the Mineola hotel saw the canoe tip over. Allen never came up. Allen is a special delivery messenger boy and lived in Chicago.

"Cop" Who Seeks Cornfed Wife.

Policeman Charles Rhodes of Chicago is looking for a corn fed country girl who can be "city broke" without getting "city habits." He does not want a Chicago girl, he says, because they do not make good wives. He prefers a pretty girl, about 25 years old, but would take a plain one if she is a good companion. He has asked the city officials of Kenosha to help him.

MISSOURI DROUGHT BROKEN; PROPERTY LOSS IS GREAT.

Storm Abates Long Dry Spell, but at Enormous Cost—Lightning Fires Many St. Louis Houses.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 19.—A severe wind, thunder, and rain storm which swept over eastern and central Missouri this afternoon broke the long drought and abated the intense heat spell, but at a cost of four lives and perhaps hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage to property.

At Dexter, Mo., four men were killed by lightning. In St. Louis lightning set fire to thirteen houses in less than a half hour. More than three inches of rain was reported in some sections of the city after an hour's precipitation.

One man who was struck by lightning here became crazed and only the united efforts of six men could subdue him.

SLAIN ON BRIDGE WITH HELP NEAR

Realty Man Shot Dead at Indianapolis While Four Are in the Vicinity.

POLICE WITHOUT A CLEW.

Widow of Victim Unable to Throw Light on Mysterious Crime.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 19.—Frank Falk, a real estate man living at 315 East Nineteenth street, was murdered early today on the temporary bridge over White river at Washington avenue. His assailant escaped.

Falk's body was found by three transfer men who were assisting a circus load its cars after the night performance. Edward Akers, night watchman at the old West Washington street bridge, heard the shot, and was just going over to the temporary bridge to investigate when the transfer men shouted that a man's body was lying on the bridge.

Revolver in Pocket.

No one saw the man who fired the fatal shot flee, and the police are working without a tangible clew. A revolver with all the shells unexploded was found in the dead man's pocket, which precludes a possibility of suicide.

Mrs. Falk, who, with two daughters, survives the slain man, when informed of the tragedy was unable to throw any light on the murder. She said Falk left home at 7:30 o'clock in the evening and that she had heard nothing from him.

Wife Knows No Motive.

Mrs. Falk can offer no motive for the murder, or for her husband's presence in that part of the city after midnight, and knows of no enemies who may be suspected of the crime.

There were no appearances that Falk had been robbed, as his clothes did not seem to have been disturbed after he fell. His keys and papers were found in his pockets.

Widow to Be Arrested.

Green Bay, Wis., Aug. 19.—As a result of the findings of the coroner's jury, inquiring into the death of Otto Koehler, the Big Suamico farmer who was found dead in the field near his home about two weeks ago, Mrs. Minnie Koehler, the widow, will be charged with murder. The coroner's jury today returned a verdict to the effect that Koehler's death was not due to lightning, as maintained by the widow, but was due to violence. A warrant for her arrest has been issued.

SEES FRAUD BY TUNNEL FIRM

City Official Asserts Chicago Is Victimized by Company.

POINTS FREIGHT BUSINESS.

Contends Effort Is Made to Cheat Municipality Out of Share.

Formal charges that the Chicago Tunnel company is defrauding the city of compensation to which it is entitled were made yesterday by Acting Corporation Counsel Hornstein.

He made the attack in a written opinion to City Controller Traeger on the subject of the creation of the Chicago Warehouse and Terminal company by the tunnel company. The terminal corporation handles freight business that is turned over to the tunnel company at the rate of only 50 cents a ton. The city is entitled to 3 per cent of the tunnel earnings and Mr. Hornstein held a large part of those earnings is deflected to the terminal company.

Points to "Fraud."

"It is apparent," he said, "this company is perpetrating a fraud on its creator. It attempts to contract away an essential and dependent part of its function, and by so doing to cheat the city out of a substantial share of the consideration due the city for the franchise granted it.

"The audacity of the plan is manifest by a comparison of the payments made to the city for the years ending on Dec. 31, 1911, and on Dec. 31, 1912, the amount of same being $42,444.98 in the former year and $29,716.28 in the latter year.

Says Tunnel Firm Is Responsible.

"The fact the terminal company receives the money for the transportation of goods does not relieve the tunnel company from accounting to the city for all the money so received by said terminal company.

"All money received by said terminal company for receiving and handling goods at its terminals for transportation by said tunnel company must be included in making up the aggregate gross receipts to be used as a basis in computing the compensation."

MOOSERS REJECT UNION WITH G. O. P.

Speakers Tell Club Members Combination with Republicans Is Myth.

PARTY WILL KEEP GOING.

Not a Tory Hair in Woman's Head, Mrs. Antoinette Funk Declares.

Three speakers told members of the Progressive club last night that the new party never would return to the Republican fold, and were loudly applauded.

One of the orators, Dr. Clarence B. Strouse, a former Virginia Democrat, went even further and declared that "no living man, not even Theodore Roosevelt himself, could deliver 25 per cent of the Progressive party.

"We will crucify any man who attempts it," he said. "We can't be delivered, and never will be."

"Something should be done to serve notice on the city, state, and nation that the Progressive party is here to stay," said State Senator Walter Clyde Jones, in commending the field day, set for Aug. 30, at Riverview park. "The party was organized for a definite purpose, and neither the Democratic or Republican parties has shown any disposition to carry out the reforms we are pledged to. We are organized for humanitarianism.

Panic Only Hope of G. O. P.

"The only hope of the Republicans is that there will be a business panic which will cause the people to rush back to them. I have traveled quite a good deal recently, and I can assure you the people are in no fear of a panic. The Democratic party has proved that it is incapable of handling the big industrial trial combinations or the social problems that confront us. The Republicans tell us to join with them in putting the Democrats out of office. But I would rather see the Democrats hold all the political jobs for twenty years than have the Progressive party take one backward step."

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, one of the three suffrage lobbyists during the Springfield fight, asserted that no Progressives were talking of a return to the Republican party, and that the speakers' bureau was unable to supply enough orators to satisfy the downstate demand.

"All Women Progressive."

"All women are progressive and radical," said Mrs. Funk in discussing the political possibilities of suffrage. "There isn't a conservative hair in any woman's head."

The Borland Electric

A Dashing Looking Roadster

You business and professional men who want a handy, ever-ready car that will "get you there" in a jiffy! You women motor enthusiasts who want a "mannish" wheel steer car and yet do not wish to sacrifice the cleanliness and comfort of the electric!

Here is a speedy roadster that fills the bill exactly. Look at its clean-cut lines—the low-hung body, the sloping hood, the long wheel base—that indefinable "blue blooded" appearance.

At first glance, you would have taken this Borland Roadster for the latest thing in gas cars.

Yet it is more than that. For, besides its speed and great mileage capacity, it assures you freedom from noise, smoke, spattering oil, carburetor difficulties and all the other troubles complicated motor mechanism is heir to.

The Borland Roadster takes you through the busy whirl of downtown traffic without a jar, so pliant is its action. Out in the open it glides along swiftly, smoothly, and you realize to the utmost the luxury of the quiet ride.

Wheelbase, 96 inches; wheel steer, side lever control, mohair cape top, Klaxonet horn, batteries, Motz or Firestone cushion or special electric pneumatic tires, standard equipment. $2550.

You can tell better after you have had a ride in the roadster. Phone Calumet 3030 and a car will call for you at your convenience. No obligation whatever.

Watch Your Baby These Summer Days

Little Stomachs Get Out of Order Easily in Hot Weather.

During the hot months mothers should look very carefully to the condition of the bowels of babies and young children, and, for that matter, it is very important in the lives of people at all ages. Care should be taken that the water is pure, the milk wholesome and the fruit ripe (though not overripe), and that not too much of anything is eaten.

When trouble results it is usually in the form of constipation or of diarrhoea. If the child loses appetite, is fretful or languid, and complains of headache, you may look for constipation. Give it a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and by morning this pleasant laxative will have acted and the child will be its normal self again.

At the first sign of a summer cold also give Syrup Pepsin, as the cleaning out of the bowels will usually be sufficient to break the cold. Summer diarrhoea can be stopped in the same way by ridding the bowels of the poisons and germs that cause the trouble. This opinion of the value of Syrup Pepsin is shared by thousands of people like Mrs. Ella Denzel, 124 Nichols Ave., Stratford, Conn., who uses it successfully herself and gives it to her two little boys, and Mrs. C. C. Allen of New Monterey, Cal., who finds it in every particular just what she and her family need.

Avoid giving children cathartics, purgatives, pills or powders, as they are too harsh. Confine yourself to a gentle laxative-tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You can obtain it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 418 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ERICSSON BLAMES CITY CLUB CLAN

Building Commissioner Says Art Committee Has "Tied His Hands."

WRITES OF BILLBOARDS.

Replies to "Tribune" Editorial and Flails Persons Who Criticise Him.

Building Commissioner Henry Ericsson sent a letter to THE TRIBUNE yesterday setting forth his attitude toward the enforcement of the law regarding billboards. He reiterated his objections to the policy being pursued by the City club's municipal art committee and replied to a recent editorial in THE TRIBUNE.

"In answer to your article of the 16th inst.," Mr. Ericsson says, "I would like to state that if the municipal art committee of the City club had used a little more judgment in regard to the billboard situation our hands would not have been tied as they now are by court order; in other words, without the court order, we could enforce the ordinance on the billboard companies, but now we cannot.

Condemns Spirit of Criticism.

"You are criticising me for cooperating with the billboard companies in obeying the law. I take it as being my particular duty to cooperate with the citizens in obeying the law as much as possible, and your article does not convey the right spirit or meaning as it is written.

"I did prevail upon the billboard companies to make more artistic billboards, as you can see by looking at the billboards erected in the last few months. They have a green lattice work from the ground up to the under side of the board, with columns between the boards, and even the color effect is a great improvement on what it used to be a short time ago.

"You say that I am 'somnolent.' If you think so, you can come up and look me over. My record speaks for itself. I think I have done more to enforce the building code than you expected of me in the beginning, and although the present building ordinance is in many instances very severe on builders, not only on owners of billboards but of all other structures, I have been able to enforce it, and I have been criticised by many for the rigid enforcement of the building code.

"You also say we have been 'quiet' with our billboard permits until Mr. Eames MacVeagh and the City club committee woke us up. The City club and Mr. MacVeagh did not wake us up. They succeeded in tying our hands so that we cannot do anything.

"Before they started their 'waking process' we had things under control and enforced the ordinance, as Mr. Warfield of the City club stated in the building department last week when I asked him if he had discovered any deviations from the building code up to that time. He freely stated that the building department had taken action in every case before the City club appeared on the scene, and this fact was stated to the building commissioner, the secretary of the building department, and two citizens, so I take it that Mr. Warfield was telling the truth, as he appeared to be.

Statement Called Untruth.

"You say a mere clerk was checking up on frontage consents. This is not the truth. I considered the checking up of frontage consents to be of sufficient importance to delegate the secretary of the department, who is the chief of the clerks of the building department, to do this work, and instructed him to do all checking up, knowing him to be a very conscientious, faithful and efficient worker, and that he was fully conversant with the billboard ordinance, which an average clerk would not be.

"The City club thought so much of his efforts in connection with billboards that some time ago they invited him to speak to the members of the City club on that very subject, and he was complimented by several members of the City club on account of his watchfulness in the billboard matter.

More Men Needed?

"Before the council adjourned I asked for two additional men for the department, of which one was to be second deputy commissioner and to have general control of billboards, signboards, illuminated signs, places of amusement, halls, and so forth. This was in accordance with the recommendations of the City club that billboards should be under the supervision of a bureau head. However, this was not granted, and the next best thing is to have the secretary do the checking up, as in the past."

OWENS SENDS DEPUTY AFTER SUBURBAN JUSTICE OF PEACE.

County Judge Wants Man Accused of Conducting Henning Liquor License Bureau at Norwood Park.

A deputy sheriff was sent out last night to look for Noah J. Henning, justice of the peace in Norwood Park. Henning failed to appear before County Judge John E. Owens to answer charges of conducting a "Henning Liquor License bureau" in his territory.

When Henning did not appear Judge Owens ordered Deputy Sheriff A. J. Changelon to bring in the justice.

Affidavits from a dozen citizens of Norwood Park have been filed with the County court charging that Henning had a system of collecting tribute from dealers who were selling liquor illegally. The affidavits charged that the price of a permit ranged from $3 to $25.

PROTESTS TAKING OF 1492 CARAVELS

Palette and Chisel Club Appeals to South Park Commission.

THINKS PROFITS SOUGHT.

Says "Harvard Students" Are Only Disguise for Firm Behind Project.

Members of the Palette and Chisel club held a special meeting last night to protest against removal of the Columbus caravels from Lake Michigan or its harbors. The club's protest was made in the name of art. Word reached the club recently that the privilege of removing the Pinta, Santa Maria, and Nina, given ostensibly to Harvard students, was a commercial proposition and was not done in the spirit represented to the south park commissioners. The promoters of the project say they intend to take the caravels to the Panama exposition in San Francisco.

Resolutions embodying the protest were adopted and mailed to John Barton Payne, president of the south park commissioners.

"Not Strong Enough."

"The boats are not strong enough to stand a trip to the Pacific coast," Fred S. Bertsch, president of the Palette and Chisel club, said, "and I believe it is depriving Chicago of an art and educational asset which belongs here. The models, which have been at Jackson park since 1893 were presented to Chicago by the Spanish government. They have come to be a part of the city's art features."

"It is not a selfish motive which has prompted the Palette and Chisel club to adopt the resolutions of protest," Gordon St. Clair, secretary of the club and editor of the club's magazine, the Cow Bell, said. "We believe every person in the United States should see the caravels. They belong to the people of the United States, but they have been exposed to the elements for twenty years and are not in condition to stand the long voyage to the Pacific coast.

Educational to Children.

"The replica of the famous fleet of Columbus has been one of the big show features of Chicago. The children in school have learned with much realism the story of the voyage of Columbus, while they stood on the banks of the lagoon in Jackson park and viewed models of the original ships.

"It's wrong for the ships to be taken from inland waters."

Resolution of Club.

The resolution in part says: "It has come to the attention of the members of the Palette and Chisel club that the replicas of the caravels are about to be taken to other waters for some purpose not clearly shown. It has been suggested that the historical ships are to be used for profit to the persons who received the permit from your honorable commission."

"Their long stay in the waters of Jackson park," says the resolution, "has developed among the people of Chicago a feeling that the Pinta, Santa Maria, and Nina are an integral part of the art dress of Jackson park, to remain until the elements destroy them, one of the few reminders of the world's Columbian exposition, the greatest exposition the world ever has known."

The resolution was signed by Mr. Bertsch, Mr. St. Clair, Harry L. Engle, chairman of the civic committee; Rudolph F. Ingerle, Oswald Cooper, August Petrtyl, and John E. Phillips.

EXONERATES UNDERTAKER WHOSE CAR KILLED CLERK.

William B. Bradley Found by Coroner's Jury Not to Be Responsible for Death of Frank McDonald.

A coroner's jury yesterday exonerated William B. Bradley, an undertaker, in connection with the death of Frank McDonald, a clerk. McDonald was struck by a machine driven by Bradley at South Albany avenue and Jackson boulevard Monday night.

Bradley testified that he was driving slowly, but McDonald became confused as he started to cross the street and stepped in front of the automobile. Bradley lives at 4948 Washington boulevard.

An automobile ambulance collided with another machine at Diversey boulevard and Southport avenue yesterday and injured Mrs. H. Crisinger, 1838 Kenilworth avenue, who was being taken to a hospital in the machine. The automobile which struck the ambulance was owned by W. P. Fosley, 3329 Palmer street.

Paul Korshack of 1648 Turner avenue struck Troy Ebengton, an employé of Rand, McNally & Co., as he was alighting from a street car. His leg was fractured.

PORTER'S DOGS TO BE SOLD.

Notice Given to Broker's Creditors That Bids Will Be Opened for the Animals.

Notice to all creditors that bids will be opened for the sale of twenty-eight Airedale terriers, two horses, and a cow belonging to the estate of Francis G. Porter, bankrupt and former partner in the dissolved brokerage firm of Smart, Porter & Co., were sent out yesterday by Receiver James W. Taylor. The bids are returnable in ten days.

Referee Frank L. Wean permitted the submission of bids on condition that any or all bids may be rejected if, in his opinion, they are too low.

Gaekwar's Daughter to Wed.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 20.—A dispatch from St. Moritz to the Daily Mail quotes the Gaekwar of Baroda, who, with the maharanee, is spending the summer there, as saying that his daughter, Princess Indira, started yesterday for London, where she intends to marry Prince Jitendra, the son of the Maharajah of Kuch Behar, another powerful Indian ruler.

It was reported last May that Princess Indira, who is the only daughter of the gaekwar, had broken her engagement with Prince Jitendra, and that she had fled to England to escape his attentions.

The marriage was to have been solemnized at Calcutta a few days after the princess broke the engagement. The announcement of the breaking of the engagement created a great sensation in India, where such occurrences are extremely rare among the ruling houses.

The father of the princess rules more than 8,000 miles of territory, and has more than 2,000,000 subjects. He is enormously wealthy. The son of the gaekwar, Shirmar Jaisingrao, studied at Harvard university.

Honor New Minister to Norway.

International courtesies will be exchanged this evening at a banquet to be given by Oscar H. Haugan, consul for Norway in Chicago, in honor of Albert G. Schmedemann, the newly appointed United States minister to Norway. The banquet will be held at the Union League club. The Scandinavian character of the affair will be emphasized by the presence of Olaf I. Rove, Norwegian consul at Milwaukee; George Bech and Henry S. Henschen, consul for Denmark and Sweden at Chicago, respectively. Among the guests will be more than fifty Norwegian-Americans of Illinois and Wisconsin, representing social, fraternal, religious, and charitable organizations.

Electric Club Plans Outing.

The Chicago Electric club will have its annual summer outing tomorrow at Northfield Grove, Shermerville, Ill., and is going to give prizes to the women who win the slit skirt race, one of the features of the day's athletic program. At its last annual picnic the Electric club launched a hobble skirt race which was a big success. A special train will leave the Union depot via the St. Paul at 12:40 p. m.

South Shore Prepares for Own Horse Show.

THE wide strip of dazzling sandy beach in front of the clubhouse at the South Shore Country club is being brushed and rolled and otherwise curried daily in preparation for the post-season horse show to be held in two or three weeks' time. So many of the club members are actively interested in horses and so many stable colors are represented at the club that they persuaded the rest that it was too long to wait until the next annual horse show, way next June. Consequently they are to have an informal affair, made up almost wholly of special features of the same general classification, but not like those that made the Lake Forest gymkhana such an unqualified success. It would be hard to imagine a more fitting setting for the events, for a tumble would bring at the most an impromptu bath or a miniature sand storm. The firm beach sand presents innumerable advantages over the slippery tan bark and the white caps far outdo attempts at bunting decoration. A dinner-dance will follow the afternoon's sport. The gathering will almost be in the nature of a family reunion, many of the travelers returning for the event.

In spite of the weather man's discouraging prediction of local thunder showers for Chicago and vicinity, 108 north shore women gathered at Onwentsia yesterday for the weekly golf luncheon. Mrs. Chatfield-Taylor, looking most radiant at being released from her tiresome quarantine, again presided at the table as she has been wont to do since the absence of Mrs. Samuel Chase. Most of the table chatter was of the success of the gymkhana, with the usual golf patter sprinkled here and there. In the afternoon the customary bridge tables occupied the veranda.

Mrs. Frank Lincoln Wean of Highland Park was luncheon hostess at the Exmoor club yesterday for Mrs. W. E. P. French of Washington, D. C., who is the house guest of Mrs. Charles Yoe of Highland Park.

Mrs. Grant Orr, worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, will be social chairman of the autumn flower carnival to be held on Friday, Sept. 5, in Chicago and suburbs for the benefit of the Eastern Star and Masonic home at Macon, Ill. A meeting of the Worthy Matrons' club will be held at the Congress hotel on Friday, Aug. 22, at 2 o'clock, in charge of Mrs. Bessie Holmes. Following this meeting chairmen of the various committees for flower day will be appointed.

The Telephone Users' association will hold a meeting in the East room of the Hotel La Salle this evening. The work of the organization is to be discussed.

Former residents of the thirty-two counties of Ireland will meet at a joint reunion and celebration of the Irish Counties Social Union of America at Gardner's park, One Hundred and Twenty-third street and Michigan avenue, on Saturday afternoon and evening. An invitation was extended to Gov. and Mrs. Dunne.

The Pistakee Young Ladies' club has invited a train full of poor children from St. Mary's Mission house, in charge of Sister Jeannette, to spend Aug. 21 at Pistakee bay. They will be taken to the yacht club in motor boats. The "mothers" will serve a hot dinner at the clup, and there will be plenty of home made cake, milk, and ice cream. The officers are: President, Miss Jane Small; first vice president, Miss Mildren McRoberts; second vice president, Miss Helen Hedges; secretary, Miss Loretta Solomon; treasurer, Miss Frances Reed.

Keeps Day Book in Kitchen.

Our family consists of four adults. I keep in the kitchen what I call my day book. Each page represents a week and is marked off into days. In here I enter, just as I buy, all my groceries, meats, etc.; also the small articles for the house, such as matches, soap, and toilet articles. My expenses for the week equal $5, and if I run over this amount I positively cut down that much the next week. On this amount we live well. I pay cash for everything, and in this way the butcher and grocer know I am perfectly independent of them, and so try hard to please me, knowing that in that way only can they keep my trade. I do no ordering, believing I save money by seeing everything before I buy it. I buy cheaper cuts of meat and take great pains in cooking them, finding I am well repaid by the results and praise of the family.

One of our favorite dishes is "boneless birds." I buy one and a half pounds nice round steak which I pound and cut into pieces four inches square. Into each of these I roll a small slice of bacon and some grated onion. Then I fasten with a string. I melt some good dripping and brown the steak, adding salt and pepper. Then I add one pint of boiling water and a heaping tablespoon of browned flour. Cover and simmer two hours, adding hot water when necessary.

We eat plenty of vegetables in the spring, but I always figure on how much nutrition I am going to get out of an article before I buy. I do not believe in giving my family delicatessen foods at all, as I consider them both expensive and unhealthy. I believe many a little child's stomach is ruined with a supper such as I have served to me when I go to friends, consisting of boiled ham, store salad, pickles, cheese, and bakery cake. Their supper is just as expensive as mine, which consists of a meat, potatoes, a vegetable, and a milk and egg pudding.

J. U. M.

Fooled Their Friends.

Before we started housekeeping friends hinted and some even told us that we could not meet all expenses with my husband's moderate income, but we have been able to more than prove their mistake, for we have saved $20 each month, without depriving ourselves of anything needed. My allowance for edibles is $5 per week, but I have never yet used it all for that purpose. Four dollars is the average spent, and we are neither of us small eaters. Besides, we entertain friends at dinner or luncheon occasionally. With the remainder of the $5 I buy many little things needed for the home. Of course, one couldn't set a table plentifully on that amount if they bought in a haphazard way, knowing and seeming to care little of the comparative value of foods. Housekeeping is my business now, just as much as teaching was my profession for five years. To be able to teach I had to make preparation, and then continually give time and thought to my work. Just so in my home work, I devote a part of my time to planning, studying nutritive value of foods, etc., and find that by being systematic in my work and in my buying about one-half of the time, energy, and money is spent which would be if thoughtlessly done.

Will just take space to mention one big saving for the breakfast table. Instead of paying 25 or 30 cents per pound for bacon or ham to eat with the eggs, I buy smoked shoulder or picnic hams, whole, at 12½ or 14 cents a pound. We like it just as well. There is no waste, for I use the bone for making soup. Tastes fine in beans. We live in a cozy four room stove heated flat, and pay $16 per month rent. Our location is near enough to my husband's work that he can walk, thereby saving carfare, besides giving him the healthful exercise he so much enjoys, since he works in an office.

For amusement we read, walk, visit the "movies," and an occasional good show. I do all my own work, as I think it so foolish and extravagant to pay out money to some one else to do it, while I have plenty of time and strength. I know many young wives who have the time and strength, but not the inclination.

By way of illustration—an older married woman said to me yesterday, "If I could iron my husband's shirts as beautifully as you do, I wouldn't send them to the laundry, either." Well, I couldn't do them "so beautifully" either eight months ago, but I believed in learning. What she needs is a strong enough desire to save that money, and she will learn, too.

A YOUNG HOUSEKEEPER.

Fireless Cooker Solves Meat Problem.

There are five of us and I do all the buying. I go where I can get the most, as well as the best, for cash. All staples are purchased in bulk, for I think we pay too well for paper boxes. I think the meat problem has been entirely solved by my rapid fireless cooker, as it transforms the cheaper cuts and pot roasts into the most tender, superior flavored meats. Supplied with every convenience, I do my washing, ironing, and baking. I also do my sewing and millinery. Some friends ask, "How do you afford so many hats?" for I have three to their one, that cost not as much.

I watch the remnants for choice pieces of silk, velvet, and lace, get wire hat frames from the 10 cent counter, and cover them neatly first with cloth or silk. Then fashion some of the prettiest lingeries possible, or dress hats of straw braids. I do likewise with winter styles of frames and trimming, often using a touch of hand embroidery or crochet. Most women tell me they have no tact to do this; but have they tried? An attempt is worth the while, with the cost of good hand made hats.

Our three children are boys, and the two youngest have never been to a barber. I found it very easy with practice to bob or trim their locks. I command order and neatness with each one, hence they are careful of their clothes. One method of economizing is to take proper care of everything, and by so doing prolong its usefulness and postpone further buying.

Monday instead of washing is "pickup" morning at our house. All Sunday clothes are brushed well, looked over for spots, loose buttons or threads, pressed if need be, and hung away properly. Shoes are made clean, brushed, and set away for ready use, so on occasions of going out each member may quickly and quietly dress.

BROTHER ACCUSES SISTER IN BATCHELDER FAMILY SQUABBLE

James Benoit Accuses Automobile Man's Wife of Improprieties with Former Roomer.

After the custody of the two Batchelder boys, Benjamin and Frederick, 10 and 13 years old, is decided in the Juvenile court today, Municipal Judge Sabath will decide the complaints of disorderly conduct pending against their mother, Mrs. Blanche Batchelder, and Eugene De Kieffer, a former roomer at her residence, 6159 St. Lawrence avenue.

Mrs. Batchelder was arrested on complaint of her brother, James Benoit, who also lived with her. Benoit accused her of improper relations with De Kieffer. She in turn accused him of being in league with her husband, Frederick Batchelder, a well to do automobile agent from whom she is separated, in an effort to aid the latter to escape the payment of alimony.

At the last hearing of the case in the Hyde Park court Batchelder appeared and asserted that he was never legally married to Mrs. Batchelder and that he had another wife living in New York.

FLOWERS NAMED FOR WILSONS.

New Blooms at Capital Exhibit Bear Names of President's Wife and Daughters.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—"Mrs. Wilson" is the name of a new type of chrysanthemum that has been developed by the experts of the department of agriculture for the department's annual autumn flower show. Named in honor of the wife of the president, the new bloom is said to be a magnificent specimen. Other striking blooms have been christened "Margaret," "Jessie," and "Eleanor," after the three daughters of President and Mrs. Wilson. The president and every member of his family are great lovers of flowers.

BABY FALLS FROM WINDOW.

Child Slips from Father's Arms and Fractures Skull on the Sidewalk Below.

Eva Block, 3 years old, 641 West Fifteenth street, was probably fatally hurt last night when she fell from a window on the second floor of her home to the sidewalk. Michael Block, the father, was holding the girl when she slipped from his arms. Her skull was fractured.

Wounded Man Runs to Hospital.

Norman McCorkill of 2084 West Lake street, was with his stepson, Charles Ahrndt, Monday night and the latter, it is alleged, took a revolver from a bureau drawer and shot his stepfather in the right leg. McCorkill told the police. He then ran to the county hospital, a mile away, and had his injury dressed.

Miss Nance O'Neill and 'The Second Ash Tray.'

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

SOME elderly æsthete with grandchildren and a sense of duty ought to take Miss Nance O'Neill across his knee and chasten her, in the conventional manner, for her exhibition this week at the Palace—a cheap vaudeville frame-up called "The Second Ash Tray, or In Self-Defense." Miss O'Neill is more or less of a staple in the theater, and when she debases herself by appearance in such a shoddy mess as this, punitive measures ought to be in order.

However, it is in vaudeville, where nearly everythnig is immune, and so Miss O'Neill comes out in evening dress and tells Harry, an artist, that she is mad about him and is not at all angry because he has declared his passion for her. But his future must not be disturbed and she will not flee with him even though her husband is 55, a drunkard with a whisky heart and addicted to the collection of live snakes. When the husband is heard reeling homeward with his newest cobra Harold seeks refuge in the conservatory and is safe there until the second ash tray is discovered beside the place at table of a guest who does not smoke.

The suspicion thus engendered results in the husband throwing the basket containing the cobra into the conservatory and falling into a drunken stupor. He is a queer, insignificant little chap, something like Johnny Slavin, something like Joe Weber, and when he raves at the imposing Miss O'Neill laughter ensues. As he sleeps Miss O'Neill opens the conservatory doors, sees the lover, pale and unconscious in the moonlight, and proceeds to hysteria, shrill, unrhythmic, and unconventional. He has not been snake bitten, though, but merely made insensible by a blow from the wicker cage. Miss O'Neill raves vaguely for a period and then recovers consciousness in time to hear with pleasure that the husband is dead and that the lover's arms are empty and open. Gaston Mervale has done more than write the play—he has signed his name to it. Alfred Hickman, a small actor, expert at fops, essays the brutal inebriate, and there are others. Viewing "The Second Ash Tray" as satire it will be found much funnier than the travesty, "More Sinned Against than Usual," and to be enjoyed it should be observed as such.

Elsewhere at the Palace, Vodlinsky, a performer, plays the "Spring Song," "Home, Sweet Home," and the "Rainbow Rag" at the same time; one as badly as the others; and the Avon Comedy Four wheeze and cut up interminably. Miss Clara Inge, a bright and impudent young songstress from the south, displays an extensive satisfaction with herself in a monologue comprising several imbecilic songs, and inspires pity that a talent and personality so promising should be lost in a concelt so vast. There are dancers and equilibrists also on the bill.

David Belasco's "The Governor's Lady" will be the opening attraction at Powers' on Sept. 14 instead of Miss Fannie Ward and "Mme. President," as announced. Other entertainments listed for Mr. Powers' theater are David Warfield in "The Auctioneer," John Drew in "Much Ado About Nothing," Mr. and Mrs Hatton's "Years of Discretion," and Mr. Belasco's "The Good Little Devil" and "The Poor Little Rich Girl."

Miss Julia Dean has been employed by Winthrop Ames to appear in a new comedy by Mark Swan, called "Her Own Money." The scene of the play is the inevitable New York City, and the principal ch racter the monotonous married woman who ventures beyond her husband's income, and is distressed.

Inability of this generation of playwrights to fit William H. Crane with one of his ingratiating leveled-forefinger roles has led him to return to "The Henrietta," which he and Stuart Robson used to play. Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes are renovating and refurbishing the old piece so that it will be more to the liking of the fastidious theatergoer of today.

Miss Amelia Summerville was rendered utterly miserable here during her engagement in "When Dreams Come True" by our favorite vice, the toothpick. Returning to New York City last week Miss Summerville heaved a sigh of pleasure and said to a reporter:

"I have observed that the most popular craze in Chicago this summer is the toothpick habit. I never saw such a display and variety of toothpicks as I saw while there—on the streets, in the theater, hotel lobbies and restaurants. The chewing gum habit may flourish in the east, but the toothpick reigns in Chicago. It was something to which I could not become accustomed during my long stay, and it is really a relief to get back to Broadway and see people chewing gum."

"Column Conductors" Coming.

Members of the American Press Humorists, "column conductors" on American newspapers, en route to their annual convention, which will be held this year at Peoria, Ill., home town of their secretary and treasurer, George Fitch, will arrive in Chicago on Sunday and spend a day in this city as the guests of the Writers' guild of Chicago. The Hotel Sherman will be headquarters. At noon the guild will entertain the humorists at luncheon in the Press club of Chicago, where Mason Warner, master of the guild, will deliver the address of welcome, the response to be by Edgar A. Guest, the "Breakfast Table Chat" man of the Detroit Free Press and the president of the American Press Humorists.

In the afternoon the guild and the humorists will witness the water carnival and naval pageant as guests of the Associated Yacht and ower Boat Clubs of America and Commodore William Hale Thompson. In the evening an informal dinner will be given at the Hotel Sherman. On Monday they will leave at 9 a. m. for Peoria in a special car provided by the guild.

W. D. Nesbit, C. W. Taylor, S. E. Kiser, and Douglas Malloch, Chicago members of the American Press Humorists, are expected to go with them. Arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors during their stay in Chicago have been completed by a committee of the Writers' guild, consisting of Douglas Malloch, Mason Warner, John M. Stahl, Edward H. Fox, Ervin F. Kemp, and Eugene T. Skinkle.

Prison Methods Attacked.

"The great majority of our modern penal institutions still employ ancient and brutal means of punishment, as exemplified by the lash, the solitary dungeon, and the ball and chain," said D. C. Payton, superintendent of the Indiana State reformatory, in an illustrated lecture of model reformatories, at the University of Chicago yesterday. Superintendent Payton declared such methods of punishment are not only obsolete, but also do far more harm than good, and only make it harder for the convict to reform.

'Catch My Pal' Patterson Tells of 'Dry' Victories.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—This was "Catch My Pal" Patterson day at the assembly. The title is the one given to the Rev. Robert J. Patterson of Belfast, Ireland, because he originated the movement four years ago, which has for its purpose the rescuing of drunkards among men and women by getting each signer of the temperance pledge to promise to obtain at least one of his drinking pals to also sign the pledge.

The Rev. Mr. Patterson delivered four addresses in describing the work of the "Catch My Pal" societies, which he said have spread to several countries and have enrolled about 400,000 signers of the pledge.

"After 700 had signed the pledge," Mr. Patterson said, "we decided to let the women join, for we knew that they would get in some time, and so we thought we would let them in as quickly as possible. This principle, I think, ought to apply in granting women the suffrage. They will get it some time. Why not let them have it right away?" The Rev. Mr. Patterson will be one of the speakers at the Bible conference next week.

The Federated Women's Clubs of Indiana held its fifth annual meeting on the assembly grounds. Following an address by Mrs. Frances J. Diefenderfer of Erie, Pa., on "How Women's Clubs May Help Solve the Mormon Problem," resolutions were passed demanding an amendment to the United States constitution prohibiting polygamy. Mrs. Diefenderfer said that thirty-three states now favor the amendment, and that the approval of only three more states is necessary to insure the amendment.

"There are 15,000 members of the Federated Women's Clubs of Indiana," said Mrs. Felix T. McWhirter of Indianapolis, the state president, who made the opening address, "and in the last five years the clubs have been transformed from a tea drinking, entertaining association of women to one that is all alive to civic improvement, child welfare, efficient motherhood, and other similar movements."

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago was called not only a good but a great woman for her stand on the teaching of sex hygiene in the public schools, and THE TRIBUNE was commended for the space given to Mrs. Young's fight against graft by Byron Platt, who spoke on "American Morals." Mr. Platt advocated a closer chaperonage of boys and girls.

Gipsy Smith of Cambridge, England, is expected to arrive on the grounds tomorrow and will remain throughout the Bible conference, which begins on Friday morning. Mrs. Booth Clibborn of Essex, England, is already on the grounds and will speak tomorrow evening. L. J. Engel of Cleveland made an exhibition flight this evening in his hydroaeroplane.

City Manager Plan Approved.

Ald. Charles E. Merriam yesterday succeeded in stimulating the members of the Woman's Association of Commerce with enthusiasm over the adoption in Dayton, O., of the "commission manager form of city government."

He hinted during his talk, which was given at the semi-monthly luncheon of the association, at the Grand Pacific hotel, that the new women voters might become so interested in the plan as to help bring about the institution of the plan in Chicago.

When Ald. Merriam concluded his remarks with the statement, "There is a possibility that the Dayton plan will be adopted by more cities in the middle west than Dayton," the women in the audience applauded loudly.

"The man corresponding to the mayor in other cities," said Mr. Merriam, "is a business manager in Dayton. He holds precisely the same relation to the government machinery of the city that a bank or railroad president does with a corporation."

Children to Present Festival.

The northern festival of the Ravinia club's harvest festival of all nations, to be given on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening, Sept. 12 and 13, at Ravinia park, will be presented almost entirely by children. It will open with a fairy scene consisting of elves, gnomes, witches, and the fairy king and queen. It will introduce the Dutch wooden shoe dance, danced by children of Glencoe; a Swedish dance by Waukegan dancers, and a Russian dance by a group of young girls and boys of Highland Park. Mrs. Clarence E. Smith of Waukegan is in charge of the Swedish dance, and those taking part are Mabel Morrow, Bessie Spoor, Katherine Spoor, Ethel Sutherland, Bernice Board, Anna Jensen, Lillian Lain, Marian West, Eva Wallin, and Helen Brentan.

The Wilmette and Kenilworth groups rehearsed last night at the Wilmette club, and Highland Park and Ravinia will rehearse tonight at the Moraine hotel.

The Snail's Wonderful Tongue.

Imagine a lion or a tiger with a tongue anything from ten to twenty feet long; imagine that tongue to be covered on its upper surface with hundreds of thousands of horny hooks six or seven inches from the base to point—then you will have some idea of the terrible teeth and tongues possessed by some of the tiny creatures we pass heedlessly by every day of our lives, for the common slug and snail possess such a tongue, of course upon a small scale.

The lingual ribbon, or palate as this tongue is called, is one of the most terrible weapons possessed by any living creature. It is a terrible weapon because of the enormous strength it possesses, the horny hooks being strong enough to cut a hole in a shell as well as to easily tear the softest flesh or the toughest seaweed. It must often have occurred to the observant nature lover that when such a soft bodied creature as a snail can cut a tough cabbage leaf and shred it up in the way it often does, it must have a special tool for the work far harder than the soft flesh of its own body. Its tooth tongue is the apparatus with which it does it.

Watch a snail the next time you see one feeding and you will notice that it seems to drag away pieces of the leaf rather than to cut it, and if you examine the leaf afterwards you will notice that the edge is not clean cut, as a caterpillar cuts it, but that it has a torn appearance. The torn edge of a leaf indicates the work of a snail. The reason for this is that the snail sticks its thousand horny hooklets into the leaf of the cabbage and then draws in its tongue, dragging a piece of the leaf with it. This is also a remarkable display of strength. For poor weak men to be able to compete with the snail they would have to be able to bite pieces out of the toughest leather as easily as they can bite a piece of thin bread and butter.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle.

ANSWER TO PUZZLING PARTNERSHIPS.

It would seem at the first blush as if any number of fish from 33 to 43 might have been caught, as one may try experimentally by giving A from o to 11 fish and the quantities to be received by the others become apparent. There being five partners, however, who are to receive equal amounts in the final division, it is clear that the number must be 35 or 40. Take the latter number and it readily solves and shows that A had 8, B 6, C 14, D 4, and E 8. Now, if B, C, and D pool their issues, making 24, each gets 8, after which, no matter how many join and then divide their stocks, the shares remain 8; but if any other number is experimented with, even if any other could be chopped up, it resolves itself into an odd complication.

The exhibit room in The Tribune Building is open from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. except on Saturday, when it closes at 1 o'clock.

Why Not Buy Raincoats for the Children?

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

DO YOU wish that you could buy new raincoats for your little girl and your little boy? Wouldn't it be comfortable to know that when they were out in the rain they were all cozy and dry? But raincoats for two little busy children cost money. Children tear things all to pieces so that they have to have good strong ones.

Have you ever thought that you could earn their raincoats for them? Yes, indeed you can, just as easily as this woman did.

Wouldn't you like to read this letter that tells how she did it?

"I have two little children, a girl of 9 and a little boy of 7. Molly has been going to school for three years and Jamie is going to start in the fall. Last year Molly was out in all sorts of weather and she often had colds because she wasn't kept dry when it rained. She always had warm clothing on, but I made up my mind last year that she should have a raincoat if I could get her one in any way. This summer I sort of forgot about it, until one day when I was reading your helpful column I suddenly thought of Molly and the raincoat that I'd like to buy her, and I decided right then that I'd try and see what I could do about earning money at home, and if I could I'd get that coat for her myself.

"I didn't know at first what to do. I haven't any particular talents, and we live in a neighborhood where every one does all of her own work. They are all in about the same circumstances that we are. We are buying our little home, and while my husband gets a fair salary, it keeps us pretty busy making both ends meet. So I knew that I couldn't make any money out of my neighbors. I kind of worried about it for a few days. I wasn't really worrying, but I was thinking as hard as I could. I didn't want to make any mistake if I could help it. When I wrote to you and asked you what you thought of my trying to make little flannel cases for silverware, it made me so happy and so encouraged for you to tell me that you thought it was a good idea. The cases were so easy to make and it took so little time that I could sell them very reasonably, and I found that many more people than I had thought of wanted cases for their silver. Most of the ones who bought those cases wanted some others made for their friends, and many of them asked me to make other sorts of cases. I stitched all of the seams twice so as to make them look tailored, and I used only a good quality of dark green and dark red canton flannel. The cases looked just like the ones that very expensive silverware comes in. Many of the women who bought them had wanted some for a long time, but they hadn't thought of making them themselves.

"It doesn't seem that I could have made enough money in this little time—it has been only three months—to buy a coat for each of the children, but I have, and what is better still, I have a little business started. It's a very, very little one, indeed. Perhaps some people wouldn't think it was a business at all. But it seems like one to me, and I'm so proud and happy over it."

Aren't you proud with her? And doesn't it make you happy to know that she has succeeded? Every one wants to be proud with you, too, and to know that you are happy. Why don't you let them? Why don't you start your little business? It doesn't make any difference how very little it is at first it will keep on growing and you'll have a little business that you can be proud of some day soon.

Perhaps you'd like to know how a hundred of the home workers have started with their work? They'll tell you in a little booklet that's called "A Hundred Ways to Earn Money at Home." Won't you let them? Then put your name and address on a postcard and send it to me and I'll send the booklet to you by return post. When you read it you'll be so filled with ambition to get started in the work that you're going to do that you'll not hesitate one more minute.

Of course, you'll be successful, too, if you're eager and earnest about your work, and if you don't let the first disappointment discourage you. Before you know it you'll be having enough money to buy a raincoat for all of your little tots and lots of other things. Won't that be jolly?

Preserves Eggs for Winter.

A good way to earn money at home is to buy strictly fresh eggs when they are reasonable in summer, probably at 15 cents a dozen. Then store them away till they become real scarce in the winter months, and one can sell them as high as 50 cents a dozen. One way to preserve eggs to prevent their contents from evaporating and air coming in to fill the space is to close pores of the shell to prevent the passage of air. Pack the eggs, well greased with lard or butter, in a crock between layers of common salt. Take care to store in a perfectly dry, well ventilated place, where the eggs will not freeze. They can be kept a long time.

MRS. L. A. SCHWAGER, Ashland, Wis.

Bags Save Ice.

A friend of mine last summer made bags out of common potato sacking to hold ice. She made the bags twenty-four inches long by about twenty-seven inches wide, which will hold an average 15 cent piece of ice. These bags, with a common drawstring of heavy twine, cost her little, were practically no trouble, found a good market, and proved profitable, as housewives are glad to buy anything that will cut down bills, and these bags cut ice bills in two.

M. NICHOLS, 1525 Winnemac avenue.

Linen Corset Bags.

Money can be earned at home by making corset bags. Take a piece of linen twenty-three inches long and sixteen inches wide. Fold in two lengthways and crease. Cut off the corners at bottom, making it curved. Before sewing up the sides of the bag embroider an initial, partly surrounded by a spray of flowers, towards the bottom of one side. French seam the side and turn down one and three-quarters inches at top for hem. Make narrow casing in hem and insert small cord with which to draw up the fullness. Lavender linen with white cord and embroidery is beautiful. These sell for $1 to $1.50, according to quality of linen and amount of embroidery.

MRS. F. B. MADDEN, Champaign, Ill.

For Festive Luncheons.

Norwegian rosettes and patty cases that ready sale among one woman's neighbors, both for Sunday luncheon and more festive occasions. The irons are of two shapes for rosettes and two for cases, and cost 50 cents a set. The batter is made of one cup flour, one cup milk, and two eggs, also pinch of salt. A teaspoon of sugar is added if filling is to be sweet or of fruit. Then they are rolled in sugar while hot if so liked. A little practice will show the right consistency of the batter and the degree of heat of the lard into which they are dipped. This amount of batter will make forty, which sell at a cent apiece. The hot lard may be cooled and used repeatedly or used for latticed potato "chips" after making rosettes.

Three Easy Ways.

We have a large attic which I rent to those wanting to store things either in summer while away or if they have no room for surplus, furniture, etc. As we live in an apartment neighborhood where there are a number of clerks rooming I have sent out small cards informing them of my picnic lunches, which I put up in boxes containing all home-cooked things, and I dispose of a good many every Saturday and also through the week. I look after several homes of people near by who are gone for the summer.

Waists for Working Girls.

Much may be added to one's bank account by making shirtwaists for girls who are employed. With the aid of an adjustable form all that is necessary is to have your customer's correct measurement, then as many garments as desired may be made and delivered at one time and much time saved by both parties. Then when you are not using the form yourself your neighbors who do their own sewing will be glad to rent it from you for a half or whole day at a time at 25 or 50 cents and this will help to increase your income.

HALSEY ESTATE OVER $2,000,000

Wealth of Founder of New York Bond House, Formerly a Chicagoan, Shown by Appraisal.

New York, Aug. 19.—[Special.]—N. Wetmore Halsey, founder of the bond house of N. W. Halsey & Co., who died July 1, 1911, left a personal estate of $2,035,000 and real estate valued at several hundred thousand dollars additional. Mr. Halsey was a resident of Essex county, N. J., at the time of his death, and the appraisal filed here today gave the value only of his personal property. He formerly lived in Chicago.

The Lima Bean.

"YOU had better have one of those boxes of lima beans for your Sunday dinner," said the grocer, who was experimenting with quantities by shelling a box of beans to see what weight in the pod when shelled would fill one of the small boxes ordinarily used. He found that it would take one pound and two ounces. The beans in the pod he was selling for 15 cents a pound; those shelled in the box for 20 cents, and being then just from the pod they were fresh and fine.

A neighboring grocer was selling a box, seemingly made up of about six grades of the shelled beans, for 30 cents.

More and more the lima bean comes into the market in the pod, and this is the way it should come. The beans in the New York markets in May sold exclusively in this way, and I have seen it in one or two other cities this season, always in the pod.

We pay rather a large price for our reluctance to do the very easy work of shelling these beans in the kitchen. It is but a trifling task, since they are so large, and we not only save money but food value. Very few city people know the flavor of beans fresh from the vines, beans that have not been associated with onions and a number of other vegetables, which association, if for long, is decidedly a detriment, though of course the results of wilting are worse. Besides, when wilted they are much more likely to be affected by various contaminations. In this day and generation we are allowing the air, by exposing the food to it, to take too great a toll from the flavors of our foods. Parsley and mint are mostly kept closed in the grocer's ice box, and so the beans should be.

TO COOK LIMA BEANS—Wilted beans are likely to be somewhat bitter. Get beans just as soon as they come into the market. If they are wilted, cook them for five minutes in boiling salted water, drain, and put into freshly boiling and salted water. Some people consider that the flavor of lima beans is improved by cooking with them a sprig of mint, which should be removed before they are served.

The water in which lima beans is cooked is very precious. It is what the French call "La Cuisson," making a noun out of the word which means to cook. They are as careful to make good use of this as of a piece of meat. In the case of lima beans there is no way of serving them that is so good as in the softened and thickened water in which they were cooked.

Cook butter and flour together as for a white sauce, add the bean liquid, and cook the beans for a few minutes in this, finally adding some fresh butter. There is no vegetable which is more improved by a generous use of butter than the lima bean.

LEFTOVER LIMA BEANS—If the leftover beans are mashed and put through a sieve they make a most excellent thickening for a cream soup, which needs hardly anything else than a little celery to make it a most dainty and acceptable thing. A little butter will be needed, and perhaps a little flour, and of course any of the thickened liquid left over should be used.

A woman writer who says that in her house a sauce is not an accident but a necessity and a lubricator, further says: "One must be careful to use la cuisson. Ah, surely there is the point—la cuisson! Let me translate this term into our plain English.

"It is, then, the liquid in which your vegetable has been cooked, which so many thoughtless cooks drain away as good for nothing, but which the good cook carefully uses for the liquifying of her roux and other ingredients. The water in which your white vegetables or your beans or spaghetti or macaroni have been cooked is far nicer than plain water or milk for a white sauce or veloute.

"There is also a vegetable stock which can be made and stored to have always on hand. Instead of beef or veal we use red haricot beans or lentils, and after soaking put them in a deep jar, then tie together a bundle of scraped carrots, parsnips, celery, and onions, adding the bouquet of herbs, and cook the lot for hours. It is strained off and reheated from time to time."

In nearly all the vocabularies given in French cook books one finds la cuisson. In one of the current magazine articles on salad jellies there is there is the statement:

"They may also be made by thickening the water in which vegetables have been boiled, using only the water if a clear jelly is preferred. If the water is not clear it may be made so with the white of an egg, the same as soup stock, then strained through a muslin cloth and molded in individual forms. Slice with warm knife."

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

When Motoring Is Beautifying.

[Copyright: 1913: By Lillian Russell.]

THE woman who sits rigid and watches the road incessantly while motoring will use up in one ride enough vitality to last a year.

If women are inclined to nervousness motoring is the worst possible way of getting air. Anything else is preferable. Walking is best, and driving behind a quiet horse is excellent.

But motoring, especially for several hours at a time, is disastrous to health unless one sits back and watches only the scenery. It is sometimes quite impossible to carry on an earnest conversation, so just passing remarks are all that is required.

The fresh air one breathes is forced into the lungs by the contact and is beneficial. But hours of it will cause intense fatigue. No veil can prevent the skin from becoming rough and burned, red and swollen. Two or three hours a day are all that a fine complexion can endure without showing serious effects.

Some women find the vibrations of a motoring trip exhilarating and are able to sleep like children after hours of it. Others become nervous and wakeful and pass nights of painful restlessness after motor trips. Such women should not take long trips; that is obvious.

A few suggestions for motoring may be helpful. First of all your feet must be kept warm. You should lean back and relax. Use a pillow if the back seat of the car slants too much. Wear a small hat that will not prevent your leaning back, warm gloves, and a loose corset, and learn to press the toes of your left foot upon the foot rail just as a woman presses her toes on the stirrup when riding horseback, so that you will rise gently in the seat without jolting when going over the bumps.

Look anywhere but at the road ahead. Trust in the chauffeur to land you where you are desirous of going. In that way motoring may be made a pleasure.

Remember: Motor cars are an invention for pleasure, not for pain, though they often work both ways.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

TROUBLED: Excessive perspiration comes from a disordered condition of the sweat glands, and usually accompanies rheumatism, gout, and diseases of the nervous system. It generally indicates a run down condition. Mild cases are benefited by bathing the affected surface in hot water, as hot as you can stand. A strong solution of common baking soda and hot water also is effective. Another good wash is one or two drams of alum dissolved in a pint of alcohol. After bathing affected surface dust with plain boric talcum powder.

MRS. W. E. O.: Lack of sleep affects a woman's looks at once. Woman is supposed to require eight hours of sleep. Sound sleep can be had only in a room where the ventilation is perfect—that is, where there is a steady current of constantly changing fresh air. Have a comfortable bed. Never sleep on the stomach; it hinders digestion. Never sleep propped up with pillows; lie as flat as possible, with a small pillow or none at all under your head. Never sleep with the mouth open.

H.: I am sorry, but I cannot give you the formula you ask about. I know of nothing you could put into the water to take the "reddishness" out of your hair. A bleach will probably change the color of your hair, but I do not advise you to use a bleach on the hair. There is nothing prettier, in my opinion, than red hair, and to bleach it would be to ruin it. Leave your hair as it is. I shall be glad to send you the formula for removing freckles if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope.

JEANNETTE: If you have a sallow complexion, look well to your diet. Eat simple, nourishing goods, no rich, greasy foods, pastries, or sweets. Take plenty of exercise in the open air, get plenty of fresh air during sleep hours. Practice deep breathing.

CLEO: The "white bumps" are called whiteheads and easily can be removed from the face without leaving a scar. Open each little seed with the point of a fine needle which has been sterilized by dropping it into boiling water or dipping it into peroxide. Press or pick out the tiny white mass, then apply a little peroxide. By bathing the face with warm water first it will soften it and make it easier to open the whiteheads. By applying vaseline to the eyelashes and eyebrows each night they will gradually darken, but, of course, it will take some time. You might use an eyebrow pencil. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be happy to send you a formula for removing sunburn.

Lemon Pie.

TWO AND ONE-HALF cups sugar, twelve eggs, one teacup sweet milk, one-half cup cream, two small lemons to one pie or one large one, three tablespoons sifted flour. Grate rind of lemon; beat sugar and eggs together, leaving out the whites of six for the top; add the flour while beating eggs and sugar, then the milk and cream and grated rind. Bake in rich pie crust in a moderate oven. Beat the six whites to a stiff froth, then add one-half cup sugar, put meringue over each pie, set in oven to brown. This amount will make four delicious pies.—Kindness of Mrs. M. L. W.

Pineapple Ice Cream.

One pound grated pineapple, one-half pound sugar, one pint cream, one-half pint milk, juice of one lemon, whites of two eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Put the sugar and lemon juice over the grated pineapple; mix the cream and milk and put in freezer, then the beaten whites of the eggs. When partly frozen add fruit. Strawberries or soft peaches may be used instead of pineapple.—Kindness of Mrs. M. L. W.

Wants Loan of Typewriter.

"Do you suppose that any one of your constituents has a typewriter, one that is not in use, that he or she would be willing to lend to me during the summer and early autumn months? I am obliged to be at home and so cannot follow my former profession of stenography. I should heartily appreciate the favor. Should the owner of the machine desire them I would gladly send a number of works of fiction by popular authors as a token of my gratitude for the loan. Some time ago I sent to various members of the Corner family pieces of embroidery which apparently were acceptable to the recipients. I had letters assuring me of this. I have written to you before asking to be put upon the typewriter waiting list, but I know well how seldom one is offered. Just now I am in especial need of one. Hence this jog to the memory of the beneficent Corner. I hope I will not be deemed impatient or exacting.

"RUTH E. B."

The application, which is neither unreasonable nor exacting, is for a loan and not a gratuity. If there be a disused typewriter in the keeping of some member of our working force may I ask that the plea of this ex-stenographer may be taken into consideration? She wishes to earn something at home during the next few months.

Received a Box of Books.

"May I trouble you to thank through the Corner the unknown benefactor to whom I am indebted for a box of books sent without a card? They have been a messenger of joy to a home where good reading is valued and where the means of procuring it are lacking.

"MARIE A."

The ministering angel who sent the cheer into your home will, let us hope, see the acknowledgment and taste the greater blessing of the giver.

Wants an Ear Trumpet.

"Will you kindly send me the address of D. D. H.? The article that I am much in need of is an ear trumpet. I wrote to you a short time ago in reference to one, but that had been disposed of at that time. I hope I may be more successful this time. You will note that I am one of the Johns and a veteran of the civil war.

JOHN R. M."

It is not a pleasant duty to inform you that you are again too late for the ear trumpet. I told other applicants of this last week. I print your letter hoping a trumpet or drum or some other helper may be forthcoming for the veteran who, to quote Daniel Webster's address to Revolutionary heroes, "has come down to us from a former generation." You deserve all we can do for you.

Offers Some Disc Records.

"Will you please send me the address of Fred O., who asks for disc records? My records are all new, but I am sure I can find a few among them to send to him. I hope each owner of records will send a few. I, too, am a shut-in from rheumatism and know how hard it is. I cannot get about except in a wheel chair. I have had to use one for the last four years. If any one has a canary she does not want I would be so glad to get it. I have wanted one for a long time but did not feel that I could buy one. If any one has a bird for me I will pay transportation. D. E. W."

The address has gone to you by mail. It is kind of you to be moved by the "fellow feeling" to active beneficence. That is the one and only right direction for such sympathy to take. I register your petition for a singing bird.

Needs a Gas Oven.

"Would some one of your kind readers be willing to part with a gas oven that she doesn't want any longer? This of course will be understood to mean that part which is set over a gas plate. I will gladly pay expressage and be pleased to do my little share in emulating your generous constituency when I'm again on my feet. Can this be called begging when some one who doesn't need a thing asked for is only too glad to part with it with the consciousness of having lessened by that much real need? IDA C."

Will housewives who have it in their power to heed and supply the need here set forth send for the writer's address and investigate the case?

Silk Pieces for Quilt.

"I have saved ends of neckties and other silk pieces for years and should like to pass them on to a shut-in or an old lady who could use them for quilts. I also have to pass along two abdominal supporters for a small person (hip measure thirty-eight inches).

"MART R."

You have saved worthily and well. I am afraid you will be overwhelmed by requests for the hoarded valuables. Let me know when all have left your bounteous hands. The "supporters" will be as eagerly sought after. And will you likewise apprise us when they are given away?

Laura Jean Libbey's Advice

By Laura Jean Libbey

Girls Who Cannot Protect Themselves.

[Copyright: 1913: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

MANY mothers see their daughters go out into the world to battle for themselves with fear and trembling. The girls are certainly to be trusted, for they have been carefully and most lovingly trained, firmly started in the right path. But there are always unforeseen pitfalls in every life. Those who can pick their steps may cross them in safety. Those who must stumble on in the dark are apt to fall into them.

It is always the unexpected that happens. That which a girl has not had explained to her is apt to confront her. If she must go to and from her business daily she is on her guard against the rude young men who would accost her. She is taught that the overpolite young man may be a wolf in sheep's clothing; that dance halls and late hours blight many a young girl's life. But even those nearest and dearest to her do not think to warn her against the pleasant, polite, even jolly customer of the firm which employs her. He is in the habit of dropping in every day, of coming and going as he likes. He never fails to stop for a few pleasant words with the stenographer. In an offhand manner he gives her the rose which he is wearing, or presents her with the box of bonbons which has just been given him and which he never eats.

He drops into the ce where she is taking luncheon and insis upon paying the bill. By degrees he has gained her confidence. He evinces great surprise that a girl of her ability should render her services to the company for such little pay. Covertly he suggests that almost any other firm would be glad to get her for almost twice the sum. He adds that he really does not like to actually advise it, but any other girl would ask for a raise of double the amount she is getting.

The girls who follow such advice usually find their services dispensed with forthwith. It is then that a young girl finds that the glorious opportunity for more money is but a myth; that good situations, such as she had, are hard to get and to keep; that there are hundreds of young girls waiting, only too eager to get the place at less money.

At this critical pass the girl eagerly, thoughtlessly hurries to take counsel of the man whose advice she took. Those innocent young girls are unable to protect themselves from the machinations of such a man. Where one girl escapes from his influence and his designs dozens become his victims. He is generally of the free lance class of bachelors who never intend to wed, and with whom when a girl is out of sight she is out of mind. Young and innocent girls cannot be expected to understand the drift of such a man's motives.

If a girl confides every item of the happenings of the day to her mother or to those who have her best interests at heart she may avoid the wealthy trifler of this kind, who flatters the innocent working girl. He likes to show independent young girls who pride themselves on being able to protect themselves that they have not as yet met a man of his type. Girls should not be too sure that they have made conquests just because a man of this kind shows them a little attention and whispers a few pleasant words in their ear. At the time his thoughts may be fr and away from them.

It is the companions which a working girl finds herself surrounded by that make for happiness or give out the warning that she stands in need of protection. It is the girl who is alone in the world, with none to advise her who needs to weigh well her every word and action carefully. It must not be supposed that all men who have a pleasant word are of evil intent. Indeed, I am glad to write that there is not one in a thousand. But it is that one from whom a girl must needs protect herself by treating him with simple courtesy only and exacting the same treatment from him. An old head cannot be put on young shoulders. One can only say to young working girls: Modesty and maidenly reserve are your only safeguards for protection.

Sent Her a Post Card.

"Dear Miss Libbey: While I was at the lake, camping with a party of other girls, chaperoned, a young man called once or twice with a friend of one of the girls. Then last Sunday afternoon his sister, who taught school one week and boarded in our family, came with him to call on us. I received a card from him. What is my duty? I am 19. I would like an answer at once if it is good etiquette for me to acknowledge it by sending one in return. Others always treat us (father, mother, and sister) alike. I think he must be 25. F."

It is not necessary to acknowledge a post card with a return card. Still, if you are interested in him, you might do so.

How Can She Tell?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I know a young man whom I like very much and would like so much to know whether he cares anything for me. He has several girl friends, but is not keeping steady company with any of them, nor me, either. Can you tell me how to go about to find out? W."

There is really no way you can find out if a man cares for you other than by the attentions and courtesies he pays you. When a young man is in love with a girl he usually makes it pretty evident by his attention and kindness, however.

Misses' Corsets and Waists: Correct Styles

We have learned that most of the imperfections to be corrected in mature figures are due to improper corseting in earlier years. These corsets are modeled along correct lines.

The Parisiana, illustrated, with low bust and free hips, closely boned over abdomen to prevent Corset from breaking in at waist.

The Ferris and Sheathlyne Waists, illustrated, with Elastic gore for athletic and gymnasium wear.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS OF COOK COUNTY MODEL FOR WORLD

Journal of Education Says Skillful Guidance Places Them Ahead of All Others.

MADE SOCIAL CENTERS

Problems of Farm Will Receive as Much Attention as Matters Contained in Books.

FIVE EXPERTS WILL LEAD WORK

WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY
—Chicago's New Proverb.

A noble vision, skillful guidance . . . and adequate financial support are placing rural Cook county ahead of all other rural leadership in the United States—Journal of Education, July 10, 1913.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

When little Johnny Jones and his sister Sue of Schaumburg or Oak Grove township, Cook county, Illinois, start down the long road next September to the opening of the old red school house, they will become part of an educational experiment on which the eyes of the whole teaching world is fixed.

For the first time in this country an organized effort is under way to make the 130 one and two roomed schoolhouses, scattered all through the rural districts of the county, the centers of the whole social life of the community. At the same time the education of the children will be made practical, it will be worked out in terms of their daily life, and the active interest and help of their fathers and mothers will be enlisted.

THAT the experiment will be successful is already practically assured. It was tried out last year in five or six schools, and the results have aroused the greatest possible enthusiasm, not only among the patrons of the schools but among educational experts.

For the coming year the rural schools of the county have been divided into five sections. At the head of each is to be an expert with the title of school and rural life director. So far as possible each of these men is not only a trained and successful teacher, but a graduate of an agricultural college and possesses the qualities of social leadership and organization.

Each is to be paid a salary of $2,000 a year and is to be on duty 365 days, with the summer vacation as, probably, his busiest season—unless it be the long winter evenings when life on the farm is most likely to grow lonesome and dreary. The money for their salaries has been appropriated by the board of county commissioners, and yesterday Edward J. Tobin, the county superintendent of schools—to whose initiative the whole great scheme is due—announced for the first time the names of the five men on whom will rest the responsibility of making the plan a pronounced success.

WHEN the children come together from the farms in the little schoolhouses this fall, one of the first features will be the organization of a seed corn testing club. The fathers of the boys will be asked to submit the seed corn which they are saving for next spring to the youthful scientists. The boys themselves will build the germinating boxes, the girls will cut the cheesecloth strips on which the kernels are laid, and the whole school will learn arithmetic by counting the number of kernels to the ear and figuring the percentage of kernels which show the possession of the vital spark. Experience has proved that there is no surer way to arouse not only the keen interest of the children, but of the whole farming community. For the girls, clubs for sewing, for the raising of chickens and for canning various vegetables will be organized.

Book learning will not be neglected. Selected lists of 500 words, which are often misspelled, will be sent to each school and the children will be carefully drilled in their mastery. During the winter frequent spelling bees will be held at the schoolhouses, at which the parents of the pupils will gather to watch the competitive performances.

Geography will be taught by careful drills in locating several hundred important points on the earth's surface and describing the products of various countries. There will be geography bees also. Music clubs will be organized among the children, as well as dramatic clubs, and an attempt will be made to revive the charm of the old fashioned singing school, with a drive home in a bobsled over the snow covered roads at the end of it.

IN the spring acreage clubs will be formed among the boys. The father of each boy will be asked to allot a single acre of good land to his son. All the work of ordering, planting, and cultivating this land is to be done by the boy himself, under the direction of the school and rural life director, and it is an essential part of the program that the boy shall have the money which results from the sale of the produce. In this way not only will the boy be given a start in scientific agriculture and an immediate opportunity to put his school lessons into practice, but, in more than one instance, a hard headed and conservative old farmer will be likely to get a valuable lesson in up to date methods.

In the villages of the county the plan will be modified to suit local conditions. Last spring, for instance, the boys in the Morgan Park school took over an old and neglected apple orchard and spent much time in pruning and spraying the trees and enriching the soil. This fall they hope to sell a good harvest of apples. In their work the boys were backed by a little organization, formed among their parents, who put up the necessary money for the tools, and have really been quite as much interested as their sons.

The idea back of the whole movement is to teach the children that useful achievement is the end and object of education.

AT the end of the school year an open air rural school festival will be held in each division, to which all the children and their parents will be invited. There will be music, drills, spelling bees, a dinner in the woods, folk dancing and everything that makes country life attractive.

At the trial festivals held last spring the attendance was almost embarrassingly large and the enthusiasm great.

And it must be remembered the directors are on the job all summer long to help the young farmers, boys and girls alike, in the cultivation of their acreage club crops and to do anything that can be done to make the whole community a pleasant and profitable place for people to live in.

HERE are the names of the men who will have charge of the big experiment, together with the divisions of the county in which they will work:

FIRST DIVISION.

Rural schools in Lyons, Stickney, Palos, Lemont, Worth, and Orland townships. Director of schools and rural life, George E. Farrell.

Mr. Farrell has been the principal of the schools at Summit. He was born on a farm, and under his direction some of the successful experiments of last year were carried out. At a school in Worth township, for instance, the children tested in germination boxes nearly fifty bushels of seed corn from the stock which their fathers had saved to plant last spring. One may imagine the interest excited in a farmer's family when the son came home from school and reported that only 58 per cent of the corn which his father intended to plant would germinate, while at the same time the boy was learning botany and how to compute percentages without having to spend a minute over stupid and uninteresting books. This same school won a prize of 50 offered by the Chicago and Burlington railroad to the rural school located along its lines which tested the most seed corn during the season. This prize money was invested in a canning outfit with which the fortunate girls who attend the school this fall will learn wet and dry measure, chemistry and other sciences as a part of the interesting process of canning tomatoes, sweet corn, and other vegetables which they and their brothers have raised.

SECOND DIVISION.

Rural schools in Rich, Bremen, Calumet, and Bloom townships, together with the fractional parts of Bloom and Thornton. Director of schools and rural life, Orville T. Bright Jr. Mr. Bright has been principal of the Homewood schools and is a graduate of an agricultural college.

THIRD DIVISION.

Rural schools in Barrington, Palatine, Hanover, Schaumberg, and Elk Grove townships. Director of schools and rural life, Eugene M. Phillips, who has been a teacher of science in the La Grange high school. In the district to which he will be assigned there are many dairies, and Mr. Phillips is now completing a special course at the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin, which will give him special knowledge on that subject.

FOURTH DIVISION.

Rural schools in Niles, New Trier, Northfield, Wheeling and Maine townships. Director of schools and of rural life, Thomas W. Hart. Mr. Hart was for many years superintendent of schools in Marion county, Illinois, and is now a teacher in the Chicago schools.

FIFTH DISTRICT.

Rural schools in Proviso, Leyden, and Jefferson townships. Director of schools and of rural life, James W. Calley. Mr. Calley is now the assistant county superintendent of schools and under his general direction the successful experiments of last year were held. In addition to the direction of the work in the comparatively few schools assigned to him he will have general supervision of the whole experiment.

SCOUTS CHARGE THAT SOLDIERS ATTACKED GIRLS IN CALUMET.

Gen. Abbey, Commander of Michigan National Guard, Beards A. F. of L. Representative, but Gets No Evidence.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 19.—Gen. Abbey, in command of the state troops in the copper miners' strike zone, tonight replied to the charge by J. H. Walker, representative of the American Federation of Labor, that soldiers have been guilty of attacking young girls, riding down defenseless persons on sidewalks, assaulting and abusing strikers and their families, and that a man was shot in the back while peaceably on his way home.

The general declared he knew that the last three mentioned charges were untrue, but that he had no evidence on the first named charge, so could not assert as to its falsity or truth.

Walker's charges were made in a telegram to President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor at Washington.

Gen. Abbey said he and Maj. Pepper, judge advocate, called on Walker and asked for evidence so the guilty persons might be arrested and turned over to the civil authorities. The evidence was not forthcoming, he said.

Walker said he was going away, to be gone about a week, and on his return probably would submit evidence. Urged to give even a clew, Gen. Abbey said, Walker replied he could not do so.

MOOSE AND G. O. P. PLAN FIGHT.

Congressional Leaders of Both Parties Will Campaign in Districts Holding Special Elections.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Republicans and Progressives of the house are busy planning to meet the activity of the Democrats in various congressional districts in which special elections are about to be held.

The Republicans will send several speakers into the Third district of Maine, where a successor to the late Representative Goodwin is to be chosen; into the First West Virginia district, where there is a vacancy on account of the appointment of Representative Davis as solicitor general, and into the Third Maryland, about to name a successor to the late Representative Konig.

For the Progressives Representative Murdock, the party leader in the house, and Representative Chandler of New York will speak in the Maine campaign, and Representative Murdock, Kelly of Pennsylvania, and Bryan of Washington in West Virginia.

POSTMASTER AT ZION CITY OUT.

Senator Lewis Recommends O. A. Farley to Supplant Candidate Backed by Voliva.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Senator Lewis today recommended the appointment of O. A. Farley as postmaster of Zion City on the indorsement of State Representative Graham. Farley will succeed Postmaster George Weidmann, whom Voliva has sought to keep in office in recognition of the theocratic party which controls the city.

TAMMANY PLANS SULZER OUSTING

Glynn's Offices to Be Declared Executive Chambers by Trustees Today.

EMPLOYES MAY LOSE JOBS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—The Democratic state organization today continued its preparations to isolate Gov. Sulzer in the executive chamber. The trustees of public buildings tomorrow will designate Lieut. Gov. Glynn's offices as the executive offices. All executive office employés will be given a chance to declare allegiance to Mr. Glynn, but if they refuse their pay will be cut off and new appointments made.

Gov. Sulzer had Valentine Taylor, his counsel, personally interviewed every member of the executive chamber staff today to find out who would or would not be loyal to Gov. Sulzer.

Sulzer Appeal Sounded.

"The governor wants to know who desires to continue to serve under him," said Taylor in discussing the question with the employés, "and he thought it but fair to say that you might have to go without your salaries in case Mr. Glynn asked for your services and you continued to serve the governor.

"You can take today off if you like and discuss this thing with your families, as it is very important to each of you personally, for if the governor should lose out you might not again be able to get a position in the state service. I should like to have final word from you by the time you come to work tomorrow morning."

There are about twenty employés in the executive department and the pay roll amounts to about $40,000 a year.

Sulzer Aids Doomed.

When the trustees meet tomorrow Chester C. Platt, the secretary to the governor, will be deposed as secretary to the trustees, for which he gets an additional salary of $1,500, and the trustees also will depose Samuel Bruckheimer as chief auditor, at a salary of $4,000.

Mr. Bruckheimer succeeded John A. Hennessy as chief auditor and formerly was Gov. Sulzer's stenographer. Thus gradually it is Acting Gov. Glynn's intention to approach the complete control of the executive business of the state and the executive employés.

Glynn to Issue Statement.

Acting Gov. Glynn tomorrow will issue a statement outlining how he plans to run the office of governor until after the impeachment trial of Gov. Sulzer.

A special message recommending the passage of a direct tax and legislative appropriation bills will be sent to the legislature by Mr. Glynn next week.

Today resolutions were introduced in the assembly calling for the arrest of Fred L. Colwell, a New York broker, and Louis A. Sarecky, confidential agent of Gov. Sulzer, to answer charges of contempt of the assembly for failing to give up information to the Frawley investigating committee.

Plan Graft Charge Inquiry.

The assembly judiciary committee tomorrow will summon James C. Garrison, a Sulzer agent, to prove his charges that Tammany paid money for four of the votes which helped to impeach Gov. Sulzer.

Gov. Sulzer did not perform any official acts today, as far as could be learned. Acting Gov. Glynn sent a telegram to the district attorney of Dutchess county directing him to see that none of the men held in Canada with Harry K. Thaw get out of custody.

The legislature will meet tomorrow and adjourn until next week, when it will pass the financial bills recommended by Acting Gov. Glynn, and all senators and assemblymen will be especially requested to be present so no question can be raised for the lack of a quorum.

At this session next week also will be considered the Sarecky and Colwell contempt resolutions, and Chairman Frawley stated today that these resolutions would be passed in the senate and assembly, as the committee's counsel, Eugene Lamb Richards, is especially insistent that Sarecky shall be sent to jail for refusing to answer questions.

BALKAN WARFARE SUBJECT OF STUDY BY CARNEGIE AIDS

Special Attention Will Be Given to Rumors of Massacres of Non-Combatants.

POINT TO FUTURE PERIL

Commission Expected to Gain Arguments in Favor of Universal Peace Program.

MANY NATIONS TO HAVE ENVOYS

PARIS, Aug. 19.—On the initiative of the division of intercourse and education of the Carnegie endowment fund for international peace, a committee representing the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, Germany, and Austria has been appointed to make an impartial inquiry into the alleged massacres in the Balkans during the recent war and the economic consequences arising from the war. The inquiry will not be affected by any political considerations.

The work of the committee will have as its basis evidence published by the various governments and by official news agencies and the testimony of American and European travelers who have visited the scene of events. It will endeavor to verify this testimony and compare it with evidence the committee adduces, and, after a careful sifting, the result of the committee's findings will be published in a general report which will be translated into many languages and widely disseminated.

Will Point Perils Ahead.

The committee believes the work will meet a widely expressed desire by the people in drawing out the moral of the drama which was played for nearly a year before the whole world, and that it also will point out consequences that are feared.

The work will call attention to fresh dangers that are likely to arise and claim further victims in both the Balkans and Asiatic Turkey. Finally, the committee hopes to draw from an excess of evil a great lesson in favor of settled order and the friendly or judicial solution of international conflicts.

Members of Committee.

At a meeting held here today at the Carnegie bureau, presided over by Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, the following persons were delegated to proceed Wednesday to the various Balkan states to prosecute the inquiry:

Dr. H. N. Braissford, who has written extensive reviews on Balkan and Macedonian questions, representing Great Britain.

Prof. Samuel Train Dutton of Columbia university, representing the United States.

Justin Godart, member of the chamber of deputies, representing France.

Prof. Paul Milukoff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats in Russian duma, representing Russia.

Prof. Paszkowski of Berlin university, representing Germany.

Prof. Redlich, a member of parliament, representing Austria.

BEACH GUARDIANS IN TROUBLE.

Cameron Fish and Morton Varley Accused of Beating Frank Whiting.

Cameron Fish, a life saver at the Chicago beach, and Martin Varley, a special policeman, were arrested yesterday on warrants issued by Municipal Judge Sabath of the Hyde Park branch. The arrests were made after Frank Whiting of 6029 Kimbark avenue had shown numerous bruises he received.

Whiting was arrested by Fish and Varley on Monday, with Frank and Albert Vinnedge, for fighting on the beach.

Whiting said that Fish attacked him, knocked him down, and hit him on the head with a club. He said Fish attacked him after a request for a canoe had been made to him. The case was continued.

SHOWERS EXPECTED FOR TODAY

Warmer Temperatures Will Continue for Two Days, Tempered by Lake Breeze, Says U. S. Experts.

Showers and a higher temperature are predicted for today. The warm weather is expected to continue tomorrow also. However, Miss Lake Breeze will spend the day in Chicago. Local showers also are promised for the downstate residents. The mercury mounted to 78 degrees yesterday and the lowest temperature reported by the government bureau was 71. A quarter of an inch of rain has fallen in the last twenty-four hours.

M'DERMOTT AIDED BY PAWNBROKER

Chicago Congressman Got Loan of $1,000 Without Security; Never Repaid It.

HORNING TELLS FACTS.

Stockyards Representative Met Lenders at Conference to Discuss Loan Shark Legislation.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—James T. McDermott, Chicago's stock yards congressman, obtained $1,000 from George C. Horning, chief of the pawnbrokers' forces fighting the loan shark legislation, according to testimony heard today by the house lobby investigating committee.

By virtue of hard prodding the committee elicited this and other interesting admissions from Horning, who was an extremely reluctant witness. Horning said he "loaned" McDermott the $1,000 without note, security, or interest charge and without any understanding as to its payment. He said McDermott has not paid him any of the amount.

Horning said he gave McDermott this money in varous amounts up to the latter part of 1911. It was in 1911 that Horning conferred with Representative McDermott and John D. McDermott, general field agent of the United Brewers' association, in the latter's New York office on plans for the fight against the loan shark bill.

McMichael Supports Testimony.

McMichael testified that Congressman McDermott admitted receiving $7,500 from the pawnbrokers for his work in their behalf.

Horning admitted he participated in this conference and that Congressman McDermott, John D. McDermott, and McMichael were there. They discussed the loan shark bill, he said, but he could remember few of the details.

He would neither affirm nor deny that Congressman McDermott while in the conference sought to call on the long distance telephone his friend, Representative Rothermel of Pennsylvania, a member of the District of Columbia committee in which the loan shark bill was pending.

In lobbying for the defeat of the legislation, Horning admitted he contributed $825 to the Democratic national committee, $500 of the amount coming out of the $3,800 fund raised by the Washington pawnbrokers.

Got Loan Without Security.

Chairman Garrett asked Horning if Representative McDermott had ever been a customer of his pawnshop.

"I never considered him so," replied the lender.

"Did you ever loan him money?"

"Yes, sir."

"On what security?"

"None."

"On his word?"

"Yes, sir."

"Have all loans to McDermott been repaid?" asked Garrett.

With this question Horning for the first time seemed to be ill at easte. His face flushed and his voice sank to a whisper as he replied in the negative.

"He owes you something now?" suggested Garrett.

"Yes."

"How much does he owe you?"

"One thousand dollars."

"Have you his notes for it?"

"No."

"Any security or writing of any kind?"

"No, sir."

Talks of New York Conference.

Telling of the New York trip, Horning wouldn't say whether he had gone with McDermott and McMichael or met them there. He thought he might have sent McMichael on ahead on that occasion, because the latter professed to know some one who would turn the weight of Tammany hall toward procuring a hearing for the pawnbrokers.

Horning said he felt that they had not received fair treatment from the two district committees which had offered them almost no opportunity to present their cases.

He knew that somewhere, either by appointment or by accident, he met Representative McDermott and McMichael in New York. Later, he could not tell just how, they all found themselves in the office of John D. McDermott, discussing the loan shark situation.

He placed the date of the interview as some time in 1911.

Can't Recall McDermott Phoning.

"Can you remember whether Representative McDermott tried to reach Representative Rothermel of Pennsylvania over the phone?" asked Garrett.

"Not to my knowledge."

"Prior to the trip to New York had you discussed the loan shark bill with Representative McDermott?"

"I suppose so."

Horning admitted he had been introduced to John McDermott by Representative McDermott, but was sure it was sometime before the conference in New York.

"Did you and Representative McDermott discuss the trip to New York before you went?" asked Garrett.

STEPHENSON MUM ON RETIRING.

United States Senator from Wisconsin Silent on Report He Will Not Be Candidate.

Marinette, Wis., Aug. 19.—United States Senator Isaac Stephenson will neither affirm nor deny a story from Ashland that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Mr. Stephenson has been asked to make a definite statement many times recently with regard to his political intentions, but all queries have been met with a flat refusal to commit himself.

HOW TO LEARN WHERE YOU LIVE

City Superintendent of Maps Will Distribute Pamphlets of New Street Names.

John D. Riley, superintendent of maps, expects a large number of callers today. He announced yesterday that he has received the pamphlets containing the list of new street names that went into effect last Friday and is ready to distribute them to the public. His office is at the south end of the fourth floor of the city hall.

'FAULT OF WOMAN' DIGGS' TESTIMONY IN OWN DEFENSE

Witness Says Marsha Warrington Suggested Trip Which Led to Arrest of Four.

WIFE GOES ON THE STAND

Mrs. Caminetti Also Appears to Help Save California Men from Conviction.

CASE WILL REACH THE JURY TODAY

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Maury I. Diggs, formerly state architect of California, took the witness stand in his own defense today in his trial in the federal court for violation of the Mann act. He admitted in detail his relations with Marsha Warrington, preceding and including the trip to Reno which resulted in the arrest of the couple, together with Drew Caminetti and Lola Norris.

His only defense was that "it was the woman's fault." He said he tried to break away from Miss Warrington and that it was she who suggested the flight of the four.

After listening for an hour or more to her husband's admissions of unfaithfulness, Mrs. Diggs took the stand to defend him. She was followed by Mrs. Caminetti. The testimony of both was introduced to show the men had made the trip in the hope of avoiding a public scandal.

This closed the cases of both prosecution and defense. Arguments, begun tonight, will close early tomorrow and the case will go to the jury. The trial of Caminetti will follow.

Says He Feared Exposure.

All of Diggs' testimony was an effort to prove that he was worried, harassed, hunted from every side by the consequences of his own misconduct, and that his only thought was to get out of town, give the scandal surrounding him a chance to die down, and then come back to his family and business.

His testimony was in direct contradiction to the testimony of Miss Warrington and Miss Norris, who have sworn that they left home against their judgment and desire and only when marriage had been promised them. As early as Jan. 31, he testified, she had said to him, "You're a piker. We girls have framed this, and you fellows have got to go along with us."

"On March 3d," he testified, "I remember talking about my fix with Miss Warrington. 'I've got to go away from here,' I told her. 'Things are getting too hot for me. We'd better disconnect.'

"She didn't want me to go. I told her that I had to—that I had a future, a family, and a business to protect, and that I was going to Los Angeles for awhile, and give public opinion a chance to die down.

Tells Escape in Auto.

"About a week before we went to Reno I took an automobile ride with Miss Warrington. We saw another machine behind us and I told her it was my father with an officer of the juvenile court. We traveled fifty miles an hour for some minutes and lost them.

"My father was in town then, and I knew he was looking for me. I believed what I told the girl. She said, 'Believe me, you're not going away and leave me here.'

"'Do just as you please,' I said. 'I'm going and I'm going alone.'

"Marsha said no, she's got to go, too, and Miss Norris with her. Miss Norris never would have gone to Reno if Miss Warrington hadn't insisted on it from the first."

"I got the machine," continued Diggs, "and rode around in it all day, calling at O'Brien's saloon from time to time. 'That father of yours is a terror,' O'Brien told me. 'He's running around here like a maniac. It's places like this that ruin young men,' says he. 'I'll have you closed if it takes the last cent I've got.'

"I went into hiding. Later I learned from my uncle that my father was gone and I came out of hiding."

Conference with Uncle.

Diggs told of the efforts his family were making to break off his relations with the girl. He told of a meeting in which there were present Caminetti, Miss Norris, and Marshall Diggs, his uncle.

"My uncle said I should go home to my wife and quit running around and leave other women alone," he testified. "Miss Norris insisted I'd best leave town. My uncle told me my wife knew about my affairs."

He said that Caminetti came to him later and said:

"That father of yours is a terror. He called me on the phone to ask where you were and when I told him I did not know he called me a liar and told me he'd have me fired out of my job, that I wasn't fit to be working for the state board of control."

Caminetti told me," Diggs added, "that his wife had been after him, that she had told him she was going to Judge Hughes for a warrant, and that things had gone far enough."

SPANISH TREASURE HOAX AGAIN.

Laporte, Ind., Woman Asks Divorce from Husband Who Went to Free "Prisoner."

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—After waiting more than two years for the return of her husband from a trip to Spain, where he went some time ago to free a political prisoner, Mrs. Tillie Franz today filed a divorce suit against F. W. Franz.

The scheme is one that has been worked many times in Indiana. The writer of an appeal, claiming he owned a large fortune, would divide with his liberator. Franz was to get $50,000 and it has been said here that prominent men put in several thousand dollars to finance the trip.

The only allegation is desertion. Franz was a prominent business man here.

BLACKTON 'HYDRO' AGAIN WINS TITLE

Baby Speed Demon Takes the Twenty-six Foot Honors Off Grant Park.

MISHAPS MAR CONTEST.

Oregon Kid for Second Time Forced to Drop Out with Race Apparently Won.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

J. Stuart Blackton's stubby little hydroplane Baby Sped Demon had another big day yesterday, when it defeated the other flyers in the speed boat races held in connection with the water carnival and added the American twenty-six foot championship to the national twenty foot title it won on Monday.

As was the case on the preceding day, the element of luck was injected into the victory of Baby Speed Demon, for the Blackton craft trailed Milton Smith's Oregon Kid for ten miles and was enabled to take the lead only when the coast hydroplane had engine trouble and went "dead" at a time when it apparently had the race won. It was the second hard luck experience of Smith, for Oregon Kid had led up to the final laps on the day before, only to be eliminated from the race when the engine failed.

Travels 43 Miles an Hour.

Yesterday's finals brought together H. H. Timken's Kitty Hawk V. of Canton, O., and C. V. Cooper's Van Blerck of Portland, Ore., in addition to Baby Speed Demon and Oregon Kid. Kitty Hawk V., after making one slow lap in third position, had motor trouble and went out of the contest just after starting the second round. With Kitty Hawk V. and Oregon Kid both out of the running, Van Blerck merely breezed around the course in order to win second money. Baby Speed Demon raised its record of the day before and made the twelve miles in 17:32, which was at an average speed of about forty-three miles an hour. The time of Van Blerck was 20:54⅘.

Eight boats appeared in the preliminary heats and the final, but of that number only three were able to get through the afternoon's dashes without trouble. These were Kitty Hawk Jr., Baby Speed Demon, and Van Blerck. Those put out by various troubles were Earl Dakin's Hydro Bullet of Elkhorn, Wis.; J. Stuart Blackton's Baby Reliance of New York; H. H. Timken's Kitty Hawk V., of Canton, O.; C. A. Williams' Sand Fly of Chicago; and Milton Smith's Oregon Kid of Ranier, Ore. None of the boats suffered serious damage, however, and all will be ready to start in today's events.

Barnacle May Race Today.

Adam F. Weckler's 200 horsepower hydroplane, Barnacle, which cracked its crank case in practice preceding Monday's races, could not get repairs made in time to get into yesterday's contests. Mr. Weckler said last night the broken part had been patched up and that an attempt would be made to race Barnacle today.

The first heat brought out Baby Reliance, Oregon Kid, Hydro Bullet, and Kitty Hawk Jr. Baby Reliance "died" on the backstretch in the initial lap and was towed to its boathouse, while Hydro Bullet went out soon after. This left Oregon Kid and Kitty Hawk Jr., and it was an easy matter for the coast flyer to get a substantial lead over its rival. Oregon Kid's time for the heat was 19:02 2-5, while that of Kitty Hawk Jr. was 19:26 1-5.

Kitty Hawk V., Baby Speed Demon, and Sand Fly appeared in the second heat, but the trio was broken up when Sand Fly had motor trouble and dropped out. The craft was later disqualified anyhow, for its driver cut inside the first mark at the beginning of the heat. Kitty Hawk V. took the lead at the start and maintained its advantage throughout. Van Blerck was the only boat ready to come to the line when Starter Ohl gave the word, so was sent around alone to qualify.

Martin Thrills Spectators.

With no competition in the heat, Aviator Glenn Martin had the water front to himself and gave the 12,000 spectators exhibitions of scientific flying and skimming over the surface of the harbor. One of Martin's stunts consisted in lighting on the water near W. J. Connors' Buffalo steam yacht Mary Alice and taking the owner on board for a flight over the harbor. Later on Martin ascended 1,000 feet with Miss Broadwick, who made a thrilling drop in a parachute. She was taken from the water by police aboard the harbor patrol boat.

Racing in the final heat for the twenty-six foot championship were Oregon Kid, Kitty Hawk V., Van Blerck, and Baby Speed Demon. Baby Speed Demon at once went into the lead, with Kitty Hawk V. second, Oregon Kid third, and Van Blerck fourth. At the north end of the course, after one and one-half miles had been covered, Oregon Kid, by a great burst of speed, took the lead. Kitty Hawk V. died rounding the first turn on the second lap, and was towed off the course. Driver Smith of Baby Speed Demon went after Oregon Kid in an attempt to catch the coast boat, but could not gain much. At the end of eight miles Oregon Kid was doing great work and widening the gap between it and the pursuing Blackton craft.

Engine Goes "Dead"; Loses Race.

At the end of ten miles Oregon Kid had a lead of a half mile and looked a sure winner. Then the unexpected happened. Oregon Kid's motor began missing badly and the boat slowed to twenty miles an hour. Baby Sped Demon had no trouble in taking the lead, and when Oregon Kid stopped entirely the Blackton boat no longer had opposition, for Van Blerck was nearly lapped. The time of Baby Speed Demon was 17:32 and that of Van Blerck was 20:54 3-5.

Following rumors that several thousands of dollars had changed hands on the result of the twenty foot championship on Monday, Deputy Supt. Schuettler detailed a squad of detectives to watch the spectators at yesterday's races and prevent gambling. First Deputy Sheriff Peters said he would act with the police in stopping any gambling on the races. He also declared he did not believe there were any bets being made.

"I have been over to the park and did not see anything that looked like gambling," said Deputy Peters. "I do not believe it will be necessary to take any action, but we will assist the police if necessary."

The thirty-two foot championship will be decided today and will be run in three heats and a final. Fourteen boats are entered, including the twenty footers that competed yesterday. The first heat will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

SENATA TAKES YACHT TROPHY.

Craft, Piloted by Dr. Schmidt, Lands the Feature of Inland Lake Association Program.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Dr. O. L. Schmidt of Chicago won the race for the Commodore Schmidt cup in the Inland Lake Yachting association regatta on Lake Winnebago this afternoon. The Chicago physician was at the tiller of his new racer, Senta, which represents the Lake Geneva Yacht club, and after getting a mediocre start he soon worked his craft into the lead. By splendid seamanship he pulled away from the fleet and never was headed.

Alfonso Wants Polo ists at Madrid.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Daily Telegraph says King Alfonso of Spain, who is a polo enthusiast, warmly approves of the plan for a British team which is to try to regain the polo cup from America to practice at Madrid before sailing for New York.

Duke of Westminster Subscribes.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Duke of Westminster has subscribed $5,000 to the fund of $500,000 which it is proposed to raise for the purpose of sending a good team of representative British athletes to Berlin in 1916 to compete in the Olympic games.

MOTOR DRIVER ASKS $100,000

Adams Sues, Alleging He Failed to Get Car for Races.

MERCER MACHINES ARRIVE.

Nineteenth Nomination Made When Case Entry Is Reported.

BY REED L. PARKER.

It is worth $100,000 to a man to start in the 500 mile race at Indianapolis.

Frank L. Adams, a racing driver, alleges this, and will attempt to prove it in the courts. He filed suit yesterday against the Automatic Motor and Engineering company, 15 South Michigan avenue, to recover damages. He says in the bill of complaint he had made a contract with the company in February for the construction of a ninety horsepower automobile, to be driven by him in the 500 mile race last May 30. The machine was to have been delivered to him on May 1.

Picture Printed in Program.

On May 10, the bill states, the machine was uncompleted and the company refused to turn it over to him. Adams says he already had paid $100 entry fee and that his picture and name had been printed in the program of the races. When he saw it would be impossible for him to get the car ready for the race he attempted to get another but failed.

The ridicule, Adams says he suffered from his friends and newspapers because of his failure to start, caused him great mental anguish. Adams entered the car under the name of the Smada.

The Mercer cars which Ralph De Palma and Spencer Wishart are to pilot in both races at Elgin on the 29th and 30th arrived yesterday. De Palma has selected a camp at Gurnett's on the east leg of the course, and will begin work immediately. Four racing cars will be used, two in the light car event on the first day and two in the Elgin National. De Palma has been around the course and reports it to be in the best of condition.

Sloan Names Case Machine.

Entries for the Elgin races reached nineteen yesterday when Alex Sloan nominated a Case car to be driven in the big race on the second day of the meeting by "Wild Bill" Endicott. The car named is the Case "Tornado," a six cylinder machine of high horsepower, which has been doing fast work in various race meets around the country. It was last seen in action in the races held at Libertyville last Sunday. Chairman C. G. Sinsabaugh of the Chicago Automobile club's contest committee, which is in charge of the affair, is confident twenty-two or twenty-three cars will face Starter Fred J. Wagner in the two races.

Aurora to See Motor Races Today.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Louis Disbrow, Eddie Hearne, "Wild Bill" Endicott, Rickenbacher, and Lou Heineman will compete tomorrow in the first contest of motor "speed kings" ever staged in Aurora. There are eight events on the program, which includes races from one to five miles.

JIMMY BARDELL NEAR DEATH.

Veteran Wrestler and Former Trainer of White Sox Is Reported Dying at Joliet Hospital.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—James Bardell, former trainer of the White Sox and ex-champion lightweight wrestler of the world, is dying in a Joliet hospital. Bardell has been failing for months and suffered a complete nervous breakdown a week ago. Physicians declare there is only a small chance for him to live. He is known throughout the country among sporting men as a trainer of boxing referee, and is an old personal friend of Charles Comiskey, Jim Jeffries, Tommy Cannon, and other sportsmen. He was one of the three sponsors of Packey McFarland's first fight at Tattersall's old fight arena in Chicago.

SPORTING NEWS NOTES.

Cycle riders will race for the five mile Wilson trophy in a five mile contest featuring the program at Gardner's park Saturday night.

The Chicago Hebrew institute will hold its fourth of a series of athletic contests on Sunday afternoon. The meet is an open one. Entries close tomorrow.

The Shamrock Gaelic Athletic club at its annual picnic on Saturday will hold a track and field meet confined to playing members of clubs of the Gaelic Athletic association at Gaelic park.

The first meeting of the Chicago Football league will be held Monday night at 284 North Clark street. All amateur teams in Chicago and vicinity are eligible to join.

The Detroit road team in the motorcycle league will open a series of races tonight at Riverview motordrome with the local team. Besides the league championship contest a match race and a sweepstakes will make up the card.

Runners will compete in a five mile road race on Saturday, Sept. 20, under the auspices of the Dodge A. C. The start will be at Fourteenth and Halsted streets. Blanks can be obtained at Stanford park, Fourteenth place and Union street.

In the semi-final round of the municipal playground championship series, Orleans defeated Audubon at Commercial park. Shields for Orleans fanned twenty men and allowed only two hits. Next Saturday at Wrightwood playground, Orleans and Christopher will meet for the municipal playground championship of the city.

For the purpose of encouraging swimming at the South Shore Country club, Marquard Schwarz, acting athletic director, has arranged a swimming meet on Saturday for junior boy and girl members. There will be six events for boys ranging from 9 to 18 years of age, and the same number of contests for girls of the same ages.

The West Maywood Tennis club will hold an open tournament, starting on Aug. 30 and concluding on Labor day. The play will be for the West Suburban singles championship. The club's courts are of clay and located on Washington street between Seventeenth and Eighteen streets. Entries should be sent to J. M. Kucera, 832 Fifteenth avenue, or R. E. Macduff, 806 Fifteenth avenue, not later than Aug. 28.

Oak Park Coppers Lead in Shoot.

In the first of five revolver contests which are to take place between the police of Oak Park and Cicero during the summer, held at the Cicero target grounds yesterday afternoon, the Oak Park men were victorious by a margin of thirty-seven points. Lieut. Peter H. Ripke of the Oak Park department took the highest number of points.

GOLF PRIZES TO MRS. COLBURN

Scores in Two Events of Tournament at Glen View.

GETS LOW GROSS CARD OF 93

Lawyers' Association to Compete at Westward Ho Today.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Mrs. F. S. Colburn of Glen View, who has been the most consistent of the local players this season scored in two events of the open tournament at Glen View yesterday. She won the low gross prize in the afternoon handicap with a card of 93. In the morning she was paired with Mrs. Percy Manchester of Skokie in the nine hole foursome, and after a tie at 49 with Miss Florence Wikoff of Calumet and Mrs. J. L. Pfaff of Midlothian, the north side combination won after playing five holes. The south side pair took the prize for low net with a card of 49—6—43.

Mrs. J. W. Douglas of Evanston, 102—14—88, Miss Ruth Steele of Homewood, 102—14—88, and Mrs. C. H. Poppenhusen, Glen View, 116—28—88, tied for low net in the afternoon, the last named winning the draw, second prize going to Miss Steele.

Mrs. Charles E. Yerkes of the home club won the prize for the lowest total at the four short holes, getting a score of 15. Mrs. E. T. Perkins of Glen View had second best gross in the afternoon with a card of 96.

The fifth annual one day tournament of the Lawyers' Golf association will be held today at the Westward Ho Golf club and will consist of thirty-six holes medal play, the legal preferring to take their golf straight. Many of the trade and commercial associations prefer theirs mixed, so as to keep the scorer busy.

The tournament is open to all practicing lawyers and judges members of clubs affiliated with the W. G. A. or U. S. G. A., or members of the Chicago Bar association. All the events will be played according to the revised statutes of Illinois. Appearances can be filed at the tee. The annual dinner of the association will be held at the clubhouse at night.

A number of local golfers left last night to compete in the annual invitation tournament of the Kent Country club, which will start today at Grand Rapids. Between thirty and forty Chicago men are expected to compete.

Mohr Takes Golf Honors.

Grand Beach, Mich., Aug. 19.—[Special]—William J. Mohr, who had an allowance of one stroke, won the Grand Beach handicap golf cup, defeating Frank Charles 1 up in the play off of their tie. Miss Jeanette Perkins of Grand Beach won the handicap for women, defeating Mrs. Magenheimer 1 up in the final.

COCKNEYS OBJECT TO JOHNSON.

Announcement That Colored Fighter Will Appear in London Brings Number of Remonstrances.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 19.—There is a possibility that Jack Johnson, the American negro pugilist, will not be allowed to appear on the stage in this city. The announcement that he would do a turn next week at one of the smaller west end music halls brought a number of remonstrances to the manager to the effect that the London public, after the revelations of Johnson's violations of the white slave laws of the United States, would not stand for the negro pugilist as an entertainer.

The manager retorted that he did not think the question of morality entered into the matter if the boxing exhibition by Johnson was a good one. Besides, the term "white slavery" does not mean the same thing in England as it does in the United States, and the crime with which Johnson is charged in the United States would not be an offense against the law here. The Federation of Variety Artists will discuss the question at a meeting in this city on Thursday.

MOY TO MEET WILLIE RITCHIE.

Sparring Partner of Freddie Welsh Will Meet the American Champion at Vancouver on Labor Day.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 19.—Willie Ritchie, world's lightweight champion, will remain in Vancouver for the next five weeks, and will defend his title on two occasions. Owing to the injury sustained by Freddie Welsh and which forced him to abandon the holiday bout, Eddie Moy was substituted by the promoters last night. Moy, who is Welsh's sparring partner, has appeared in several bouts at Brighouse and has made a splendid impression. Ritchie will defend his title against Welsh on Sept. 20.

GILBERT STOPS MIKE SCHRECK.

Referee Halts Cincinnati Fight in the Fourteenth Round, with Ohioan Almost Helpless.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Mike Schreck, the Cincinnati heavyweight, went down to defeat before Billy Gilbert of Denver in fourteen rounds tonight. Referee Smith of Chicago stopped the mill when he saw that Schreck was absolutely helpless. Schreck twice nearly had his man out in seven rounds.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, starts today a siege of training which he believes will result in the winning of the championship. The westerner is taking lessons from Harry Forbes at Lewis' gymnasium, and he expects the advice which he receives from the former bantamweight king will do him a world of good. Morris also will be assisted by Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh, Wis., middleweight, who will swap wallops with the big fellow every day.

Charley Fishman, who has undertaken the management of Nate Kalb, a local 116 pounder, has matched him to box six rounds with Earl Denning at Streator on Labor day.

Charley White, Nate Lewis' clever 128 pounder, who will meet Johnny Griffiths over the twelve round route at Canton, O., on Sept. 1, will go into active training today at the Madison street gymnasium. Will e Schaeffer and Al White will act as Charley's sparring partners.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS.

Samuel Earl Crawford, the slugging outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, and one of the greatest all round ball players the game has ever known, is 33 years old today, having been born in Wahoo, Neb., Aug. 20, 1880. Sam was calling "Next!" in a barber shop when a barnstorming bunch of ball tossers struck his native village in 1897. Crawford was asked to join the barnstormers and he did. He made good right off the reel and the following season signed with Chatham [Ont.] team. In 1899 he joined the Columbus Western league team, being shifted later to Grand Rapids in the same league. At the close of the season he was turned over to the Cincinnati Reds, with which team he made his big league debut in 1900. After three years with the Reds he jumped the team and joined the Tigers. He has worn a Detroit uniform ever since. Crawford is one of the surest and hardest hitters in baseball. During his thirteen years in major league baseball he has failed only in four years to finish with a percentage of .300 or better.

Errors Aid Largely in Producing Winning Run in Fifth—Juul Puzzle Except in the Second.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The Youngsters mussed up the Chicago Federals' defense today and copped the final game of the series, 4 to 3. Juul was invincible except in the second when Chicago scored three runs. Timmersman pitched good ball at times, but at others, particularly in the fifth when the Youngsters won, he mixed passes with errors of his teammates. Score:

BREAKS TO HELP, PREDICTS P. L.

Team Favored by Element of Luck Probably Will Win World Series, Says Manager Chance.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Basing his prediction on the assumption that the Giants and Athletics will be the contenders, Frank Chance forecasts a remarkable struggle for world's championship honors this autumn. "The leaders of the two leagues appear to be evenly matched," said Chance in discussing the teams, "and I look for a close, exciting series. In my opinion the winning club will be the one that gets the early 'breaks' in the play. You can't eliminate the 'breaks' in baseball, and in a series as important and as short as the world's championship, it always has proved a prominent factor."

FIVE QUIT RIVERVIEW CLUB.

Manager Rugar and Four Players Leave North Side Team After Dispute Over Double Header.

Wholesale regulations and releases affecting the players of the Riverview club of the Lake Shore league has resulted in a totally different lineup of the second place holders in the Shore league for next Sunday's games. One of those to sever his connection with the club was Earl Rugar, formerly one of the best semi-pro pitchers. Rugar's job will be filled by Emmet O'Neill, his assistant, who has been appointed manager of the club by Owner John J. Brittain. The players who have dropped out are Jack Campion, second baseman; Jerry Kral, catcher; Al Schall, center fielder, and Billy Fenton, right fielder. Their places will be filled respectively by Otto Dicke, Art Krueger, Biess, formerly with Hammond, and Miller, formerly of Crown Point. Trouble arose after Sunday's two defeats by the Manitowoc club, the players claiming they ought to be paid at least for one and a half games for the double header, which was refused.

SCRIVENER TOPS CHESS PLAY

Memphis Entrant Takes Lead in Western Tourney.

FOUR VICTORIES IN A ROW.

Hohlbohm Scores Three Successes, with One Unfinished.

BY HARRY F. LEE.

The second day of play in the tourney of the Western Chess association saw four rounds completed. The lead is held by Scrivener of Memphis, Tenn. Hahlbohm has not lost, but has an unfinished game which he may or may not place in the winning column.

Mr. Scrivener has played a steady, strong game, and has well earned his high position. He is extremely modest and prefers to extol the ability of his fellow townsman, Jefferson, rather than his own.

The score at the end of four rounds is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Jefferson	2	2
Friedlander	2	2
Phillips	1½	2½
Shapiro	1	2
Morrison	1	3

Daniels	1	3
Michielsen	1	3
Hine	1	3
Gessner	1	3
Beckner	0	4

Hahlbohm, Hine, Gessner, and Widmeyer have unfinished games.

The results follow:

First round—Daniels beat Hine; Winter beat Palmer; Hahlbohm beat Michelsen; Gessmer beat Ellis; Elliott beat Morrison; Beckner beat Shapiro; Widmeyer and Jefferson drew; Scrivener beat Phillips; Crew beat Friedlander.

Second round—Jefferson and Phillips drew; Beckner beat Widmeyer; Shapiro beat Elliott; Morrison beat Gessner; Michelsen beat Ellis; Hahlbohm beat Winter; Hines beat Palmer; Friedlander beat Daniels; Scrivener beat Crew.

Third round—Friedlander beat Palmer; Hahlbohm and Hines adjourned their game; Winter beat Ellis; Michelsen beat Morrison; Gessner beat Shapiro; Elliott beat Widmeyer; Phillips beat Beckner; Scrivener beat Jefferson; Daniels beat Crew.

Fourth round—Scrivener beat Beckner; Elliott beat Phillips; Gessner and Widmeyer adjourned their game; Michelsen beat Shapiro; Winter beat Morrison; Hine beat Ellis; Hahlbohm beat Friedlander; Danfels beat Palmer; Jefferson beat Crew.

The games of Jefferson, Phillips and Morrison have been far below the standard usually set by these players. Mr. Jefferson's play has been without energy; Mr. Phillips is in wretched form, suffering from hay fever, and Mr. Morrison, not in the best of form, has had bad "tournament luck." It would not be surprising should any one or all of these players be found battling for top place long before the tournament ends.

WM. GRAYSON TO SUE MURPHY.

Former Owner of the Louisville Club Charges Cub Magnate Failed to Pay $2,000 for Cheney.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—William Grayson Jr. of St. Louis, millionaire and former owner of the Louisville American association club, stated today that he intended to sue in the civil courts Charles Webb Murphy, owner of the Chicago Cubs, for $2,000, the amount of Grayson's claim, disallowed Monday by the national commission, the supreme court of baseball.

Grayson says his suit will be based on Murphy's unfulfilled promise to pay $2,000 to him [Grayson] if Pitcher Larry Cheney, sent to the Cubs by Louisville in 1912, made good. Cheney did make good and is still the most dependable man on the Cubs' staff.

The national commission, in its finding, declared Murphy and Grayson had violated the laws of organized baseball, and as punishment the commission assessed a fine of $500 against Murphy, while Grayson was debarred from connecting with a national agreement club or league until he has been pronounced in good standing by the commission.

The decision amused Grayson. "I won't lose one wink of sleep by being debarred from organized baseball, but I propose to cause some of the people now in organized baseball a lot of trouble," he said.

CALS LAND BRETON BY TRADE.

Sox Get Kansas City Shortstop, Giving Pitcher Lange and Outfielder Mattick in Exchange.

Another shortstop was added to the White Sox infield material yesterday by the completion of a deal which will bring Shortstop Breton of the Kansas City team to Chicago for a tryout this fall. In exchange for him President Comiskey gave the American association club Pitcher Lange and Outfielder Mattick. The deal is to take effect immediately. Manager Callahan has no place for Lange the way the rest of the staff is going, and has to sacrifice Mattick's great fielding ability to gain batting strength if possible. They say Breton can hit.

HOT RACES AT SALEM TRACK

Peter Sims Takes Opening Event of Grand Circuit Meet.

VICTOR IN STRAIGHT HEATS.

Add F. Lands 2:10 Pace After Hardest Contest of the Program.

Salem, N. H., Aug. 19.—The half mile track horses had the program to themselves at Rockingham park today, where the first day's grand circuit meeting opened. All three events, two of them $2,000 stakes, were for the campaigners on the half mile circuits, and they furnished some good racing, especially in the 2:10 pace, which required five heats.

The 2:24 trot had a field of twelve, the largest which has started on the grand circuit this season, and was won in straight heats by Peter Sims, driven by C. W. Lasell of Whitinsville, Mass. Lew Perkins, a member of the Lasell stables last season, had things all his own way in the 2:17 pacing stake.

The 2:10 pacers put up the hottest contest of the day, the first three heats being won by different horses. It was finally won by Add F., driven by Lester Dore. Summaries:

NO BAN PUT ON PORTER RACING.

Ralston Says He Will Not Interfere if Club Upholds Law at Meeting Beginning Tomorrow.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 19.—Plans for a second summer race meeting of fifteen days, beginning Thursday, at Lake Porter county, Ind., track under the auspices of the Mineral Springs Jockey club, will receive no interference from Gov. Ralston if the meet is conducted in conformity with the Indiana statutes, especially those prohibiting gambling, according to a statement by the governor. "There will be the same steps taken as are taken in any instance to command compliance with the laws of the state," the governor said.

THIRTY-FIVE LEFT IN NEWPORT PLAY

No Sensational Upsets Mark Tournament for All-Comers' Net Honors.

M. E. M'LOUGHLIN VICTOR.

Other Stars Surviving Third Round Are Bundy, Niles, Williams, and Strachan.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 19.—Out of the field of 148 entrants for the all-comers singles championship in the thirty-third annual tournament of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, there remain tonight only thirty-five contenders for the title. Under fairly favorable playing conditions the eliminating process was both rapid and without sensational upsets.

Among the survivors are N. W. Niles, Alfred S. Dabney, W. M. Washburn, R. Norris Williams II., William M. Johnston, S. R. Voshell, M. E. McLoughlin, J. R. Strachan, T. C. Bundy, W. J. Clothier, Dean Mathey, Robert Leroy, Wallace F. Johnson, and Richard Palmer.

The ranking players came through true to form. Champion McLoughlin won from Hoffman Hickerson in straight sets; Clothier required four sets to dispose of G. M. Church; Bundy, doubles champion with McLoughlin, eliminated the last foreign player when he defeated Baron H. Von Lerner; William Johnston won handily from C. C. Cramer 8—6, 6—1, 6—2, while Strachan used A. R. Kennedy Jr. as a means of advancement in the third round.

One Armed Expert Victor.

The youngster of the tournament, F. A. Drew of St. Louis, who is only 16 years old, gave W. D. Bromwell of St. Louis a fine set tussle before he admitted defeat, 3—6, 6—3, 7—6, 6—2, 6—1. W. F. Burden, the one armed expert, won his way into the fourth round by defeating A. D. Champlin.

The grandstand court was given over to the match between G. F. Touchard, the brilliant but erratic New York star, and R. Norris Williams II., a member of the winning Davis cup team. Williams won in a five set match which developed only occasionally brilliant tennis, by scores of

WHITE SOX CRUSH CARRIGANS, 5 TO 1

Callahans Hit on All Six Cylinders and Make Red Hose Take Their Dust.

FEW SWATS ARE WASTED.

Cicotte Does Not Allow a Safety in First Six Innings and Gets Good Support.

Yesterday's Hero.

HAL CHASE

Chase started the White Sox on their road to victory by driving in two runs in the first inning and wrecked a promising opening for Boston in the fifth by a rapid double play.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Hitting on all six cylinders at once, the White Sox made Boston's world's champions take their dust again yesterday in the second match of their last series at Comiskey park. Score: 5 to 1.

The Callahans got their swats together and wasted few of them, thereby giving Eddie Cicotte an easier time than White Sox pitchers usually enjoy while on the slab. At that it was a stubborn battle with Cicotte only two runs to the good until after the middle of the combat and Eddie had to pitch all he knew in the first half.

The White Sox assaulted Ray Collins with determination and good results in the first inning, deriving two runs from a pair of singles and a double. Then Collins tightened up and stopped this attack by striking out two of our best batsmen. From there to the end of the fifth Collins was impervious to all attacks, only two widely separated singles being made off him in the next four innings.

Cicotte Stingy for Six Frames.

But Cicotte was doing better than that for he shut the Red Sox out without even a single for six consecutive frames. The champions were so helpless before the knuckle ball that Manager Carrigan tried to break the spell by sending Steven Yerkes to lead off at bat in the sixth in place of Collins. Yerkes must not have been good to Cicotte when Eddie wore red instead of white hose for he heartlessly whiffed Steve.

Carrigan then sent Earl Moseley, once a Cub prospect, to the slab and the Callahans liked him so well they mauled three runs out of his spit ball in two innings. Moseley would have escaped a lot easier, however, if his support had not got tangled up on a couple of plays at first base, letting two White Sox beat out sacrifice hits. The first of these was a bunt by Weaver in the seventh, which Mundy tossed to Wagner after waiting until almost Wednesday to do it.

Egan Chases Carrigan.

The verdict was close and Manager Carrigan grew so peevish about it that Umpire Egan finally chased him out of his armor, then off the bench entirely. On the next play Cicotte was given a life because Gardner, who fielded the bunt, flipped to Mundy, not knowing that on Tuesday Mundy did not cover first on bunts but Wagner did. Mundy was standing several feet off first base and had to relay the ball, which made it nearly Thursday before it got to Wagner on first. Cicotte being out in right field by that time.

This loaded the bases and a two bagger by Chappel emptied two-thirds of them on to the platter. Mosely stopped that fun by whiffing two more of our best batters, then gave way to a pinch hitter in the eighth. That let Charley Hall work the last half of the eighth on the hill and he got by without letting in a run, although he dented Shauno Collins in the slats.

The Red Sox connected three of their five hits in the seventh inning for the only tally they could get. They would not have had that one if Harry Lord had not lost the location of two base runners after knocking down a sizzling liner from Janvrin's bat. The pill dropped behind Lord and he recovered too late to get the batsman. But Speaker, who was on third when the drive was hit, turned back, thinking Lord would stab it. When Tris found the play he started home again and could have been cut off if Lord had not hit him in the back with the ball.

Collins Makes Fine Catch.

The Red Sox whaled Cicotte hard in the last inning, but running started by Collins and Bodie kept them from getting anything out of their mauling. Collins robbed Gardner of a screamer to right by jumping in the air and stabbing the pill with one hand. Bodie had previously pulled down a line hit by Speaker. One chain lightning play by Chase in the fifth inning did a lot toward turning the tide of battle. A pass and a wild pitch put Janvrin on second with nobody out and two runs would tie. Wagner smashed a hot one on a line to Chase, who squeezed it while on the run without losing an instant shot the ball to Weaver, slipping Janvrin off second with the help of Buck's swell catch of the low peg. The feature of the play was that Janvrin had gone only a few steps off second before the ball was caught.

The Callahans won the thing in their first. Chappell was out before Berger singled to center. Lord pulled a fast roller past Mundy, and Chase responded to the situation with a terrific smash to left. Lewis ran back, jumped, and reached the ball with one hand, but its force carried it on for a two bagger, scoring Berger and Lord. Just as it was beginning like a slaughter their Collins put a new crimp on the ball and struck out Bodie and our Collins.

Four Innings of Calm.

In the next four innings hardly a wheel stirred. Lord and Weaver made singles, but nobody else got on for us. The Red Sox were even more helpless. Not a hit was made off Cicotte, but two Red Sox reached second base in that time on slips by the home boys.

After Yerkes had failed to start anything in the sixth, Moseley came on for the home half. Berger opened on him with a double. Lord sacrificed and Chase popped out, but Bodie delivered the goods with a whale of a blow, sailing the ball over Speaker's dome for three bases. Collins struck out.

In the seventh Speaker led with the first hit off Cicotte. Lewis duplicated it. Gardner popped out. Then the runners pulled a double steal of third and second. Janvrin sent a liner crashing over Lord's head, but he stabbed at and knocked it down. After recovering the ball Lord tried to tag Lewis, who raced to third safely, then threw home to get Speaker, but hit him in the back. Wagner popped out and Lewis was trapped in an attempted double steal.

Schalk opened the home half with a single. Weaver and Cicotte were safe on bunts, as already told. Chappell drove a double to left, scoring Schalk and Weaver. Then Berger and Lord struck out and Chase groundered.

Thomas singled to start the eighth and Engle, batting for Moseley, forced the backstop out at second. Weaver and the runner collided and Buck's relay to first went wild, letting Engle to second. Lord killed Hooper's hit and retired him and then Mundy whiffed on Tuesday.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Boston once more today.

Pitcher Hall and Catcher Cady will be sent home to Boston from here to keep Smoky Joe Wood company and help get him back into commission for slab work.

Ray Collins caught Lord off first in the third inning by the use of his well known balk movement. Vean Gregg has much the same kind of a balk, and they will have to show us why it is not part of their regular pitching motion.

Yesterday's victory helped wipe out the memory of what the Red Sox did to us the last time we were in Boston. It also evened up the season's series between the two kinds of Hose. It now stands nine to nine, with four more games to play.

Schalk made a comedy muff of Speaker's tall foul in the fourth inning. The catcher hardly had to move out of his tracks and the ball lit squarely in his mitt, but bounced right out again as if it had landed on a flock of hornets. No one on the lines remembered having seen Schalk muff a foul fly before, but Ray said he had.

Catcher Thomas, who succeeded Carrigan when the manager was banished in the seventh, got the worst of blocking a double play in the eighth. He was our first with nobody out when Engle hit sharply to Berger, who tossed the ball to Weaver on second. Buck took it on the run and relayed without pausing, but Thomas bumped him and the ball went wild. The wind was knocked out of Thomas, but he recovered and continued backstopping.

THIRTEENTH FOR JOHNSON, 6-1

Sir Walter Continues Streak by Beating Cleveland.

CONTEST GOES TEN INNINGS.

Slow Fielding and Several Hits Net Four Runs in Last Round.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 19.—Walter Johnson pitched his thirteenth straight victory for Washington today, downing Cleveland in a contest that went ten innings. The score was 5 to 1.

For nine innings the game was a pitchers' battle, in which neither Johnson nor Falkenberg, who pitched for Cleveland, excelled. In the tenth slow fielding on the part of the locals and free hitting by the visitors gave Johnson the margin. Falkenberg struck out ten men. Score:

MACKS PROFIT BY ERRORS, 4-3; THREE IN SIXTH BEAT TIGERS.

Wild Throws and Loose Fielding Yield Trio of Tallies and Victory Over Jennings' Squad.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 19.—Detroit presented Philadelphia with a 4 to 3 victory today. Wild throwing, indifferent throwing, loose fielding, and an error at a critical moment enabled the visitors to come from behind, score three runs in the sixth inning and win the game. Neither team did a great deal of hitting. Philadelphia used three pitchers and Detroit two. Hall, who pitched good ball, was forced to leave the game in the seventh. Attempting to field Schang's bunt, he collided with the runner and injured his right ankle. Schang was spiked but resumed play. Score:

WALSH'S ARM IN SHAPE AGAIN; OWNER COMISKEY HAPPY MAN.

"That Settles Pennant Race for Next Year," Says Sox Master After Reading Joyful Telegram.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 19.—Ed Walsh, White Sox pitcher, thinks he will be as good as ever next season. He attended the Cleveland-Washington game today and was in good spirits. He had just returned from Youngstown, where he was treated by Bonesetter Reese. His trouble had been caused by a misplaced tendon in his right elbow and shoulder. Reese replaced the tendon in less than five minutes. Walsh was assured that his arm would become as stout as ever.

"Rest your arm for a week and if it feels sore after that do not attempt to do any more pitching this season," Reese told him.

President Comiskey of the White Sox was more elated yesterday over the receipt of a telegram from Ed Walsh announcing the successful result of his visit to Bonesetter Reese than he was over his team's victory over the Red Sox—which is saying a mouthful.

"That settles the pennant race for next year," said the master of the Sox after reading the message. "They might as well award us the 1914 pennant without playing for it with Big Ed added to the great pitching staff we now have.

"Now that he can stop worrying a rest will do Walsh good, and he shall have the rest. If he wants to he can go back to Mercer, where there is no chance to worry about anything except the fish you have at the other end of the line. It does not look as if we needed him the rest of this season and by next spring he will be as good as ever, with all his old cun restored."

Worst "Bonehead" Play I Ever Saw.

Chicago.—[To the Baseball Editor of The Tribune.]—The prize bonehead play occurred some years ago on the old White Sox grounds at Thirty-ninth street and Wentworth avenue, and I believe it was the last year that "Fielder" Jones was with the White Sox. The opposing team had a man on first and second base when the batter hit a short fly directly back of second base. "Fielder" Jones was playing center field and George Rohe was playing second base. Jones came in on the run, trapped the ball neatly, making a quick recovery on the first bound (there being less than two out) and threw the ball to Rohe, who was standing on second base. The man who had occupied second base before the ball was hit and the man who had been on first base were also standing on second, but poor Rohe tagged the wrong man. Instead of tagging the runner who was on second base before the play started, Rohe tagged the base runner who had been on first base. The natural result was, instead of having made a double play, only one man was out, as it was then too late to make a throw to first base to make a "put out" at the base. It is with amusement that I can still see the look of utter disgust on Jones' face while standing there in his w. k. position, arms akimbo, panning Rohe.

SAM WELLERISMS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—One more combat here tomorrow will wind up the series with the Phillies. Eddie Stack is slated to do the slab work, and will be opposed by either Alexander or Rixey.

The Cubs intend to leave for New York right after the game, catching a fast train at 6 o'clock from a station just outside the ball park.

It was learned today from X-ray examinations that Paskert had broken a finger of his right hand in catching a drive off Schulte's bat yesterday, and that Walsh of Philadelphia had broken a bone in his foot by being hit with a bat during practice.

Al Bridwell got a telegram from Tom Lynch at noon saying he [Al] was suspended for three days for making insinuating remarks at the umpire. Al told us that all he had said to Hank O'Day on the previous day was that he was so bum he would steal a nickel from his own mother.

One of the best features of the game today was the climate. During the night the wind had shifted and a cooling breeze was coming from the direction of the Atlantic ocean which was conducive to fighting spirit, pepper, or anything you wish to call it.

Big Jim Vaughn had to sit in the grandstand and look on because the only thing he had in the way of a baseball uniform was a pair of shoes and a glove. The Cub president sent him an here with nothing to wear in the game, and Jim has balked. Evers telegraphed for a suit, which may be here tomorrow.

Heine Zim turned a brainy trick in the third inning, and yet they josh him about pulling boners. When Becker singled to center with Killifer on second, it was a hot smash that skipped off the tip of Pierce's glove. Heine got down and yelled for the ball, and Killifer made a beauty slide for third, then discovered the ball being heaved back by Leach from center.

Yesterday's Hero.

FRANK SCHULTE

Double crossing the Philadelphia infield, Frank Schulte aided largely in the Cubs' seventh straight victory. Schulte has hit safely twice in each of the last six games.

BY SAM WELLER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—The high geared Cubs won their seventh straight victory this afternoon when they trounced the slumping Phillies for the fourth time. This game was something of a combat, as the Chicagoans won by a nose, 3 to 2.

What little bit of pennant aspirations existed here last Saturday has gone a-glimmering since the Cubs struck town. On the other hand there are a few members of the Chicago party optimistic enough to be counting up the difference between the Giants and Cubs in the race for the old flag. The Cubs need only to continue at their present pace and there'll be a lot of New Yorkers shivering with fear inside of a week. Just now Evers' team seems to be the class of the league and it is not winning entirely by luck. The boys are playing great baseball, the best they have shown this year.

Cravath Poles Four Hits.

Their combat was won by smart offensive playing and brilliant defense from start to finish. G. Filbert Pierce, the well known southpaw spitter with control, was on the slap dealing out swell stuff to the ambitious batters of the local team. "Gabby" Cravath was the only guy who wasn't fussed by this stuff and he could not win the game single handed. Pierce held the enemy to eight blows and just half was made by the hard hitting right fielder, who poled two singles and two doubles in four times at bat. The rest of the guys were easy.

Behind Pierce the boys played a sparkling fielding game. A lot of hard chances also were handled in able manner. Once the ancient and honorable Mr. Leach turned a sprint for the back fence and hauled down a terrific line drive by Sherwood Nottingham Magee, said drive being billed for a home run. If that one blow had gotten away the game would have gone with it, as there were two athletes on the runway at the time and two over.

Schulte Pulls Double Cross.

The clever assault of the Cubs in the fourth, when they got two runs, was really good to look upon, and Frank Schulte, our dandy right fielder of clouting fame, played the leading part. Frank deliberately worked the double cross and did just the opposite of what the Phils expected, and his trick put the Cubs in front.

When Schulte went to bat there were two men on and none out and the Phillies had made one run. Of course every one on the home team thought Frank would bunt. The first ball pitched to the famed hitter was outside the plate and gave him just the opportunity he wanted. When he choked his bat and made a bluff to bunt it every one was sure he was going to bunt. He took one terrific wallop and pulled a terrific bounder down inside of first base. The ball went ripping past Luderus and rolled away out to right field for a two bagger, sending one runner home and the other to third. Before that inning was over another man was sent home, then in the next round the Cubs drove home their third run.

Cubs Held to Seven Hits.

Young Seaton, on the slab for the home team, was in fine pitching form, but helpless when Schulte worked the double cross on him. All told, the Cubs got only seven base hits off Seaton and were unable to get any runs home after the run getting home.

Killifer, first up, made a base hit of a slow bounce along the first base lines. Seaton laid down a bunt, putting Killifer on second, and Becker lined a single to center. Killifer was tricked into sliding to third base by the antics of Heine Zim, who spoiled his chance to score on that hit, but it made no difference in the end, for after Knabe had popped out Lobert singled to center, sending the catcher home. Then it was that Magee drove terrifically to center field. Tommy Leach made his great sprint to the wall and caught the ball, saving the game.

Seaton Unsteady in Fourth.

Seaton was unsteady right after that and it put him in the hole before Schulte turned his trick. Leach, first up in the fourth, walked and then Seaton hit Evers on the ship with a pitched ball, putting two on with none out. Schulte followed with his double cross, a double to right, sending Leach home and Evers to third. Heine Zimmerman poled a single to left and Evers trotted in, while Schulte was stopped at third. Becker heaved to the plate just the same and Heine Zim scooted to second on the heave. It looked as if a stampede would follow, but right there Seaton regained his form and Saier popped up a foul to Becker, Williams boosted to Knabe, and Corriden tapped out to the pitcher.

The other run was the result of a two base blow by Archer at the start of the fifth. Cravath lost the ball in the sun. Pierce grounded out and Archer moved to third. Leach died on a bounce to Luderus. Archer remained at third, but came home when Evers poked a single to left. Schulte died to Becker.

With a two run lead, the Cubs had little fear when the last of the ninth came, but Cravath, first up, doubled to left. Luderus drove deep to right center and Leach made another sparkling catch. Cravath ran to third after the out. The Cubs paid no attention to Cravath, however, as his run could do no damage. Doolan smashed sharply to Corriden and was headed out at first, Cravath scoring. Killifer singled to right and then Manager Dooin himself batted for Seaton, winding up the fanning.

POTATO MARKET GROWS STRONGER

Liberal Receipts Taken by Dealers at Prices Firm to 5 Cents Higher.

Buying Is Restricted to Small Volume; Butter and Eggs Remain Firm.

Potatoes at Chicago yesterday sold at firm to 5c higher prices, the market exhibiting more strength than on any previous day in a long time. Receipts were liberal, 65 cars, but dealers believed prices had been sufficiently reduced and held stock more firmly than formerly. Sales of Ohios were made at 30@55c and of Jersey cobblers at 90c a bu.

Poultry prices remained without change. Receipts were smaller, 7 cars and 635 coops, but buyers were reluctant to buy at the premiums asked over board prices and business was restricted to small volume. None of the dressers who usually lead buying forces attended the meeting of the poultry board.

Firmness pervaded the market for butter and eggs. Demand for the best grades of these commodities was in excess of the supply and buyers paid a premium for fancy goods. Receipts were 10,899 tubs of butter and 10,977 cases of eggs.

A further slight gain was made by prices of peaches, receipts of which have shown considerable shrinkage this week. Watermelons were held on a firm basis.

PROTEST BY LINCOLN PARK.

Locomotive Firm Promoter Gets $5,000,000 Canceled.

Protests from the Lincoln park board caused the Chicago Railways company yesterday to withdraw its demand that a considerable part of its assessment in the park district be transferred to South Town, where the tax rate is lower.

Williston Fish, general manager, and other representatives of the company agreed not to insist upon a redistribution of the assessment when Attorney Francis O'Shaughnessy for the park board pointed out that the company would benefit by park improvement. He also showed the company now derives a big revenue from the park traffic.

The scheduled assessments of the company total $7,208,297 in North Town and $1,067,896 in Lake View, both of which contribute the revenue of the Lincoln park board. The schedule in South Town is $4,271,583. Reductions requested by the company were taken under advisement by the board of review.

Capital Stock Taxed.

The board taxed thousands of dollars on capital stock during the day which had not heretofore been assessed.

This year the board has followed out the policy of taxing capital stock above the assessed personal property and real estate holdings of corporations. This is said to represent for the most part intangible assets.

"We have placed stock assessments where we never did before," said Roy O. West, president. "I cannot estimate the amount of the raise we have made, but know it runs into thousands. If there was an adequate tax law in the state it would not be necessary to tax capital stock, because all property then would be scheduled under the two heads of real and personal."

Has $5,000,000 Concern Exempted.

Frank Hennebohle, 9408 South Chicago avenue, succeeded in having his $5,000,000 corporation stricken from the books when he proved the concern, organized to promote a high power locomotive, had "gone up in smoke." Hennebohle insisted his invention was good, however. He tried to interest Reviewer Webb, who pleaded he was busy. The company had been assessed at $1,250,000.

The assessment of the Hamilton club was increased by Mr. Webb from $3,950 to $10,000. The John R. Thompson company succeeded in having its stock assessment of $250,000 erased.

Bulk of Fresh Receipts Comprise Western Rangers; Sheep and Lambs Firmer.

Heavy hogs at Chicago yesterday were unsalable, while prime light weights were sent over the scales at Monday's lowest prices. The trade was dull and irregular, with prices covering the widest range of the season and making an average of $8.11, or 3c lower than on Monday and only 2c higher than the season's lowest medium figure. Tops sold to shippers at $9.00. They weighed 200 lbs and less. Heavier offerings were of irregular value and comprised the bulk of the 5,500 head left unsold at the finish.

Most of the fresh cattle receipts of 4,500 head were western rangers, which found an outlet at steady prices. Native steers were slow and weak to a shade lower for common heavyweights. The general trade was quiet. Cows and heifers sold on a steady basis, while calves sold 25@50c higher, with prime vealers at $11.25@11.50.

Sheep and lambs made firm to 10c higher prices, the latter topping the market at $7.75, while Montana wethers made $4.60, against $4.50 Monday. Fresh receipts of 28,000 head cleared early, and the market closed in a healthy condition.

M'ALPINE MURDER MYSTERY STILL LACKING A SOLUTION.

Police Work on Evidence Taken at Inquest—Actions of Widow Come In for Scrutiny.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 19.—The mysterious killing of John McAlpine, a wealthy Duluth lumberman, who was found with a bullet through his head in his east end home early last Friday, is no nearer solution tonight than when the coroner's jury returned its verdict of murder by an unknown person yesterday.

The police are revolving the extensive, rather conflicting evidence which was secured at the inquest.

The testimony of Deputy Coroner McAuliffe relative to the varying emotions of the elder Mrs. McAlpine as given at yesterday's hearing is subjected to comment. At one stage the deputy coroner said she was greatly agitated while at another he stated that she seemed cool and collected.

Dr. McAuliffe said he questioned her relative to the occurrences which happened earlier and that they were substantially as she had testified Saturday.

MINERS RUSH SHERIFF'S AIDS.

Two Foreigners Seriously Wounded in Attack at Flat River, Mo.—Further Violence Averted.

Flat River, Mo., Aug. 19.—The first rioting during the strike of 5,000 St. Francis county lead miners took place here today. In a skirmish between foreign miners and a sheriff's party at the Federal Lead company's office, two of the miners were shot and seriously wounded early this morning. Greater violence was prevented by the refusal of all Flat River hardware dealers to sell revolvers to foreigners.

Asks $10,000 for Violin.

A damage suit for $10,000 against Oscar Mayer, proprietor of the Revere house, 415 North Clark street, was filed in the Circuit court today by Marie Asperoz, a violinist on the vaudeville stage. She charges that a violin presented to her by ex-President Diaz of Mexico was taken from her trunk at the hotel and broken.

MAYOR APPROVES GARBAGE STATUS

Satisfied with Progress in Negotiations for Reduction Company Plant.

DROPS SPECIAL SESSION.

But Will Ask Council to Correct Boulevard Link Ordinance Soon.

Mayor Harrison indicated yesterday his approval of progress being made for the purchase by the city of the plant of the Chicago Reduction company.

The mayor arrived in the morning, coming from a two weeks' stay at his summer home in Huron Mountain, Mich., and almost his first inquiry at his office regarded the garbage tangle. He discussed it with Ald. John A. Richert, chairman of the council committee on finance, and Henry A. Allen, assistant city engineer, appointed the city's appraiser to determine the value of the plant.

The mayor said the contract between the city and the company for the purchase at the appraised valuation had not been signed, but expressed his conviction the deal will be closed without any serious hitch.

Contract Satisfactory to All.

"I am satisfied the deal is going along all right," he said. "Assistant Corporation Counsel Hornstein tells me the contract is drafted and is satisfactory to the attorneys for the company. It will be submitted to them in a short time. President Julian was here yesterday, expecting I would be back, but he was unable to wait until today, and will return later.

"The company has named Harry Almert of H. M. Byllesby & Co. as its appraiser, and Col. Allen, for the city, has had his men in the plant for some time. When the contract is signed they will select the third man. Among those being considered are Andrew Lanquist of Lanquist & Illsley, J. C. Cleaver of D. H. Burnham's office, Lyman E. Cooley, Mortimer Cooley, C. J. Davidson, and Albert Reichman."

Drops Plan for Special Session.

For a time the mayor considered the advisability of calling a special session of the council tomorrow afternoon for repeal of the defective boulevard link ordinance. This must be taken from the books, according to the lawyers, before the board of local improvements can consider a new ordinance necessary to cure the defects of the present one. Late in the afternoon he announced the board had informed him a session early in September would meet the needs of the situation. Because of the large number of aldermen out of the city the chances for a quorum tomorrow were slim.

The mayor admitted the two men who will be nominated by the local board for appointment as commissioners for the link widening proceedings are at work now. They are Walter McDonald, a real estate man, and T. J. Powers, treasurer of the H. H. organization.

McDonald Discovers Error.

"McDonald discovered the errors in the ordinance," he said. "He began going over it thoroughly, and found that in one legal description the number of the block was wrong and in another the number of a lot was wrong."

Mr. Harrison said he did not consider this delay of the link proceedings a serious issue, as the preliminary work can go ahead without interruption.

CERTIFICATES "2" SHOW STRENGTH

Chicago Railways Issue Exhibits Activity and Advances Two Points.

BUYING PROVES GENERAL.

Booth Fisheries, Diamond Match, and Montgomery Ward Shares Firmer.

On the Chicago stock exchange yesterday Chicago Railways certificates "2" showed more strength and activity than in several weeks past. In the morning there was a light selling movement, but offers were quickly accepted and before the end of the session the morning sellers were in the market for the repurchase of the shares.

The net result was an advance of two points from the opening, the late sales firm at 28. At the close there was bidding at 27¾ with only a few offers at 28.

The buying was not that of insiders, according to one of the brokerage houses doing most of the trading, but was based on a belief that Railways' traffic is good and prospects reasonably fair. The series "2" certificates are generally first to respond to such sentiment.

Booth Fisheries preferred exhibited some strength and Diamond Match and Montgomery Ward preferred continued firm. Swift & Co. gained slightly. Bond business remains light.

Street's Stable Car Meeting.

The annual meeting of Street's Western Stable Car line will be held at the company office Tuesday, Sept. 23, at 10 a. m., transfer books closing Sept. 15 until Sept. 24. No extraordinary business is announced. In addition to the regular elections it will be necessary to elect a successor to Franklin H. Head, who resigned recently on account of ill health.

The company has issued no formal statement as to earnings. It is understood, however, that favorable leases to certain railroads doing a modicum of the way of livestock transportation have been of benefit in the last two or three months. These leases have been for a fixed number of cars, thus insuring steady revenue from that part of the company's equipment and—to that extent—removing cause for worry over the decreased cattle shipments which appear likely.

Exchange Holiday Likely.

The governing committee of the stock exchange will hold its regular meeting today. It is expected the exchange will be closed for the half day of Saturday, Aug. 30, preceding the Labor day recess. The usual holiday rules in the action of the New York stock and coffee exchanges. The banks will, of course, remain open on Saturday.

More Boxboard Reorganization.

Directors of United Boxboard and the reorganization committee will meet tomorrow, it is understood, for the election of permanent directors and officers. Nearly all the shares of the old company are reported ready for transfer, and it is likely the balance of the new company's preferred and common shares is not far away. United Boxboard is reported getting its fair share of the business now being done by the industry.

Money and Exchange.

Money in Chicago steady, 6@7 per cent on commercial paper, 6@7 per cent on collateral and 6@7 per cent over the counter. Foreign exchange was quoted as follows:

Bank clearings in Chicago, $52,176,806. New York exchange in Chicago sold at 25c discount.

Dividends Declared.

The International Smokeless Powder and Chemical company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of ¾ of 1 per cent on the common stock, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 20, and the semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on the preferred stock, payable Nov. 15 to stock of record Nov. 5.

The Republic Iron and Steel company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 15.

Extra dividend—*1. †3. ‡2. ¶12. §8.

June Railroad Earnings.

The favorable tendency of the earnings of the larger railroads, noted for the spring months, did not continue through the fiscal year. Early reports from the summaries of the interstate commerce commission tabulations, show the month's net of 151 roads to be $320,000 below June, 1912. This would serve to indicate the wide extent of higher operating costs admitted by various eastern lines.

A typical case is that of the Pennsylvania, with gross of $33,606,789, considerable larger than usual, withal a decrease of $1,250,000 from 1912 as to net.

The floods that followed the spring rains were responsible for a deal of the decrease. Inability to use the tracks cut down gross for that period and the extraordinary expense of unforeseen rebuilding operations further cut into profits. The wage increases, results of the extra crew bill, increased taxes, and higher material costs were additional factors.

Atlantic Coast Line.

A notable development of the freight business of the Atlantic Coast line during the recent fiscal year enabled the road to show gross earnings of $36,123,000 or 7.83 per cent better than 1912. Passenger business, which two years ago was showing most of the increase continues to grow, but nowhere near as rapidly as freight.

The road's operating ratio was about 0.8 per cent higher, resulting in a smaller net gain, 5.25 per cent.

Final earnings on the $68,567,000 common stock will be nearly 11 per cent. The decrease from last year's 11.91 per cent is due to the increased capitalization which followed the financing of the Louisville and Nashville and the conversion of some of its debentures. Fixed charges are also increased by the issuance during the year of $3,500,000 additional 4s.

Personal Mention.

Lewis Howard of S. B. Chapin & Co. has returned from a summer trip down the St. Lawrence.

J. B. Bailey, for twenty-eight years connected with the banks which now make up the Continental and Commercial National bank, has resigned to become cashier of the Gary (Ind.) State bank.

General Financial News.

The Corn Products Refining company reports a further price advance of 10c per cwt., this bringing the advance since the first of the month to 30c per cwt. Preparations for grinding corn in bond, it appears likely, will enable the company to escape practically free from the tariff duty on Argentine corn.

The Monday gain of the New York subtreasury amounted to $1,542,000, bringing the net gain since Friday to $2,469,000, and furnishing some idication of the movement now under way from the New York banks.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—The Boston market attracted little attention today. Coppers were dull. Steel common and Amalgamated were the most active. The demand for Union Pacific rights continues. Call money 3 per cent time loans, short dates, 5¼@6 per cent; time loans, year, 6@6½ per cent; commercial paper, 5¼@6½ per cent.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

New York, Aug. 19.—[Special.]—More than once lately on the receipt of some unfavorable piece of news surprise has been expressed over the stability of stock prices. The rise in prices around the first of August in the face of the news from the corn belt was commented upon as unnatural. Another case in point is the small impression made upon the stock market today by the reports regarding the relations of this country and Mexico.

Apparently the market had to take a considerable amount of stock this morning. Europe, which has been much more nervous over the Mexican situation than we have been here, is said to have sold 30,000 shares in this market. Profit taking on the part of timid speculators for the rise undoubtedly went on, and it is entirely improbable that the selling was not swelled by the making of further contracts for the decline.

Nevertheless the stock market presented a most stubborn resistance, so that net losses were almost negligible.

Every one familiar with speculation is aware that there are times when the stock market is not at all sensitive to outside developments and times when the reverse is the case. Fluctuations at these times are supposed to be governed by the technical condition of the market itself. It will be remembered that complete indifference to favorable news of any kind whatever was characteristic of the long decline in the stock market which culminated last June.

One feature of the financial situation that is being commented upon more emphatically every day is the gratifying strength displayed by the bond market. One notable instance of this improvement is found in the steady rise in the price of the New York city 4½ per cent receipts, which today touched a new high record of 101, against a low price a little while ago of 99¾.

Bond prices generally have had a good rise during the last two months, but the appreciation has not been proportionate to that in stocks. According to the averages, it appears that stock prices have recovered about one-half of the loss since the high of the year, while bonds have recovered one-third of their decline. As in the case of the stock market, dealings in bonds, both on the exchange and over the counter, have been extremely light in recent weeks, and another similar point is the scarcity of offerings.

It is reported that investors are displaying a great inclination to consider the purchase of the best bonds, and that this demand, small as it is, suffices to cause constant advances in quotations.

Dullness in the stock market is always a purely natural condition. It cannot be produced by artificial means. Since the violent uprush in prices in the fore part of last week and the subsequent reaction there has been a steady reduction in the volume of business. This development, therefore, seems to represent a return to more normal market conditions. Dullness on declining prices is usually considered a favorable sign, and conversely, dullness on rising prices an unfavorable one.

Today inactivity was most notable in the last half of the session after the selling of the morning had ceased. The slight rally which occurred in the afternoon might be thought less impressive for this reason were it not for the fact that a dull and advancing market has come to be a rather familiar feature.

The most notable peculiarity of the summer rise has been the remarkably small turnover of business. Tuesday and Wednesday a week ago were the only days since June 12 when transactions surpassed half a million shares. During the remainder of the time the daily average turnover has probably not been much over half that amount.

Last week the outward aspect of the stock market changed radically. Quiet, orderly trading gave place to feverishness and excitement. Small fluctuations changed to wide ones, and thousand share lots were dealt in where hundreds had been previously.

Since the low point of the reaction on Saturday the market appears to have regained some of its old characteristics. It has again become a relatively narrow affair, deceptive as to its ability to absorb selling, a market which had to be forced down, but which apparently advanced easily enough upon small buying. In other words, stocks seem once more to have become scarce.

A few days' time has witnessed the falling of a blight upon the hopes of a good many people in the financial district. A week ago today, when Steel common broke through its former high price of 62¾ on a heavy volume of business, carrying the whole market along with it, the event was accepted in many quarters as an indication that the market would broaden out into a big affair of the old fashioned sort.

On Tuesday, when another sweeping rise occurred all along the line, it looked like nothing less than a very promising bull movement, something like 1909 over again perhaps, with a wide outside interest. The subsequent reaction and the return to dullness has apparently brought the street back to its previous skeptical attitude toward the market and the future business.

This is curious, because as compared with the opening on Monday a week ago, before the swift uprush took place, the market has actually gained further headway. At the close today Steel common was up 1⅞ points, Union Pacific 1⅞, Reading 1¾, Copper 2¼, C. P. Ry. 1⅝, St. Paul 1¼, Lehigh Valley 2⅜, Erie ½, and Northern Pacific ⅝.

WHEAT DECLINES; SUPPORT FEEBLE

Weakness in Coarse Grains and Slow Export Demand Cause Free Selling.

CORN AND OATS LOWER.

Profit Taking and Heavy Short Selling Are Factors; Products Again Weak.

Wheat prices were lower yesterday affected by the weakness in coarse grains, and the lack of any active buying support. Liverpool cables were firm and the foreign news generally was more favorable to holders than otherwise, but there was but feeble support, and at the close prices were ½c to ⅞@⅞c lower. The December and May were relatively weaker than the September.

Barrell, Armour, Chapin, and local traders were free sellers. Bartlett-Frazier and Fitch were moderate buyers. Considerable liquidation of long wheat was in evidence. Receipts at winter wheat points are decreasing but on the other hand the spring wheat movement is increasing, and traders appear unwilling to take an aggressive bullish stand on the market, with the northwest movement just starting in volume.

Russian Estimates Reduced.

A bullish piece of news from the other side was the late Broomhall cable announcing a reduction of 112,000,000 bu in the Russian crop estimates of the wheat yield. If this report is authentic it would indicate a crop only 39,000,000 bu larger than a year ago, while it was supposed that Russia would have an enormous crop to market. The cable also said that estimates of other crops had been reduced.

Liverpool was ¼d up at the close after being lower early, the unfavorable weather in Germany and France being the main stimulating influence. Paris was ½@¾c up, Antwerp, ⅝c higher; Berlin, ⅝c off, and Budapest, ¼c down. World's stocks increased 7,000,000 bu compared to a decrease of 1,072,000 bu a year ago. The spot demand was reported fairly good abroad, with Russian offers more liberal and cheaper.

Too Much Rain Northwest.

Weather conditions in the northwest were not so favorable, heavy rains delaying harvest on this side of the line in many sections, while there have been heavy rains in western Canada for some time. Temperatures were down close to the frost line at several places, but no damage from this cause has been reported so far of any consequence.

Cash prices here were firm, and No. 2 red sold on track at 1½c over September. Cash sales were 215,000 bu, principally to exporters. Offerings from the country continue moderate. Receipts here were 346 cars, with 302 cars for today. Primary arrivals were 1,043,000 bu, compared to 175,000 bu a year ago. Northwest arrivals were 237 cars; last year 297 cars. Winnipeg had 109 cars, against 148 cars a year ago. Clearances for the day were the smallest in some time at 465,000 bu wheat and flour.

Corn Market Has Slump.

Corn was the weakest it has been in some time. Final prices were ½c to ⅞@⅞c, the December being under the heaviest pressure. Bartlett-Frazier, Barrell, Armour, and local traders generally were sellers early. Later Bartlett-Frazier turned buyer and rallied the market slightly from the low point. Weather conditions were a little more favorable, the territory east of the Mississippi having scattered rains, with some showers in the drought district.

Receipts here were 80 cars, with only 60 cars inspected yesterday. Primary arrivals were 463,000 bu, against 396,000 bu a year ago. Cables were ¼d lower. The cash demand continues good, and there were sales for shipment of 210,000 bu. Country offerings from Iowa were a little larger.

Oats Longs Heavy Sellers.

Oats were under heavy pressure during the greater part of the session but some of the losses were recovered later, and at the close values were ½c off for all months. Receipts here were 268 cars, with 256 cars for estimate for today, with 1,067,000 bu in the west, the same as a year ago. Sample prices were ¼@½c lower and there was a fair shipping demand, sales being 220,000 bu. Offerings from the country were moderate.

Provisions Turn Weak.

The provisions market was under moderate pressure and aside from a scramble on the part of shorts in September ribs early there was no general buying demand. Cudahy Packing company was again a seller of lard and Schwarz also was credited with selling. The cash trade was reported a little broader. Receipts here were 13,000, with 29,000 the estimate for today, and in the west receipts were 61,900, or about 4,500 more than a year ago. Hog packing in the west for the week was placed at 425,000, against 295,000 a year ago. Liverpool prices were 6d lower for lard and 1s off for hams. Receipts of potatoes were 26 cars and shipments were 144 cars.

Rye Continues Advance.

Rye was scarce and firm to ½@1c higher, with sales of No. 2 at 67@67½c. September closed at 66¾c bid. Receipts were 6 cars.

Barley was firm to 1c higher, with malting 60@74c, feed 53@60c, and screenings 30@52c. Receipts, 22 cars.

Timothy seed was 10@20c higher, with a sale of September at $6.00. October was $5.90 bid, December $5.95 bid, and cash lots $4.50@5.40. Clover seed was quiet at $13.25 bid for October and $8.00 @14.50 for cash lots.

Duluth flax closed 1¾@2¾c lower, with cash on track $1.51¾, September $1.50¾, October and November $1.51¼, and December $1.49¾. Receipts, 29 cars. Minneapolis was 1¼@1¾c lower at $1.51¼ @1.52¾ for cash on track. Receipts, 10 cars. Winnipeg closed 2@2½c lower, with October and November $1.36½ and December $1.35. Receipts were 40 cars.

AMERICAN GRAIN MARKETS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 19.—Wheat was weak, reflecting declines in corn. Weakness accentuated in local pit by hedging sales against country marketing. NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

A late Broomhall cable said that the Russian crop estimates had been officially reduced 112,000,000 bu on wheat. The preliminary official spring wheat crop estimate was 509,000,000 bu and of winter wheat 273,000 bu. This would have indicated a total crop of 781,000,000 bu. Taking off 112,000,000 bu from this would give a crop of 669,000,000 bu, or only 39,000,000 bu more than the crop was officially placed at last year. It was also stated that estimates of other crops had been reduced. It is presumed that the incessant rains during harvest caused a lowering of the estimates. Russian crop estimates are not regarded with much confidence by grain traders, but the big reduction in the crop estimate would indicate the outturn materially less than looked for.

The cash call for wheat was fairly good yesterday and there were sales of 215,000 bu, including considerable hard wheat sold to Baltimore exporters. In some cases the seaboard exporters claim they have about filled up their sales abroad. It is claimed that exporters overbought ocean room and, being unable to dispose of it, have been obliged to buy the wheat to fill their cargoes, and that considerable wheat is being consigned abroad unsold. The cash market here was firm and St. Louis cash prices have advanced about 2c in two days. Kansas City stocks are the largest on record at 8,085,000 bu. Minneapolis receipts are increasing and the demand for cash wheat is less urgent.

Bradstreet's report of the available supply last week shows the following increases:

Walter Kettenburg & Co. have opened offices at 128 South La Salle street, Corn Exchange building, and will conduct a grain and stock commission business. Mr. Kettenburg has been on change for Smart, Porter & Co., who have gone out of business. He will have associated with him as manager of the office R. H. Smart, who was partner in Smart, Porter & Co., and whose business he is reported to have liquidated with considerable credit to himself.

"While the damage to corn is the greatest for some years and the shortage in all fodder stuff will make an enormous total, the fact has been well advertised, and to my mind pretty well discounted for time being," said Brosnahan of Logan-Bryan. "Rains we have had will prevent further damage and undoubtedly put a different complexion on affairs. In states east of here the crop promise is good. I still feel we have seen high prices on coarse grains for a while."

H. L. Goeman of Toledo was a visitor on change yesterday. He reports a light movement of wheat from the farmers in Indiana and Ohio, but was of the opinion that a rise in prices of a few cents would bring out increased offerings. He looks for a high range of values for coarse grains and all kinds of feedstuffs throughout the year. The east has bought oats freely. Farmers generally are inclined to market corn sparingly.

Special reports to B. W. Snow from Nebraska: "Kirkwood—Good rains came in time to save considerable corn; looks like three-quarters of a crop. Winnetoon—Have had light rains, but not yet enough. Corn condition 60 per cent. Norfolk—Dry and hot and no rain since early June. Corn a failure and very little good for fodder. Comstock—Good rain Aug. 12. Corn damaged about 50 per cent."

A Fort Worth, Tex., message said: "The Texas farmers sold their oats and wheat too early and too cheap. Now they are holding their corn tightly, which is the reason dealers are buying the grain on the Kansas City and St. Louis market. The Texas corn crop was hurt in the last stage of growth by the drought. Cotton has also suffered in places."

The Burlington's report given out yesterday makes corn damage in the Beatrice territory of Nebraska 76 per cent. Last week has been the ruination of the corn crop in the South Platte territory, North Platte territory corn is in good condition considering the weather, owing to opportune rains; damage running from 10 to 35 per cent.

Minneapolis wired: "Half of our receipts of wheat today is now spring. There also is quite a lot of new winter here from South Dakota and Nebraska, but the demand is slow for it at 2c under September. The bluestem spring No. 1 northern is selling at 1¼@2¼c over September, and the velvet chaff No. 1 northern at 1@1½c over."

A Des Moines grain man wired: "The ups and downs of future will have but little if any effect on corn and oats market in Iowa for the next twelve months, but it is just what the farmers will say and do. Farmers and dealers will peddle their grain this year, as they will have markets in all directions for what they have."

The cash corn market was ½@¾c lower and sales were 210,000 bu. Offerings of corn were a little more liberal from Iowa, but moderate from Illinois. Springfield, Ill., wired that the south was overbidding Chicago for both new and old corn.

Germany reported continued unfavorable weather and French reports were bullish, indicating light supplies and small offerings of native wheat. The foreign crop summary as a whole was called a little bullish.

Le Count wired Barrell from Rivers, Manitoba: "Rained here all night and still raining. Weather unfavorable and must have let up in rain or wheat will be damaged."

Estimated receipts for the day: Wheat, 502 cars; corn, 60 cars; oats, 256 cars; rye, 6 cars; barley, 22 cars; hogs, 29,000 head.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ½c lower; corn, ½@¾c lower; oats, ¼@⅜c lower; rye, steady to ⅛c lower.

Western hog packing for the week was estimated at 495,000 by the Drovers Journal, compared to 295,000 a year ago.

A GREAT MONEY MAKING OPPORTUNITY.

The one thing for which there is the greatest known demand in the world today is BETTER and SAFER LIGHT for the farm and suburban home. I have it—a beautiful bright, white electric light that can be installed at a moderate price and maintained at small expense, and no possible chance for fire or explosion; no machinery. This proposition will bear closest investigation and the demand is worldwide. There is a great opportunity for quick returns from the sale of State and Territory rights, as well as from the sale of plants. I need money to manufacture these plants and push the sale of territory, or will sell controlling interest to right parties. If you are interested and have capital address A O 49, Tribune.
